The House of God and our House too—how sweet should be the thought
That where Christ lives and makes His Home, our presence, too, is sought;
Not cold, indifferent comes His Plea, to have us come and spend
A little while with Him Who longs to be our dearest Friend;
But yearning, pleading comes the Cry: "O, ye of heavy heart, Come lay your troubles at My Feet, and in My Peace have part";
With longing Heart, this God of men, waits in the silence there,
'Til, hurt and wearied by the world, we come His Love to share;

The House of God! Ah, who can tell the scenes that there take place,
As tired children seek at last their Father face to Face;
Magdalen comes with tears again, to bathe Her Master's Feet,
And beg forgiveness for the sins which sear her soul so deep;
And sons, now prodigal, return, within His House to live,
Their sin-tossed souls to find the Peace that only God can give;
The blind, the lame, the sick, the sad, the souls who long for rest,
All find their way unto His Feet, and to His Heart are pressed;

The homeless, hungry, unemployed, the ones with none to care,
All seek this Friend Whose Own Heart knew all sorrows that they bear;
The ones from whom Death's hand removed some loved one dear and fine,
Come to Him and find strength to say: "Not my will, Lord, but Thine";
The House of God! The Home of Friends! The Shrine where broken hearts
Find courage strong and Love Divine, for life anew to start;
Where hurts of life may all be brought and peace and comfort known,
Where God doth live and pleads with us to make His Home our own!

SIMONIZING
1408 W. OXFORD ST.New Year's Greetings

To a follower of Christ the NEW YEAR comes with a sacredness that quite awes him. It moves him to take thought within himself about the journey he has been making; how much of it has been walked with Christ on the plain, straight way, and how much in the devious paths where he did not serve God and where the Grace of God did not accompany him. It is a reproachful thought, but a salutary one. And if a man is in earnest in regard to the welfare of his soul, such a meditation, momentary as it may be, is sure to start him off on a fresh journey and with a determination to seek first the kingdom of God.

The New Year brings with it a certain grace. It dings into a man's ears the warning that with him this year may be his last, that already he has turned the corner of the street that leads to eternity and to judgment. A solemn thought is this, perhaps gloomy; but after all, the truths of life, the truths of the soul are more solemn than the most serious-minded of us can imagine.

That our parishioners and friends may bring some of this solemnity into their consideration of the New Year and thus make the day happy even though the world seems to frown upon them; that the year, just beginning, may be the happiest and most profitable of their lives from both a temporal and eternal viewpoint; that the happiest day of their past may be but the saddest of their future, is the sincere wish of the members of the Society of Jesus attached to Gesu Church.

A Happy New Year to ALL.

Mission

A Two Weeks Mission will begin on January 26th and end February 9th. The first week will be for the women—January 26th to February

2nd. The second week will be for the men—February 2nd to February 9th.

Benefit Party

In response to our appeals for contributions to the Diocesan High School Fund, Mrs. McNally and Mrs. Boyle sponsored a Benefit Party at the McNally home on Jefferson Street, which netted $94.81.

This surprising amount was realized as the direct results of the enthusiastic and generous work of the ladies and their assistants. May we hope that others will follow their example? Such parties, held bi-weekly, or even monthly, would not only help the Church financially but they would also afford wholesome recreation for the parishioners.

Follies of the Wise

Once again we approach that imaginary milestone on the turnpike of human life that on January first will prove at once a resting place for thought and meditation and a starting point for another short trip along the Roadway of Life.

The young look forward and the old look back, one with the eager glance of anticipation, the other with the wistful glance of retrospection; both with the conviction that when the Old Year dies with the setting sun and the New Year dawns bright and clear with the morrow, another chapter shall have been written in the book of life in type ineradicable. Both, if wise, will realize that a review of that chapter with its wisdoms, its follies, is the only sure way to prepare the new chapter that each shall write for better or worse during 1941.

Flippantly, some may object:
"Let the dead past bury its dead."
not realizing that, though dead, there is much that we may learn from it. All things finite have a bright side and a dark side; bright, in so far as they are good; dark, in their evil tendencies, casting their consequent sunshine or shadow to brighten or blot the fresh page of the yet unborn future.

This is an age of review or revuc and just as surely as we find exploited and burlesqued the follies of our day in comic and serious dramatic presentation, so each of us can in the drama of life very readily discern the follies of the wise on the one hand, and the wisdom of the foolish on the other.

In great measure the result of our self-analysis will depend upon being frank with ourselves and definitely establishing our standard in respect to time and eternity. In this regard we cannot fail to observe that in a civilization that leads all others in science and progress in catering to the desire for ease, luxury and convenience, to the last word in comfort and personal enjoyment, the so-called wisdom may very clearly be developed as follies, dancing, fleeting.

trifling figurines, when seen under the searchlight of Eternity.

On the reverse side may be discerned the true wisdom of those who put on what the misunderstanding and unsympathetic so lightly term "the foolishness of Christ"; the "folly" of a pure heart, a generous love, of self-sacrifice, of prayer, of charity, of temperance, of obedience, of self-control, of true reverence for the things of God, especially the temple of the human body made to His image and likeness.

To which class have we belonged during the past year? What follies shall our next year hold? The wisdom of the truly foolish or the follies of the truly wise, "the foolishness of Christ"?

Once-Overs

How many times it is true that one's dearest and nearest friends seem to be less understanding than strangers.

People are inclined to judge by what they have in their own hearts.

You may touch an undercurrent that your friend has never expressed in words.

It may be a sensitive subject that has gone deep.

You two have been rather intimately associated for so long that you think you dare to speak out freely.

Yet you should remember that no matter how well acquainted you feel you cannot be ruthless in speech and be always understood by the best of friends.

Why not cultivate a certain discretion in expressing opinions.

Not only think before you speak but think kindly.

If what you would say might not sound kind in all circumstances do not say it to your nearest friend.

Kindliness is a virtue more appreciated than possible to express.

Forty Hours' Devotion

January 12th, 13th and 14th

According to the Diocesan regulations, the Forty Hours' Devotion takes place in our Church beginning on the Sunday immediately following the Feast of the Epiphany. Hence the Forty Hours' Devotion will begin on Sunday, January 12th, and will close on Tuesday evening, January 14th. The devotion begins at the 10.45 o'clock Solemn High Mass, which is followed immediately by a procession, and the exposition of the Blessed Sacrament. On Monday and Tuesday mornings the 8.30 o'clock Mass will be a High Mass. Each evening there will be special devotions, peculiar to the "Forty Hours" sermon and Benediction. The devotions will close Tuesday evening with solemn procession and Benediction. The Parochial School children will take part in the processions on Sunday and Tuesday.

It is hoped that the parishioners will not disappoint the earnest desire of the Sacred Heart to draw them to Him, and that in addition to an abundant harvest of souls reclaimed from the habit of sin, there will be visible in every family a great increase of fervor. During the three days there should be a constant stream of visitors to the Church, coming to spend before the Blessed Sacrament, as much time as they can afford from their daily occupations. Those who cannot come to the Church in the course of the day should at least be present at Mass in the morning and at the sermon and Benediction in the evening.

Thursday Socials

Boys and girls from the neighboring Parishes are taking advantage of our Thursday Socials even though the Gesu-ites have been slow to extend their patronage. Many are attracted by latest "hit-numbers" that keep the program of music and dance numbers "up-to-the-minute" new. The floor, some say, is the best in the city and the tonal quality of the music compares very favorably with that produced by high-priced name-bands. Some surprise numbers are promised for January 2nd. Credit for the excellent blending of numbers goes to the team of McEntee and Cunningham, Masters of the program, whose well-stocked library can satisfy all requests.

Special Request

Until the Church Confessionals are equipped with special Auri-phones the deaf and slightly hard-of-hearing are requested to make use of the confessional in the rectory. The usual time is fifteen minutes before scheduled Church time. There is no inconvenience. Just tell the Porter, "Confession," and take a seat in one of the parlors.

A Catholic Hospital

While all our Philadelphia Hospitals are well staffed and well equipped, and their record for service to the sick is equal to any in the country, nevertheless there is the advantage offered by Catholic hospitals of a better understanding of Catholic patients and their spiritual needs, and of having on hand a Chaplain specially assigned for this duty. The Religious in attendance take particular care that a priest is called when needed, besides rendering first aid spiritually themselves in emergencies.

Extreme Unction

Some relatives and friends of the sick act as if the Sacrament of Extreme Unction should be administered only when death is close at hand. While it is true that the Sacrament of Extreme Unction is not given except in case of serious illness, this does not mean that we should delay calling the priest until the person is actually at the moment of death. The priest should be notified as soon as the doctor says the illness is serious. When this is done, the sacrament may accomplish its twofold effect, namely, give grace for the good of the soul and restore bodily health, if God sees fit. We should remember, too, that early in the illness the patient can derive great profit from Confession and the reception of Viaticum.

Sick Call

Catholics should know what to do when the priest brings Holy Communion to the sick. Please note three points.

1. Before the priest arrives, have the sick room neat and clean. Place a small table near the bed, within view of the patient. Cover this table with a white cloth and on it arrange a crucifix between two wax candles, a bottle of holy water, a teaspoon and a glass of fresh water. However, if there is urgency, no arrangements are necessary. If Extreme Unction is to be given, see that the face, and hands of the sick person are properly cleansed. If Confession is to be heard, place a chair beside the bed.

2. When the priest comes, meet him at the house door with a lighted candle, if you have one. A priest whom is known to be carrying the Blessed Sacrament is merely greeted with a bow, and is conducted at once to the sick room.

Adore the Blessed Sacrament with him after he has placed It on the table.

If Confession is to be heard, leave the priest alone with the patient.

When he gives the sign that Confession is ended, all the family should enter, kneel reverently and silently say the Rosary or other suitable prayers.

If after Communion, the priest gives the blessing holding the pyx in his hand, remember that he has other Sacred Hosts in the pyx. Let someone, therefore, with lighted candle conduct him to the door; all others remain reverently kneeling and praying until the priest has departed.

3. After the priest has gone, allow, if possible, the sick person to spend at least a few moments in recollection and thanksgiving. At times it may help if pious ejaculations and prayers are recited.

—Sacred Heart Almanac.

Gesu Alumnae

The Parish has been noted for the number of its young men and ladies who heeded the call to the higher life. Thompson Street has been called the street of Jesuits and religious. Not quite one year ago Mary Collins put on the garb of a Notre Dame postulant. Yet the news of a parishioner setting out to follow more closely in the footsteps of the Savior, still stirs within us many noble emotions. "Many are called but few chosen." Only now the members of the Notre Dame Alumnae give these words sincere consideration. In our midst we have happiness and sadness. Happiness because one of our members has been called to the service of God; and sadness because we are about to lose a dear and faithful friend.

Anne O'Donnell, model student throughout her Grade and High School Studies, past president of the Alumnae and always an active member, loyal friend with winning smile and generous readiness to entertain with her talents, has begun a beautiful, peaceful and prayerful life with the Immaculate Heart Nuns, leaving behind her the temptations of the world. For her, we pray, the necessary graces for perseverance and God's blessing on her work in His vineyard.

—Catherine Barth.

The Religious Vocation

It is said that the eagle in its flight toward the sky looks without blinking at the sun. It is further stated that when the young are hatched out, the mother eagle holds the young suspended in the air, facing the sun and if they blink in the sunlight, she drops them to the earth and destroys them as unworthy of her. St. John the Evangelist is represented to us in pictures as an eagle, because in his love for God he went straight ahead soaring unto God, without turning an eye to earth. God—God, alone. Such was his object, his thought, his purpose in life. As the eagle soars higher and higher, so the influence of earth becomes smaller and smaller to the view. So the soul which seeks after God, first and foremost soars higher and higher. It is absorbed in the vision of God and the higher it goes, the lesser the things of earth become. It is given to some souls to seek God in one way; to others to seek Him in another way. To some it is given to serve Him by sacrificing themselves for the sake of others, by giving themselves for the service of others, without thought of self and seeing in others—God.

"The sacrifice that such a soul makes is no sacrifice. Love makes no sacrifice. That can best be represented in the words of St. Chrysostom. Where there is love there is no labor; if there is labor, the labor itself is love."

Holy Name Society

We are about to start the year of Our Lord, 1941. We should always bear in mind that all our years are really and truly years of our Lord. We should then make them His years, and not our own. If we wish to make the years in fact as they are in name, years of our Lord, we must surrender ourselves to Him for His direction, we should do our work for Him.

At the beginning of the year we should dedicate the whole year to God. But we can only give the year to God by giving Him the days one by one as we begin them. God breaks our lives up into days, He gives us only a day at a time. We could not bear the burden of the whole year at one load. If we go through the year with God we need not fear any difficulties; He carries us in His arms, and He is strong enough.

We must give an account of every idle word. What an unhappy reckoning we shall have to make for an idle year, or for idle hours and days in a year. Let us make the new year really a year of our Lord, and we shall come to its close with a better character. Growth is the law of life. Men count the age of trees by the circles which the years make. God counts our age by our growth in Christlike character.

No matter how well you have lived, no matter how much you have done for Christ during last year, start in and make the New Year the best you have ever lived. You can do this by real practical devotion to Christ, by living up to the principles of the Holy Name Society.

Communion Sunday—January 12, 7.30 o'clock Mass.

Sports

By George Carroll

The Gesu Parish has added to the Sporting World several additions in the form of basketball and bowling teams for the coming winter season. The Parish, which has long been famous for the brand of athletes it has turned out, namely the Oakes Boys, Franny Murphy and a long list of others in former years, is pressing this program of sports for the boys and girls with a Spiritual as well as a Physical end in mind.

The Reverend Dominic A. Cirigliano, S.J., moderator of the Young Men's Sodality has organized a Basketball Team representing the Sodality in the Northeast Neighborhood League and is already underway in the league. The squad of ten under the direction of Coaches Jim Feeley and Jim McLoughlin is moving toward a most promising season. It plays all of its games away and hopes to gain a following among the members of the Parish to get behind them and cheer them on to victory. A schedule of the remaining games for December is listed below, if anyone is interested their support at these games will be appreciated.

On the other hand the Sodality has a team entered for the second year straight in the Catholic Bowling League. The results of this team has been most promising for the year and under the captaincy of Phil Golden the team is aspiring for top league honors. It plays its matches once a week, at the Hudson Bowling Alleys and asks for rooters from the Parish. Its schedule for the coming month is listed below.

Switching to the boys and girls of the Parish we observe that those perennial champs, the Boys' Parish School team, winners of last year's St. Joseph's Prep Invitation Basketball Tournament, having been practicing for the last month, eagerly await the opening of the Catholic League. The team coach, Jack Loughrey says, "We can only hope to do our best for the coming season and we hope that our best will be a trophy for the School."

Last, but not least, is the girls' Sports department. Their basketball teams comprised of the Alumnae and the Eighth Grade girls are coached by the Rev. Andrew Hofmann, S.J. Much enthusiasm is found among these future Babe Didricksons and their ability at Basketball and in showing how a girl can fit into the Sporting World is vastly improving under the guidance of Fr. Hofmann. They have not as yet contacted other girls' teams but are looking forward to scheduling a few games before the season ends.

"MISSION BEGINS JANUARY 26TH"
"A NEW YEAR—A NEW LIFE"

The Mission

A two weeks' Mission will be given in our Church beginning on Sunday, January 26, 1941.

The exercises of the Mission will be conducted by Fathers McIntyre and Phelan of the Jesuit Mission Band of the Southern Section of the Maryland-New York Province.

The first week will be for the women, young and old, single and married.

The second week will be for the men.

The Exercises of the Mission will be at 8.00 P. M.

The Mission Masses during the first week will be at 6.00 and 8.30.

The children's Mission will be given on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of the first week. The children's Mass on these days will be at 7.30.

Mission Masses during the second week will be at 5.30 and 6.30.

Speak about the Mission to those who may not see or hear this notice. If you know of any non-Catholic who desires to hear the Catholic Religion explained, tell him about the Class conducted by one of the Missionaries for this purpose. Of course there may be some of us who "need a Mission," as the saying is, because of carelessness about their Religion, but for the most of us the Mission is an opportunity of Spiritual Renewal. Coming most opportunely at the beginning of the year, it will help us to gain light and graces to carry us through the year with profit to our souls and glory to God. Owing to the rush and whirl of our busy lives, we need to go aside from things temporal from time to time and consider the essential truths which are proposed for our consideration at the time of our Mission. We need to readjust our viewpoint and then order our lives to the keeping of that readjustment.

Keep these three weeks, January 25th to February 15th, free from all other engagements as a time to be about your Father's business.

Why Make the Mission?

A Mission is a course of religious exercises, daily Mass, sermons, instructions, public prayers, and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, given for the benefit of the people of the Parish.

The principal object of a Mission is to excite the people to greater fervor in regulating their lives according to the sacred truths of our Holy Faith. It is also given to dispose them to a worthier and more frequent reception of the Sacraments. The Mission accomplishes these objects by presenting to the minds of the faithful the great truths of Religion, clearly, forcibly and consecutively, and by giving familiar instructions on the nature, object and worthy reception of the Sacraments. The Sacraments are the same whether we receive them during the Mission or at any other time, but the effect of each Sacrament (with the exception of Baptism in children), depends much on ourselves. The better we are disposed, the more benefits we receive from the Sacraments.

The Church grants Indulgences to those who make a good Mission. Among those Indulgences may be mentioned the following:

1. Two hundred days for each exercise attended.
2. Plenary Indulgence for attending at least one exercise each day for five days.
3. The great Indulgence granted through the Papal Blessing at the close of the Mission.

Who Are to Make the Mission?

A Mission is intended for all of us enough to make it—men, women and children who have made their First Holy Communion. In every parish there are the good, the bad and the indifferent. Some have the idea that the Mission is given for those who are leading sinful lives, and that it is this class alone who make Missions. This is a calumny against the good who make Missions. The great majority of our people lead good lives and it would be an insult to say that they need to make a Mission. The good do not need to make the Mission to be converted from sinful ways. The seed of God's Word will produce a hundredfold in the good soil of their hearts; they will not only walk but run in the narrow path. The Mission will be for them a time of spiritual feasting, of wonderful light and strength to their souls.

The careless are generally more numerous than the good. Our Lord says that there are two paths—the narrow, which leads to life; the broad, which leads to ruin. Now the careless will not admit that they are on the broad road, yet they do not claim to be among the few who are upon the narrow path. They try to strike a middle course, but there is no such thing. They rise, yet they fall. They make big promises, but they break them. It is indeed said: "Hell is paved with good resolutions." The Mission is necessary for this class. It will teach them what passions they must conquer, what self-denials they must make—in a word, what they must do to enter life.

The bad are the great sinners, whether public or private. The Mission is intended chiefly for such, and, thank God, many of these are brought back to their loving Shepherd at every Mission. For no matter how far they may have strayed away, or how black and numerous their crimes, He still desires their salvation, that they may be converted and live. He lovingly seeks the lost sheep, the prodigal son, and remember, "There is joy in Heaven upon one sinner that doth penance more than upon ninety-nine just who need not penance."

Pray earnestly for light and grace to make a good Mission. Feel that, like the prodigal son, you have strayed away from your loving Father, abused His graces, insulted and outraged Him by your sins, and blackened and defiled His temple, your soul. Ask earnestly for pardon and reconciliation, ask for light to know how much you have offended Him. Beg the Blessed Virgin, the sweet refuge of sinners, to pray for you and intercede for you; ask your Guardian Angel and the Saints to pray for you. God will grant to those holy ones what you are not worthy to obtain. Pray, pray fervently, for grace to make a good Mission.

The Mission is for all. For the bad that they may become good, for the good that they may become better.

We May Make the Mission For Others

It is true that there are many who do not need to make the Mission, as they are leading saintly lives, but then there are others who need God's grace, and it is here that we may be the real missionaries in the parish by making the Mission for them. A Mission, being the time for sacrifice, you can offer up your Mission as Jesus offered Himself for you. You hear people say that they would make any sacrifice to get a gift from God, and receive some spiritual favor. If you would make any sacrifice, why not make this Mission for that Careless Soul you are interested in?

Gesu Girl Scouts

The Girl Scouts of Troop 25 entered into the Christmas spirit early this year, by delivering Christmas-seal posters to many of the leading department stores.

The girls are working very hard just at present to earn merit-badges which will be given out at our annual Christmas party. The badges will include interior-decorating and cooking. Second-class insignias will also be awarded at that time. This year our Christmas program will be somewhat different from previous years. The evening will open with a tableau of Bethlehem which will be presented by our younger scouts. Musical selections will include, "O Holy Night" and "The Birthday of A King." Following this will be a comedy skit, written by Fr. Cirigliano and presented by our senior scouts. The party is under the direction of Margaret Wade.

Leading parts in our operetta have been given to Margaret Wade, Joan Rodenbaugh, Anne Duffy, Stella Green and Catherine Johnston. Musical numbers are taken from the most familiar operettas. The script was written by one of the senior-scouts, who is also directing the operetta.

EDNA M. GREEN,
Girl Scout Scribe.

To Our Altar Boys

In other issues of the "Parish Bulletin" this account is titled "Our Altar Boys." But this month we are not writing ABOUT but TO them, because in a very special manner, Christmas is the major feast day for them.

There were not many about the crib on that first Christmas Day, just Mary and Joseph, and the Shepherds. To these holy few the Altar boy had a special kinship, because every morning sees repeated that tremendous marvel of Bethlehem, and Jesus Christ, at the word of the Priest comes down again from Heaven. Just as at the stable, there were myriads of angels, singing "Glory to God in the Highest, and on Earth Peace to Men of Good Will," so are these same heavenly ministers around the altar when the words of Consecration are spoken. That bell which announces the Coming of Christ, can't we think that it is like the glad message that the shepherds carried away from the manger, telling all whom they knew that the Messiah had come? Yes, the shepherds were the first altar-boys. And very like their modern descendants, many of these shepherds were roused from their sleep by the song of the angels. Now, there isn't a very strong connection between the piercing clamor of an alarm clock and the melodious choirs of the angels, looked at as music, but considering each as the invitation to do down to Bethlehem, the purpose is the same.

To our altar boys, then, the same fullness of happiness and lasting joy as came to those sleepers and watchers of the Bethlehem's hills those many years ago. To their parents, the peace and contentment that came to Joseph and Mary as they looked upon their Son, and may the happiness and peace grow apace with the years.

A Card of Thanks

Entering upon the NEW YEAR, we desire to express our sincere thanks to our advertisers for their patronage in the past, and extend our best wishes for a very successful NEW YEAR.

We feel assured that the parishioners of this Church have appreciated the generous support of the merchants who use the PARISH CALENDAR as a medium for their advertising, and therefore look forward with confidence for a continuance of their advertising during 1941.

Mass For The People.

On each Sunday of the year, and on certain feast days, the pastor of each parish and the Bishop of each diocese is obliged to offer his Mass for the people committed to his care. These Masses number about eighty each year. This should be a matter of great encouragement to all our people to know that the Holy Sacrifice is offered so frequently for their spiritual and temporal interests.

The Jesuit Seminary Fund

A Purgatorial Society

A Purgatorial Society is an organization formed to help the Souls in Purgatory, to bring relief from the temporal punishment they are suffering in Purgatory for the sins committed here on earth.

Few Catholics realize that the Jesuits have just such a Purgatorial Society which exists under the title of the Jesuit Seminary Fund. The purpose of the Jesuit Seminary Fund is to provide an opportunity for friends of the Society of Jesus to gain spiritually from the merits earned by the good works and prayers of the Jesuit Order. When deceased members are enrolled in the Jesuit Seminary Fund, this enrollment constitutes membership in a Purgatorial Society.

You have many departed friends and relatives—those who were near and dear to you on earth, who may even now be suffering the cleansing, but intense, pains of Purgatory. To you they look for aid, now that they can no longer help themselves. By enrolling them in the Jesuit Seminary Fund you not only assist the Jesuit Houses of Study in their great work of educating priests for their labors in the schools and missions throughout the world, but gain for your departed loved ones many Spiritual Benefits.

Spiritual Benefits

1. The Society prescribes for all its members a tribute of pious gratitude to Benefactors, which, with the 1940 membership of the Society, will give a share in: 11,874 daily Masses, 14,389 daily Communions, 25,954 daily Rosaries, throughout the Society; and a very special intention in 209 daily Masses, 647 daily Communions, 853 daily Rosaries (or a yearly total of 75,260 Masses, 232,920 Communions, 308,160 Rosaries) in the Houses of Study of the Maryland-New York Province.

2. An unbroken chain of first intention Masses is offered in the Province for our Benefactors—for members of the Jesuit Seminary Fund and the devoted friends of the Philippine Missions. The chain is completed each month, every house of the Province adding a link.

3. A Novena of Masses is offered each month at Woodstock College, for all Benefactors of the Jesuit Seminary Fund.

4. In addition, all Jesuits are explicitly obliged by rule to pray frequently for Benefactors, both living and dead; and the prayer "For Benefactors" is daily recited in common by every Jesuit Community.

Feasts of the Month

THE HOLY NAME January 5th

The Holy Name of Jesus reminds us of Him by Whom all things were made. The Word of God Who holds all things in the hollow of His Hand; the King of kings and the Lord of lords whose spiritual kingdom is of all times and all climes; the Lamb for Whom the centuries succeed one another, for Whom kings and peoples, whether willingly or unwillingly are like a staff in the hands of a traveler, or like servants under the authority of a master, servants whom He exalts and glorifies if they are faithful and whom He destroys as a vessel of clay if they dare to rebel against Him.

The sweet sounds of the two syllables that make up the Name of Jesus rouse our attention and awaken our gratitude toward the Author of our salvation Who became Man to bring us near Him; Who was born in a stable; Who wept; Who was persecuted, calumniated, laden with reproaches, mocked and crucified for us; Who, to reconcile us with His Father, rose from the dead; Who ascended into Heaven where He is our Advocate and Mediator; Who, in fine, to console and strengthen us, made Himself the Companion of our pilgrimage by remaining day and night on our altars.

Jesus means Savior, Conqueror, Triumpher. Man and the world had fallen into the power of the devil who, strong and well armed, held his prey in chains for four thousand years. And God knows the use he made of his power! The Son of God came down from heaven to drive out the usurper, to break the tyrant's scepter, to set free the enslaved universe; and His Name reminds us of this victory. Jesus is our Savior in the fullest sense of the word.

He saves our mind from the galling yolk of cruel, infamous, humiliating errors and superstitions. He saves our heart from the thralldom of its passions; He saves our body from the evils that oppressed it under paganism and communicates to it the germ of a glorious im- father, the wife, society; He save. mortality. He saves the child, the all. He prevents us from falling back into the abyss into which we had fallen. He is always our Savior and the Savior of the world. Without Him the physical world would immediately return to chaos, outraged by our crimes; without Him the intellectual world would immediately shroud itself in the darkness of error, a darkness drearier than the gloom of midnight; without Him the moral world would immediately plunge into a sea of vice and corruption as a body hastens to dissolution when quitted by the soul. The histories of peoples are at hand to give testimony of these truths.

Our hearts should be filled with the most perfect confidence, the most tender love, the most lively joy, and the most profound respect whenever we pronounce the Adorable Name of Jesus. It should be our first word on awakening and our last when going to rest; we should let it lie all night long as a seal on our lips. We should invoke the Name of Jesus in temptations, dangers and afflictions. It is all powerful to gladden the soul and to put the devil to flight. We should acquire the blessed habit of using this Name often in life so that we may be filled with a holy confidence when we pronounce it for the last time in death.

EPIPHANY—JANUARY 6

"That day," writes St. Augustine, was called EPIPHANY, a word that in Latin is MANIFESTATIO. The "manifestation," of course, was the appearance of the Infant Jesus to the Magi, of whom we read in St. Matthew, "there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem saying, 'where is He that is born King of the Jews?'" The Church, in the canonical hours of the feast, reads a passage from St. Leo the Great. This Pope and Doctor thus addressed his hearers: "Let us see therefore, dearly beloved, in the adoration of the Magi the first fruits of our vocation and of our faith . . . Let honor be given to the hallowed day, on which the Author of our salvation appeared. The Magi venerated the Infant in His cradle, and let us adore Him omnipotent in heaven."

In her liturgy the Church finds the adoration of the Magi presaged in the Old Testament. In the sixtieth chapter of Isaius we meet the prophecy: "The Lord shall arise upon these, and His glory shall be seen upon thee. And the Gentiles shall walk in thy light, and kings in the brightness of thy rising . . . all they from Saba shall come, bringing gold and frankincense, and showing forth praise to the Lord." David, in the seventy-first psalm sang: "the kings of Tharsis and the islands shall offer presents: the kings of the Arabians and of Saba shall bring gifts: and all the kings of the earth shall adore Him; all nations shall serve Him."

The Divine Child appears to us today, as so many centuries ago He showed Himself to the Magi. Like them we should offer Him our homage, proffer our loyalty, pledge our service. But we can learn a further

"MISSION BEGINS JANUARY 26TH"
"A NEW YEAR—A NEW LIFE"

lesson from the pioneers of the faith, for it seems likely that they found it hard to follow the star. Surely others, equally skilled in the lore of the skies saw the portent and read aright its message, yet had not the courage to venture on the quest. Just as now, men plead duties to home or country or business, as an excuse for turning their backs on God. Yet they do not have to traverse desert wastes, risk encounters with beasts or roving marauders, confront a jealous despot, as the Magi had to do. Would Catholics of today face a like test of faith and of courage, as dauntlessly as did our fathers of long ago? They were men of character. They lived up to their principles. But a Catholic who is the puppet of whim or impulse, who is a stranger to Mass and to the Sacraments, who lives for time in virtual contempt for eternity, either holds his principles lightly, or is too cowardly to follow them.

The Babe of the manger will be our judge sometime. Happy we if we can face the Magi unashamed and stand unafraid before the Divine Judge.

FAITHFUL IN GOD'S SERVICE

One busy day in a mining town in Mexico, a little boy was born. Little did his parents dream of the great career in store for their son. The boy, baptized Michael, was very religious even as a child. He was ever gay in the service of God. As the years rolled on, he became a Jesuit priest. This was the time of religious persecutions in Mexico and naturally Michael Pro was hunted by the law. He went about Mexico converting many. Finally he was captured and sentenced to die by the firing squad.

On the morning of his death, Michael was found in his cell praying to God. "Hail, Christ the King," the soldiers heard him say. Michael was true to God to the very end of his life. We, too, should follow his example and strive to be like him in every point possible; in faith, fear of the Lord and loyalty to God.

William McGrath,
Seventh Grade.

THE BEAUTY OF AUTUMN

When the leaves and grass turn golden brown, and the birds begin to fly south, the beautiful season of Autumn begins. As you walk along the road on one of those lovely, balmy autumn days what do you see? Acres upon acres of golden brown wheat, rye, barley and corn, orchards of luscious red apples, forests of lovely brown trees are signs of Autumn. Shimmering lakes, fringed with tall trees are like mirrors reflecting the resplendent beauty of Autumn. The sun overhead is like a glowing jewel set in a turquoise case studded with gold-rimmed poppies. Autumn is the season when Jack Frost and Mother Nature battle for supremacy. Ole Man Winter at last steps in and forces Mother Nature to retire by spreading the earth with a beautiful blanket of snow. Golden brown, russet and crimson leaves carpeted the paths and byways of the silent forest, as the trees at last succumbed to the forces of Ole Man Winter.

Edward Neary,

THE FIRST SNOW STORM

Our first sign of a storm was when it suddenly grew very cold. We had our first taste of real December weather on Wednesday, the fourth. That evening as I was coming out the front door I was surprised to see it snowing so soon, but I was glad because snow means sledding, skiing, and the like. It was coming down very fast then and the ground soon looked like a large sheet, snowy white.

The next day the snow came down in big flakes that looked like cotton floating around. We had fun that day and were looking forward to many more days of it, but to our disappointment it froze over. The ice is far more dangerous than the snow and many accidents occurred. Many people enjoy this icy weather, such as ice-skaters and hockey players. This weather is not going to last long, for already the piercing rays of the sun have devoured part of the snow and ice. It was fun while it lasted though, and I'm hoping that next time it will say a little longer.

A BOOK REPORT

"Lady Bird" by Alcott is a fiction story. It has to do with a rich girl and her poor friend Louisa. What a wonderful friend Lady Bird was to her companion Louisa. They were very happy together and got along splendidly.

"Big old gray house" makes me see a place where millions of weary travelers are welcomed every day. "Louisa" makes me think of a girl not very tall in height with fiery red hair. Mrs. McCarnie reminds me of a kind lady who loved her home and children very much.

Everyone who enjoys goods books about real people should read this splendid book.

Doris Creedan,
Seventh Grade

"AMERICA THE GREAT"

I think we Catholics have a great advantage over people of other religions, when it comes to matters regarding our government. A Catholic man and woman is inclined to be more respectful and obedient to those placed over them, because obedience is part of their faith. They are continually showing respect and obedience to their priests, bishops, their Pope and their Church. They have learned that these ministers of God are given their power, that they may guide souls to eternal happiness. They are our spiritual guardians.

We also have another type of guardians, that is, the civil guardians of the law. The head of these is the president. The president is given his power so that he also may guide. But his work is of an entirely different nature. His duty is to guide our Country to peace and prosperity, and to see that we do not pass into the hands of an enemy. But he can not do this alone. We too are rulers of this great Country. It is our duty to help our president.

I suppose many of us have often remarked what a wonderful Country this is, and how grand it is to be free, independent American citizens. Yes, this is quite true, but are we really doing our best to keep it this way? Are we doing our share as the "Silent Rulers of America"?

It is our duty to help our government if we are to stay a free nation. If you are of voting age you must not forget your duty as an American citizen. But if you are not yet twenty-one, you still have your duty as a "junior citizen." You can start by obeying traffic laws, keeping streets clean and learning how to become a good citizen.

Just as your religion is a part of your life, your government should also become a part of your life. We are continually enjoying the advantages furnished by our government, such as national highways, schools, free libraries and such other things. The government gives us these things so in turn we should give the government our support.

Now, let us all try to become better American citizens so that this country governed "For the people, by the people and with the people, shall not perish from the earth."

Kathleen Marie Collins,
Eighth Grade.

When Stations of the Cross I make—that Way which of grief tells—
Of scenes from out Christ's Passion, Death—the Way His Blood marked well;
I think of Her Who was the first this Journey sad to make,
Whose Heart a sword of sorrow pierced in anguish for His Sake;
The Mother Who, in Baby Days, did nurse Him at Her Breast, Whose loving Arms a cradle formed where He found shelter, rest;

She taught His Baby Lips to talk, His Childish Hands to play,
And Feet they were to pierce with nails, She taught to walk each day;

And now the Way to Calvary's Hill, and Jesus soon to die!
She hears them send Him forth to death, as helpless She stands by;

She sees Him from afar embrace the gibbet of the Cross,
She knows redemption for us means His Death and Her great Loss;
She sees Him stagger 'neath that Cross, and three times prostrate lay,
Each fall, each wound, cuts deep Her Soul, brings to Her Heart dismay;
Just once They meet along the Way, the Mother and Her Son,
Though broken is Her Heart, she prays: "Thy Will, not Mine, be done";

She longs to help Him bear His Cross, to serve in Simon's place,
She watches as Veronica wipes Jesus' blood-stained Face;
She hears Him comfort women-folks, sees garments torn from Him,
And as they nail Him to the Cross, Her Sight with tears grows dim;
And now beneath His Cross She stands, a Mother with Heart torn,
She gazes on Her dying God, the dear Son She had borne;
O, Mary, first to walk the Way to Jesus Crucified,
Keep my feet ever on that Way which leads to Thy Son's Side.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

The Hidden Life

The music of Christmas is suddenly hushed; the angels put away their harps; the earth sings no more the Christmas anthem for thirty years. This new born king seems suddenly to drop out of sight. After splendid heralding we hear no more of Him for thirty long years. True, on the eighth day He was circumcised, as all the children of Israel were circumcised. When He was twelve years old they brought Him to the temple, where He was lost and found again only after a search of three days. When they upbraided Him He said that they should know that He was about His Father's business. But apart from these two trivial incidents, we hear nothing more of Our Lord for thirty long years; not until He receives baptism at the hands of John on the banks of the Jordan, and begins His public life. Why this loss of time? Why was this wisdom of the Father buried in the little town of Nazareth for nearly a generation? Why did not Our Lord go into the world and make known to men at once that gospel, those tidings of great joy, spoken of by the angels? It was not that He was incapable of the mission, for from the moment of his conception He possessed the wisdom of the Godhead. When He was only twelve years old He astounded the doctors of the synagogue by His questions and answers. And yet, the gospel sums up the history of Christ's life until His thirtieth year by telling us that, after astonishing His hearers with His wisdom and His answers, He delivered Himself over to His parents' care; that He went down with them to Nazareth; and that there He advanced in wisdom, and age, and grace with God and men.

In His thirty years of retirement, Our Lord teaches us that God finds His glory in men, not in irrational things of nature. Our Lord did not come here to make the stars shine more brightly; or the sun or moon to yield greater splendor. He did not come to make the earth more beautiful, or its soil more fruitful. He came to us men; He came to reform us; He came to renew the face of this earth by changing the men and women of the world; and in His thirty years of retirement He taught us the lesson that God finds His glory in men. At Nazareth, Our Savior paid to God the grandest homage that ever was paid to God by man. Never since God generated His Eternal Son away back in the dawn of eternity, did He receive such honor and such glory as went up from the little town of Nazareth; which went up out of the mind and heart of this God child, out of the labor and prayer of Jesus Christ, the son of Mary and the foster child of Joseph the carpenter.

Imitating Our Lord, we too can advance in wisdom and grace only if we do the work of God; and the work of God is within the realm of our thoughts and emotions. The kingdom of God is within us. God's glory, Christ's masterpiece is our individual lives. Our life must be consecrated to God. Our mind in perfect faith; our hearts in perfect love; our entire being in undivided service.

Mission for Men Only—February 2nd-9th

The Mission for Men

The Mission for Men will be held in the Church of the Gesu beginning Sunday, February 2nd and continuing until Sunday, February 9th. The Mission will be conducted by the Rev. Charles J. McIntyre and the Rev. Joseph M. Phelan of the Jesuit Mission Band. Services will be held each evening at 8.00 P. M. The Mission Masses will be at 5.30 and 6.30. It seems unnecessary to urge upon the men faithful attendance at Mass and at the evening exercises since all are aware that the Mission is productive of spiritual fruits that none can afford to miss. The Mission will help you to "grow in grace and in the knowledge of Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ." To the wise it is sufficient to quote the advice of St. Paul, "lay hold on Eternal Life, whereunto thou art called."

Thursday Socials

During the Mission, the Thursday Socials will be discontinued to give all an unhampered opportunity to keep their minds on life's most important work of setting their hearts and souls beating and thinking in unison with the heavenly rhythm of God's laws and their own perfection.

Last Vows

On Sunday, February 2nd, at the 8.30 o'clock Mass, Rev. John J. Coniff, S.J., of the College Faculty, will pronounce his last vows in the Society of Jesus. Our prayers and good wishes accompany him to the altar on this happy occasion.

Candlemas

The blessing of candles will take place on February 2nd. Candles to be blessed should be sent to the Sacristan the evening before. Boxes or packages should be clearly marked with the owner's name and address and should be claimed not later than the following day. Candles intended as donations should be marked "For the Church." This is the time to secure candles for use at home in case of sickness or for private family devotions. It is a very proper time too, to make an offering of candles for Church use.

Blessing of Throats

On Monday, February 3rd, the feast of St. Blase, the patron of all those who suffer from throat trouble, throats will be blessed after all the Masses and after the evening service.

Gesu Holy Name Society

At the regular monthly meeting of the Holy Name Society, held on Thursday evening, January 9, in the High School Building, the annual election of Officers was held. And so, the following officers were elected to serve during the present year:

President, Jack O'Rourke
Vice-Pres., Joseph F. Monaghan
Secretary, John Ryan
Rev. Father Maguire, Spiritual Director of the Society was again installed into the Office of Treasurer.

The following members were named as Delegates to the Holy Name Union:

James Dougherty, Esq.

John McLaughlin
Thomas Holmes
Hugh McIlhone
Lawrence Finnigan

Jack O'Rourke and the other officers contemplate and are confidently sure that the Gesu Holy Name Society will be the most active Society in the City, after a few of the formulated plans are completed.

There will be no idle, or dull moments for those members who attend the Holy Name Meetings in the future. Many social get-togethers are planned, and other events scheduled for the Men of the Gesu Holy Name Society.

Sports

By George Carroll

Good clean sports are a vital part of Catholic Action and today this is most important. However in order to accomplish this we must have cooperation. This cooperation should begin at home and the way in which we can do this, is by getting behind the teams that represent the Parish. With this thought in mind, let us get an idea of the field of Athletics around the Parish.

Looking into the Gesu Young Men's Sodality sports section we find trouble has entered into the athletic front. Disinterest in the team and the management of it, being the chief reason. In the beginning great enthusiasm was shown on the idea of a team and a big turnout of enterprising basketeers was found in the first couple of practices. The Rev. Dominic A. Cirigliano, S.J., approved the plan of the team, because he thought the boys were interested. He allowed the Sodality an expense account totaling almost $100.00 in order to start the team. The squad was picked and the league they entered was started. The first couple of games were well attended but after that a general lack of interest was shown in both the coaching and playing ranks. Various reasons were given for it but nevertheless, it all adds up, to letting Fr. Cirigliano and the Sodality down. A team which should have won the league had let petty differences stand in the way. But now perhaps we can forget what happened during the first half and reorganize into a formidable opponent to the teams they will meet.

Remember the Jesuit Seminaries—February 16th

The Bowling Team of the G. Y. M. S. has been moving along in the Catholic League. Tom Minner and Phil Golden have been hitting the 175 clip regularly in their matches and they expect to win the championship.

With only half the season gone, the Gesu Parochial School basketball team has emerged a champion. They pushed aside all of their opponents and emerged with an average of 1.000, winning five and losing none of their games. The team composed of boys of the seventh and eighth grades have been practicing twice a week in Consumption Hall, under the tutelage of Coach Jack Loughrey and each player on the team has to be commended on his excellent team play. The second-half of their league will start soon and we wish them every success in bringing the championship to the Gesu.

The Rev. Andrew Hofmann, S.J., director of the Parochial School is doing a great job coaching the Gesu Girls' Alumnae and the Parochial School Basketball teams. Fr. Hofmann holds practice several nights a week, in the newly renovated Consumption Hall.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

This is the first opportunity we have had to tell you that the Sauer Kraut Supper on December 12th was a real success. Everybody seemed to have had an enjoyable evening. It is a pleasure, indeed, to again thank all who shared in its success. Your continued support is very encouraging to the officers of the Gesu Parish Improvement Association.

Strive to keep the pavements clean and free from ice during the winter weather. By doing so, you are rendering a great service to pedestrians. Injury and serious accidents to others may be prevented by a little forethought on the part of housekeepers.

We hope that one of your New Year resolutions was to attend our meetings more frequently. May we suggest that you bring your friends and neighbors to these meetings so that they may realize the efforts this Association is making in their behalf.

Every once in a while subjects are brought up at these meetings which require discussion and we are very glad to be able to give our members the benefit of our experience and knowledge on these matters.

We want this Association to be of service to all, and if at any time we can help you, we are willing to do so. Your comments and suggestions will be welcome at all times.

If your membership in this Association has expired, we shall be pleased to receive your renewal dues of $1.00, as we know you do not want to lose the advantages afforded by this Association.

Mission for Men Only—February 2nd-9th

Mars vs. God

In the first six months of the present European War, Americans contributed TEN MILLION DOLLARS for war relief in Europe and Asia! (cf. Collier's, June 1st, 1940.) Ten million dollars!

Oh, it's a great thing, people say, to collect for war relief—even for war itself, damnable though it is. Collection boxes are shaken in our faces in every subway. On every avenue there's a shop collecting "Pennies for Poland" and "Bundles for Britain" and "Food for France." All well, perhaps . . .

But when we ask for aid for the making of priests, funds for the feeding of scholastics, help for the training and ordaining of men dedicated to the service of God, when we ask for the material resources necessary for the spiritual work of spreading God's kingdom upon earth, not by force of arms, but by bringing peace to the hearts of men . . . we often meet with opposition.

Yet we do not ask for much. We ask one dollar a year, from many friends, for the support of our many scholastics. We ask an occasional contribution to a mite-box for our many missions. We ask those who can to give a larger gift. Perpetual membership in the "Jesuit Seminary Fund" assures the member of a lasting remembrance in Masses and prayers—so many that the number almost takes the breath away. We ask an investment in the Annuity Plan. We ask those who can to contribute to the Burses.

We ask help in one of these many ways. But we must do so in a quiet way. We cannot unleash the propaganda that feeds the mouth of Mars. This is a religious matter; and having only God as its object, must not be made public! We are simply aiming at the conquest of the world in the name of Christ; but we must not disturb the millions of little men whose game of war has gotten beyond their control.

Yet once again we venture to call softly for HELP! In the Name of God!

Subscriptions for the Jesuit Seminary News; enrollment of members both living and dead in the Jesuit Purgatorial Society; donations for Jesuit Burses of Studies, may be sent to the Rectory at any time. The Annual Collection for the Jesuit Seminary Fund will be taken up on February 16th.

Feasts of the Month

ST. IGNATIUS, BISHOP, MARTYR FEBRUARY 1

St. Ignatius, Bishop of Antioch, was the disciple of St. John. When Domitian, persecuted the Church, St. Ignatius obtained peace for his own flock by fasting and prayer. But for his part he desired to suffer with Christ, and to prove himself a perfect disciple. In the year 107, Trajan came to Antioch, and forced the Christians to choose between apostasy and death. "Who art thou, poor devil," the emperor said, when Ignatius was brought before him, "who settest our commands at naught?" "Call not him 'poor devil,'" Ignatius answered, "who bears God within him." And when the emperor questioned him about his meaning, Ignatius explained that he bore in his heart Christ crucified for his sake. Thereupon the emperor condemned him to be torn to pieces by wild beasts at Rome. St. Ignatius thanked God, Who had so honored him, "binding him in the chains of Paul, His Apostle.

He journeyed to Rome, guarded by soldiers, and with no fear except of losing the martyr's crown. He was devoured by lions in the Roman amphitheatre. The wild beasts left nothing of his body except a few bones, which were reverently treasured at Antioch, until their removal to the Church of St. Clement at Rome, in 637. After the martyr's death, several Christians saw him in vision standing before Christ, and interceding for them.

PURIFICATION—CANDLEMAS FEBRUARY 2

Three events are commemorated in this sacred solemnity: the Purification of the Blessed Virgin Mary, the presentation of the Child Jesus in the Temple, and the meeting with Simeon and Anna. By the provisions of the Mosaic code, every Jewish mother, after childbirth, was obliged to undergo at the Temple a ceremony of purification and offer God a sacrifice of penance and thanksgiving.

The Blessed Mother, because of her utter sinlessness, was clearly exempt from this law. Yet, to furnish an example of implicit obedience to all just law, the Immaculate Mother of the Savior docilely repaired to the Temple after the Birth of her Son. She chose to offer the thank-offering of the poor, a pair of turtle doves. From this ceremony of purification undergone by the Virgin Immaculate has arisen a pious and symbolic custom of the Church, the "Churching of Women."

On this day the Child Jesus was presented in the Temple. This was in obedience to the law of Moses which required the solemn consecration of every first-born to the service of God—if he were of the tribe of Levi. If he were of another tribe, he might be relieved of this obligation by the payment of a small fine.

Our Saviour, of the royal line of David, was not subject to this law. Yet he submitted to the redemptive service, and after His presentation was returned by the priests to the arms of Mary and Joseph.

The third event recalled by the Feast of the Purification is the significant meeting of the Mother and Child with the Holy Simeon and the prophetess Anna. From this event the Feast receives its characteristic name, Candlemas Day.

Holy Simeon, when he received Our Lord in his arms, pronounced the prophetic words of the Nunc Dimittis, containing the reference to Christ as the Light of the World.

"And behold, there was a man in Jerusalem named Simeon and this man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel, and the Holy Ghost was in him. And he received an answer from the Holy Ghost that he should not see death before he had seen the Christ of the Lord. And he came by the Spirit into the Temple.

"And when His parents brought in the Child Jesus to do for Him according to the custom of the Law, he also took Him in his arms, and blessed God and said: Now Thou dost dismiss Thy Servant, O Lord, according to Thy word in peace. Because my eyes have seen Thy salvation which Thou has prepared before the faces of all the peoples, a light to the revelation of the Gentiles and the glory of Thy people, Israel."

What took place forty days after the birth of the Saviour occurs again in the liturgical celebration every second of February. On this day the Redeemer comes again into his Temple, the Church, to offer Himself to His Heavenly Father for the life of the world.

He is present in Holy Mass, as He was once present in Mary's arms. As Mary made the offerings of the poor, so every Christian may return thanks to God for a Gift which places our race in an indebtedness no human effort can ever requite. The turtle doves of Mary's offering was an inadequate expression of her best. The offering of our hearts is an insufficient return to the Father for the gift of His Son. Yet, since this is the best offering we can make, we may be sure that God will not disdain it.

Christmastide, the Feast of the Nativity and the festivals which accompany it, has passed. But its memory still lingers. Standing on the threshold of Lent, the Feast of the Purification, the last of the Christmas feasts, entitles us to one last backward glance at the present joy and the promise of greater joy still to come which are incarnate in the word, Christmas:

We enter a season of penance and sorrow. But the antecedent of this Feast is an event of undimmed glory. God loves us. He loves us so dearly that His Son became Flesh and dwelt among us. The light of the star which shone over Bethlehem will never be extinguished. It shines still, brilliant, unfading, illuminating the darkness which lies thick about us, lighting the Christian's pathway to God.

ST. BLASE, BP., M. February 3

In the history of his life, it is narrated that whilst he was lying in prison awaiting death, multitudes flocked to him to be cured of their infirmities. He prayed over them, and blessed them, and sent them away restored to health. This was more frequently the case with diseases of the throat.

Among others who sought his aid, at this time, were the parents of a little child whose life was despaired of by the doctors. A piece of bone lodged in the boy's throat, was choking the lad to death, and surgical aid was powerless. At the prayers of the parents, St. Blase, moved to sympathy, besought God to have regard to their faith and save the child's life. Then he made the sign of the cross over the suffering child, the bone at once was loosened and easily removed, and the child saved from death. The overjoyed parents, thanking God and the holy bishop, spread abroad the story of the saint's miraculous intercession. Hence arose in the east a devotion which is now widespread, almost universal, of invoking God's blessing through the intercession of St. Blase, to protect his child from all diseases of the throat and from all other evils.

BLESSED JOHN DE BRITTO February 4

One of the glorious Beati of the Society of Jesus is Blessed John de Britto. He labored in the Kingdom of Maravia in the East Indies, after St. Francis Xavier had opened the way for his apostolate. He endured many labors and hardships and encountered almost constant dangers. He succeeded in converting a great number of idolators, but was finally seized by the tyrant and twice put to torture. Remaining firm in the confession of the Faith, he was at last beheaded and thus won the palm of martyrdom on the 4th of February, 1693. He was beatified by Pope Pius IX.

SS. PAUL, JAMES AND JOHN February 5

On the fifth day of February, the Society of Jesus commemorates the glorious death at Nangasaki, in Japan, of the blessed Martyrs Paul Fiki, John de Goto, and James Kisai, native Japanese, the first members of the Society, who under Taiko-Sama, being crucified for the Faith and pierced through with lances, together with twenty-three other martyrs, fertilized by their blood the Christianity planted by the Apostle of Japan. They were beatified by Pope Urban the eighth, and canonized in 1862 by Pius IX.

BLESSED JAMES DE SALES AND WILLIAM SALTAMOUCHE February 7

On the seventh day of February we have the commemoration of two martyrs of the Blessed Sacrament. They were Blessed James de Sales and Blessed William Saltamouche, slain at Aubenas in France in the year of 1593 out of hatred of the faith. Falling into the hands of the heretics they were for many days tortured with hunger, thirst, and other pains, and then put to death. Father James was first shot through the body, and then as he prayed for his murderers, run through the heart with a sword. William, who was a lay-brother, embracing the Father as he fell was stabbed with daggers. Both had made good preparation to deserve their crown Father deSales, though subject to many infirmities, labored as if in strong health. He adored the Blessed Sacrament hourly and asked for the grace of martyrdom from the King of Martyrs, the good Jesus, Whose name was ever on his lips and in his heart.

OUR LADY OF LOURDES February 11

Our Holy Father Pope Pius X crowned, before his death, the work of his predecessors in the chair of Peter by extending to the whole world the Office and Mass in commemoration of Our Lady's apparitions at Lourdes and in recognition of the countless wonders wrought at that shrine. Reference to the miracles which have made Lourdes famous is found in the beautiful prayer of this feast: "O God, Who, through the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin, didst prepare a dwelling fit for Thy Son, we suppliantly beseech Thee that, while celebrating the apparition of the same Blessed Virgin, we may obtain health of mind and body, through the same Jesus Christ Our Lord. Amen."

In a book entitled "Heaven's Recent Wonders," one of the physicians who has had intimate personal knowledge of the cures wrought at Lourdes, tells us how rigidly all the wonderful cures are examined by skilled and experienced medical scientists of every religion, and how they are impressed by the results of their impartial investigations. We select the following paragraph:

"The denial of the supernatural is the true characteristic of the error of our day. A most decisive proof in behalf of the supernatural is a miracle: Lourdes has become the center where all critics are taught more easily than elsewhere to rise from the natural to the supernatural. No need of long and painful historical researches, no need of studying old parchments or deciphering difficult inscriptions of a very remote age in order to prove the supernatural. The facts of instantaneous cure are clear, definite, and attested by numerous and even infidel witnesses, by physicians who are constrained to acknowledge the impossibility of accounting for those tangible effects by the forces of nature."

However, even without journeying all the way to Lourdes we may obtain for ourselves and our relatives and friends who may be afflicted in mind or body the relief which we desire. We have only to pray with confidence in Mary Immaculate and with resignation to the Holy Will of God.

BL. CLAUDE DE LA COLOMBIERE, S.J.

February 15

On June 16th of the year 1929, a band of pilgrims, representing the League of the Sacred Heart in the United States, joined with Associates of the League from all parts of the world, to attend the ceremonies in St. Peter's at Rome, during which "the apostle of the Sacred Heart," Claude de la Colombiere, S.J., was raised to the honors of the altar.

Our readers, who have read the life of St. Margaret Mary Alacoque, the Visitation nun whom our Lord chose as His instrument to make known to the world the devotion to the Sacred Heart, will remember that he was the Jesuit Superior of the Residence at Paray-le-Monial, who guided her at the time of the great apparition of 1675 about the Feast of the Sacred Heart.

Blessed Claude was born in 1641, and died on February 15, 1682. The Jesuit Fathers will celebrate his Feast, each year on that date. After his death his notes of retreats were published and through them the world learned of the devotion to the Sacred Heart and of our Lord's desire to have it spread throughout the world.

Associates of the League will continue to pray to the Sacred Heart that many miracles may be granted through the intercession of Blessed Claude and that he may obtain for us the grace to be fervent lovers of the Sacred Heart and earnest in our reparation for the neglect and indifference with which our Lord meets, especially in the Sacrament of the Holy Eucharist.

BLESSED DIEGO CARVALHO

February 25

The martyrdom of Blessed Diego Carvalho is honored on the 25th of February. He was a priest of the Society of Jesus and was put to death in the Kingdom of Oxu in Japan in a most inhuman manner. He was plunged into freezing water and allowed to stay there for several hours. Then he was released for a time to test his constancy. Then he was immersed again in the icy waters and continued to endure his sufferings for twelve hours. He died at last with unshaken constancy in the confession of the Faith.

ASH WEDNESDAY

February 26

"Remember man that thou art dust, and unto dust wilt thou return." Such are the solemn words with which Holy Mother the Church inaugurates this, her great season of penance, and by such words she reminds her children without exception of their earthly destiny. During these forty days we should dedicate ourselves to the practise of prayer and genuine penance; shift our affections from the flesh to the soul; conform our lives not only to the rule but to the spirit of the Church and thus have assurance that there will be no depression in our heavenly welfare. "Make to yourselves bags which grow not old, a treasure in heaven which faileth not: where no thief approacheth nor moth corrupteth. For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also."

The Peace of the Cross

Each day brings Calvary now to Thee—all Crucifixion days—
When greater pain than nails and thorns meet now Thy anguished Gaze;
Once Thou didst die for love of men—Thou gavest all to show
A world steeped deep in sin and hate, should love and mercy know;
The flood-gates of Thy Love burst forth in torn Hands, Feet and Side,
The Blood-stained Eyes saw only souls for whom Thou gladly died;
O, Christ of Calvary, Thou didst bear all things to have increase Man's love for Thee and have him live with fellow-men in peace;

Hands gory now with human blood are clenched beneath Thy Cross,
And desolation rules the world, with deaths, destruction, loss;
Thou wouldst have men know happy hearts, their righteous lives bring joy, Thou hearest now but one word cried—the heartless word—"Destroy!"— Destroy man's life which Thou didst give, his country, family, home, Destroy his soul, his church, his God—to live for "State" alone;
Destroy all finer things of life, all ties of honor, love,
The trust of children, faith of men, belief in God above;

O' Christ, Thou shalt not die in vain! Thy Birth, Thy Life, Thy Death,
All whispered words of Love Divine to men with every Breath;
Hate blinds men's eyes, their hearts and minds refuse the Light to see,
They grope in darkness for the Way—they try all things but Thee!
Thy Prayer again must save the world—that Prayer Thy Father knew,
Wrung from Thee on Good Friday's Cross: "They know not what they do!"
Reach out and save man from himself, and save the world from loss, Light up men's hearts, make bright the world, with brilliance from Thy Cross!

ST. JOSEPH

Like the stars in the sky, through the long night of Time shine out the saints, gracious, serene and holy, exercising a beneficent influence upon successive generations of men. Amongst them all, as some planet of surpassing radiance, is Joseph, the descendent of kings, the carpenter of Nazareth, as though in that one person were united the extremes of earthly rank. Down through the centuries his influence has been felt, comparatively small at first, but gradually expanding into its full importance, until in the past three centuries he has become the Father of Christians, the Patron of the Universal Church.

Religious literature resounds with the praises of him who was emphatically called in Holy Scripture "the just." In prose and in verse his noble, majestic figure has formed the theme of many a beautiful or striking passage. In art, Joseph appears almost from the beginning and in a variety of ways. Now he is feeble and old, the austere guardian of the Lily of Nazareth; again he is in a vigorous middle age, the defender and supporter of the royal Son and Mother.

The saints in all ages have chosen St. Joseph as their special advocate at the throne of grace. St. Theresa's testimony is the testimony of the ages, that St. Joseph never refuses to aid those who confide in him; for St. Joseph has been set over the human race in the character of father, head of the family. Temporalities may be recommended to him with all confidence, in the certain hope that the petition will be granted; or failing that, something of greater value be given instead. The Patriarch of Bethlehem proves himself a veritable haven of refuge amid the trials and needs of this passing life; and above all in the last and greatest trial which, for each in turn, closes life's drama.

If we would imitate him, Joseph shows us the place, the foundation, the means and the term of holiness. The place is wherever we may be—in Egypt as in Judea; the foundation is within reach—prayer and work; the means—simply to live under the eye of Jesus, with our gaze fixed on Him. As for the term, nothing is more natural—we stay where we are, we finish as we began, we die as we have lived. We open our lips to let forth a sigh which turns out to be our last breath; and from the broken heart there suddenly escapes the liberated soul, murmuring the names: Jesus, Mary, Joseph.

Every grace may come through the mediation of St. Joseph, but he likes especially to distribute such services as he once rendered or received in the bosom of the Holy Family. Thus he is the patron of parents, the guardian of children, the director in the ways of God.

Lenten Discourses

Lent is the time for serious thought on the things of eternity. Life, death, judgment, Calvary are the all-important matters, which are forgotten by too many people the greater part of the year, but are pondered by multitudes from Ash Wednesday until Easter Sunday.

It is not morbid to turn to such truths; the morbid are they, who flee these facts. Strange perversion of the human mind, that passing, less worthy events should engage us pleasantly, while eternal, worthy goods should occasion shrinking and dislike!

During Lent especially we should put aside our unreasonable aversion for the solid and substantial truths of eternity; and suppressing our inclination to rest content in the transient and superficial, enter into the Lenten devotions with zeal.

On Wednesday evenings, Rev.

Joseph A. Maloney of the College Faculty will discourse on the very timely and interesting topic of LIFE—Christian life, our life, as it should be lived in relation to Christ, the Church, the home and our environment.

On Sundays at the last Mass, the Rev. William Coleman Nevils, formerly President of Georgetown University, Rector of St. Ignatius Church, Loyola and Regis High Schools in New York, will explain God's first law, CHARITY, according to the doctrine of St. Paul, so beautifully expounded in the thirteenth chapter of his first epistle to the Corinthians.

The Novena of Grace

March 4th-12th

The Novena of Grace is now universally known and observed from the fourth to the twelfth of March, the anniversary of the canonization of St. Francis Xavier and St. Ignatius Loyola, in 1622. It is made in accordance with the directions of Father Marcellus Mastrili, who was cured when at the point of death, by the intercession of St. Francis Xavier, and who afterwards died a martyr in Japan, October 17th, 1637. The wonderful favors both for body and soul obtained through the intercession of St. Francis Xavier have caused this novena to be called the NOVENA OF GRACE.

This year there will be six half hour services, daily, including Sermon and Benediction. The prayers will also be recited immediately after the noon day Mass.

Mass at Noon

So that all may have an opportunity of hearing Mass daily during Lent, and also that those who wish to practice extra piety during the Holy Season may attend more than one Mass, there will be a noon day Mass, beginning at 12.05 P. M. daily except Sunday during the Lenten season.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The semi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was held on Wednesday evening, February 5th, in the High School Building on Stiles Street. In the absence of Mr. John E. Martin, President, Mr. John Ryan, Vice-President in Charge of Housing, acted as Chairman. After prayer by Father Maguire, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mr. Ryan then informed the members of the serious illness of Mr. Martin, who has worked untiringly, willingly and generously for the interest and advancement of this Association since it was organized. We regret very much the illness of Mr. Martin and extend to him our best wishes for a speedy recovery.

The Chairman urged all members present to exert as much influence as possible in trying to interest others in our meetings. To the men, especially, he extended a cordial invitation to be present more frequently.

Spring is on the way—just around the corner, so get ready to give your home the dressing up which it will need after the winter's wear and tear. If there are any problems confronting you regarding modernization, reconditioning, repairing, etc., do not hesitate to consult the officers of this Association. They are well informed on many subjects and will be glad to talk these matters over with you. They may be able to supply you with just the information you desire.

Gesu Girl Scouts

St. Valentine's Day for young and old means a party—and the scouts never miss a chance like that. A party at the scouts means lots of games, fun and good things to eat—no small part of this fun was supplied by Father Hofmann, our chaplain, with his ready wit and good humor. Everyone agreed that it was the best party the scouts ever had.

February 21st the scouts and their parents enjoyed a film shown for them through the courtesy of the Campbell Soup Company.

"Vesper Prayer"

"My Brother sweet, my Brother sweet,"

A little boy kneels down to pray,
"I lay my face against Thy Cheek,"
For now it is the close of day.

He kneels beside his mother's knee
And talks to her who is our queen,
And in that baby she can see,
A little Boy Who once had been.

A little Boy Who was her Son
On earth, so very long ago,
And how He too when day was done

Knelt down to pray in whispers low.

Edna M. Green,
Girl Scout Scribe.

Sports

by George Carroll

The sporting pages have been filled these days with the topic of promoting strong bodies, through sports for National Defense. Several prominent authorities in the sporting world have voiced their opinions in this cause and all have expressed, "A hope, for the promotion of sports in schools and centers, throughout the land." The wish of the nation, is that the people become sports minded enough, in order that, they may develop their bodies in such a way, they will be able to become an asset to their nation and be physically fit to take upon their shoulders the burden of defense. The government wants to have the younger people of this great nation drilled in some sport, that will develop them physically, mentally and morally.

The Gesu Parish has always seen to it, that their younger children indulged in the field of sports in some way by promoting for them yearly, an organized team of some sort. In the years before the high school building was erected, the vast expanses of, "the College Yard," resounded with the thud of a batted ball, the shouts of childrens' voices at play echoed throughout the neighborhood for they had a particular place to congregate.

However since the boys and girls are no longer permitted as a body to play in the college yard, their recreation facilities are somewhat depleted and they are forced to take to the streets where they naturally are endangered by traffic.

To offset this situation something should be done by the parish if possible to provide a recreation ground large enough and safe enough, for the children to play in. The city playground in this vicinity has become unsatisfactory because of undesirables who frequent it and make it unsafe for them to play in. Where, however, a yard large enough could be provided at the present time is a problem, but a compromise may be possible with the high school, for the use of the yard by the boys and girls at certain times when the students aren't using it. This plan has been offered and perhaps the members of the Parish who have children could get together and attempt to formulate plans for offering the high school a proposition of allowing the children the use of the yard.

The Gesu boys parochial school team is still rolling up victories in the Catholic League and is now eagerly awaiting the opening of the St. Joseph's Prep invitation basketball tournament, of which it was champions last year. In the tournament this year the team will be on the so called spot, as it will have to defend its crown against some very tough opposition.

The Rev. Andrew Hofmann, S.J., moderator of the girls' team has developed a very promising sextet in his practice sessions at Consumption Hall and we are looking forward to seeing the names of some of the girls from this parish, in the lineup for the Hallahan girls high basketball team.

George Carroll.

Regulations for Lent

The holy season of Lent will begin on Ash Wednesday, February 26th.

1. All Catholics over 21 years of age and who are not yet 59 are bound to fast during Lent, unless their health would thus be seriously impaired.

2. Those obliged to fast may take only one full meal a day, either at noon or in the evening. Besides this meal a little breakfast and a light lunch are permitted, but these latter may not include meat.

3. The days of abstinence during Lent are the Wednesdays, (except the Wednesday in Holy Week), the Fridays, the second Saturday and Holy Saturday until noon. On all other days of abstinence those of the family who are obliged to fast may eat meat at their principal meal; those not obliged to fast may eat meat at any of their meals.

4. The Lenten regulations do not apply on Sundays.

5. The time during which the Easter duty is to be performed extends from the first Sunday in Lent, March 2, to Trinity Sunday, June 8.

6. The faithful are reminded that besides the obligation of fasting imposed by the Church, the Holy Season of Lent should be in an especial manner a time of earnest prayer, of sorrow for sins, of seclusion from the world and its amusements, and of generous almsgiving.

"Angels of Mercy"

The Worcester, Massachusetts Gazette published in a recent issue the following tribute to our Nuns. The author is Paul Henderson, a non-Catholic.

Unknown to many are the charitable works of that silent army known as Sisters, or Religious, or Nuns. Perhaps there is no life more beautiful in the world than that of a nun.

A nun is a little lady, all consecrated to God. She arises at 5 in the morning and goes to bed about 9 at night. Before the day's work begins, she has had about two hours of prayer including Holy Mass. Every moment of the day, when she is not occupied by her routine work, she is bettering her soul by way of spiritual reading, examination of conscience and the like. She has no worldly ambitions, desires no fame, seeks no romance, asks no reward offered on this earth. She is poor, chaste, obedient, anxious to be always the maximum of service to her Sisters and to her neighbors; and a minimum of annoyance. She has the loveliest manners existent in the world; is modest, soft-voiced, invariably gay. Laughter comes to her as easily as sunlight.

She is a member of what seems to me to be one of the strongest proofs of a hereafter on this earth. I speak not as a member of the Catholic Church, or a sectarian, but as a person who has always admired these holy women.

A nun gives up all she possesses in this world, her wealth, her home, her heart and her life. She devotes all her time, energy and attention to the rearing of other's children, to the guiding of youths and to the turning of mature minds to loftier sentiments, with no hope whatever of any reward except that which she hopes for in the great beyond.

There is no more potent demonstration of the existence of God than the work of the Sisters. Their trials and tribulations are suffered in silence so as not to add burdens on the world. They are the country's greatest patriots; and are deserving of the title, "Angels of Mercy."

Of such are the Sisters. Of such will be the Sisters—until the end of time and the commencement of eternity.

Remedy for Depression

In most cases, of course, those who are idle, would accept any kind of work but in more than one instance of unemployment, the doubt has been raised as to whether some of those who are out of work are really making an effort to find employment. In some cases the man had an easy job such as time-keeper or boss of a gang—looking at others work—and he finds now that he cannot do anything else. One such as been idle for a year, and when his uncle was asked recently: "Did John get work yet?" the answer was made: "No! But I really think he is beginning to look for work now." Others would like to get a letter to some political "boss" or district leader, instead of taking what they can get.

These thoughts may have been in the mind of the one who conceived the following whimsicality. Here is the clipping:

"Did you ever stop to think that hard times mean nothing to a hen? She just keeps on digging worms and laying eggs, regardless of what is said about the conditions. If the ground is hard she scratches harder: If it's dry, she digs deeper. But always she digs up worms and turns them into hard shelled eggs. Did you ever know of a hen starving to death waiting for worms to dig themselves to the surface? Did you ever hear one cackle because times were hard? Not on your life. She saves her cackles for eggs."

It may also be asked of the unemployed: "Are you making use of some of your spare time by going to daily Mass and praying for a job?"

A Cure for Scruples

It has often been said that the best cure for what is called scrupulosity is a sense of humor. But the difficulty lies in putting that sense into the scrupulous person.

We read recently that Don Bosco used to prescribe the reading of a joke book whenever one felt an attack of scruples coming on.

This brought to mind what a famous missionary did some years ago to effect a cure. One of those to whom he was giving a retreat was notorious for her annoyance of every new confessor with her frequent consultations on all such occasions. This time, however, it was noted that she went but once and then made a short stay.

After the retreat one of her friends had the courage to ask her what had happened. "Oh!" she said with a smile, "he cured me. I had hardly started to tell my troubles when he said, 'Fiddlesticks.' That was all. I couldn't think of anything else all through the retreat. I think I laughed more than I prayed. But I'm Cured."

Patriotism

What is patriotism? Is it only a willingness to die for your Country in times of crisis? Or is it also a willingness to live for your Country and for your countrymen? Probably no better definition of patriotism was ever given than that supplied by the late Bishop Spalding of Peoria. It is this:

A great patriot is first of all a good man—true to himself and true to his relations to his fellowmen. If false to himself, he is false to all. If he love not rightly his father and mother, his wife and child, the neighbor who dwells beside him, how shall he rightly love his Country? If he respect not the dignity of human nature in himself, but degrades it by drunkenness or lying on sensuality or dishonesty, how shall he feel a genuine and generous interest in the common weal, and earnestly strive to do his part in correcting the evils and abuses which impair or threaten the national life and prosperity? It will indeed be easy for him to make his patriotism a theme of declamation, and easy, too, to throw suspicion on the loyalty of others; but if he is not a real man, it is not possible that he should be a real lover of his Country.

Back Talk

It takes a deal of courage to stand one's own in the face of unfair and unintelligent back talk.

The natural born ego in us all and the desire to defend what has been given us by birth are uppermost. But the background of a fine mentality and the ability to control the mind at all times is the mark of a real man or woman.

Back talk is for the brawler. The brain is above brawn. So that when the brain is put to a cheap end, often the body is not able to meet the standard.

How much we learn from our silent friends. After a time with such a one I have often felt that I have learned more than if talk had been the dominant note.

So often I have heard the remark from someone that he "would not take that talk from any man."

Brave words! No one has to take the talk of any man. All one has to do is to walk away and leave it with its owner.

Dignity is never served by the lowering of any standard.

When you meet the challenge of the back-talker you have to meet him on his own ground. He has proved by his back talk that he cannot meet you upon your own.

It takes the courage of character to hold your own in silence when every physical element of your nature tells you to do just the opposite. But it always pays in the end.

Disputes, where bitterness is aroused, are so silly, anyway. No one can grow happy with an atmosphere of bitterness about one.

If you leave the back talk to the other fellow, he will have to take it away with him!

Easter Duty

One of the commandments of the Church is that every Catholic of requisite age must receive Holy Communion worthily during Easter time. During this time the law binds, under pain of mortal sin, all those who enjoy the use of reason.

Easter time extends from the first Sunday of Lent until Trinity Sunday.

Those who are not able to go to Church during the Easter season, or those in charge of them must notify the priest, so that this duty may be accomplished, although the persons concerned be in no danger of death.

Mistaken Ideas

Nowadays when we hear of some person who has given liberally of his superfluous wealth to help the needy, we are in admiration of his generosity; his picture is displayed in all our newspapers and an account of charitable deeds is spread broadcast throughout the world. Yet there is no sacrifice in given away superfluous wealth.

Self Denial Banks

To remind our parishioners to make constant sacrifices during Lent we again sent out the little mite boxes or self denial banks. In doing so we hope that each coin deposited will represent some sacrifice of a lawful pleasure, some denial to appetite, some restraint placed on wanderlust. If you have not received your mite box please ask for one at the Rectory.

The Shortest Way

If you are looking for the easiest way of saving your soul and the shortest road to heaven, we recommend the following direction of an excellent guide, Pope Pius X:

"Holy Communion is the shortest and surest way to Heaven. There are others, innocence for instance, but that is for little children; penance, but we are afraid of it; a generous endurance of the trials of life, but when they approach us we weep and pray to be delivered. Once for all, beloved children, the surest, easiest, shortest way is by the Holy Eucharist."

Retreat—April 4-6

For many years closed retreats for working men have been held at retreat houses throughout the world. In our own Country there are at least twenty-five retreat houses where men go for these retreats. The late Holy Father, Pope Pius XI realized the important work being done in these centers. But he also realized that the work was, of necessity, limited. The reason for this was that only a man of steady income could afford to make such a retreat. It was for this reason that he appealed to the Very Reverend Father General of the Society of Jesus to institute a work of retreats which would open the field to a larger number of men. Before anything could be done in the matter death claimed the beloved Pontiff.

Pius XII then ascended the Throne of the Fisherman. He was also interested in the retreat movement. In view of the errors of Nazist and Communist he wanted a remedy. So the retreat movement for workingmen, or "The Home Retreat" movement was launched. Last April, Rev. John P. Gallagher, S.J., was named to inaugurate the movement. He has already given these retreats to over 800 men.

As Father Gallagher has pointed out, the emphasis in the retreat is not on anti-Communism, but on the presentation of the principles of Christianity. Such a retreat will be given in the high school building beginning on Friday evening, April 4, and ending on Palm Sunday evening, April 6. All working men, whether they belong to "white-collar brigade" or to those employed in manual labor are invited to make the retreat. Lunch will be served at noon on Saturday and Sunday in the cafeteria of the high school. If a man can afford to make an offering for the food, he can do so. If he cannot, Father Gallagher assures us that the man can have whatever he wishes. No charge will be made for the retreat. There will be no collections at any service. Unemployed men will also be welcome. It is to be hoped that all our men will not only make this retreat, but that they will try to bring others to the retreat. Married and unmarried, employed and unemployed, union and non-union men are invited.

Dieting Versus Fasting

Dr. William D. O'Leary, S.J.

Nothing is more fashionable in the world today than dieting; nothing is more out of date than fasting. To be on a diet at the present stage of knowledge in things hygienic is to be right in style. No one is ashamed of a sign of weakness in dieting. On the contrary the fad is so prevalent that it often takes unusual courage to sit down to an "old fashioned meal" and frankly admit that you are not on a diet.

It is almost a breach of etiquette at the best social teas of the more elite bridge clubs for the hostess not to enquire before hand just what day of "the 18 Day Diet" each of her guests happens to be observing. It amounts to social heresy to refuse to consider the number of calories you are taking, or to be unable to discuss the proportion of proteins, carbohydrates and fats in the tid-bits before you.

Fasting on the other hand does not enjoy such popularity. It is merely looked upon as a hand-over from a medieval time when people did not know any better. Fasting is not the vogue. It would require almost as much courage to admit in a social gathering that you are observing the usual Lenten fast as it would to deny that you were following the society leaders in their bizarre diets.

But why this difference? A fast demands moral restraint—but does a diet require less? A fast causes us more or less physical discomfort—but is not a diet often more rigorous? Where then is the difference? The one is religious, the other scientific. The difference lies in the purpose or motive. Dieting has for its motive the bodily perfection of the individual and the human race—hence the universal applause. Fasting has a religious motive of spiritual perfection which is of little importance in a world of selfish interests.

We say "motives" for we are moved to act by a certain known good to be obtained, and the more convinced we are of the value of the good, the more diligently will we strive to secure it, regardless of the difficulties in the way. It is difficult for the athlete to continue on this diet, but physical efficiency is for him a good worthy of the sacrifice. It is difficult for the young lady—or those neither young nor old—to persevere "on diet," but a more graceful figure has a decided value for her. A diet is difficult for the man with stomach trouble, but the hope of regaining health is sufficient incentive for the hardship to be endured. No one questions the validity of these motives for denying it. Why? Because they are founded on the welfare of the body—and the body must be served.

But fasting—what are its motives? Why should one deny one's self if he is not an athlete, has no desire to reduce, or has no stomach trouble? Because there are other motives than mere natural motives. In fasting the motives are supernatural and are therefore not understood by those of a materialistic world. For these there is no soul to be accounted for, no life after death, no sins to be atoned for, and most of all, no Christ for whom they may prove their love. Heroic self-denial for the sake of an invalid friend can be readily understood in this age of humanitarianism, but any kind of self-denial for Christ is beyond their comprehension.

The Catholic on the other hand can understand all these supernatural motives. He can but does he? Does he realize that the Church long ago recognized what many think to be a new idea, namely the bodily good to be derived from a temporary restriction of food? The Church however considers bodily welfare only secondarily, for spiritual health is its main concern. If others can deny themselves for a temporal good can the Catholic not do it for a spiritual good? It is the good to be obtained that sustains us, but there is no greater good than the love of Christ. He suffered much for us, we may endure a little for Him. In dieting we think of our bodies, in fasting we think of our souls; dieting we think of this life, fasting we think of the next; dieting we may covet sin, fasting should purge us of evil; dieting we receive our reward here, fasting we expect it later; dieting we may conform to the fads of society for ourselves, fasting we observe the rules of the Church; dieting we show our love for ourselves, fasting we show our love for Christ.

SAINT PATRICK

March 17

St. Patrick, the Apostle of Ireland and the valient champion of God. He girt himself with a prayer that now is known to us as St. Patrick's Breastplate. "I bind to myself this day the Power of God to guide me, the Might of God to uphold me, the Wisdom of God to teach me, the Eye of God to watch me, the Ear of God to hear me, the Word of God to give me speech, the Hand of God to protect me, the Way of God to live before me." Devotion to St. Patrick is shown not by wearing a spray of shamrock, but by wearing day after day the armor of faith.

SAINT JOSEPH, THE JUST MAN

All that we are told of St. Joseph in the Holy Scripture is this: That he was a just man. But that in itself is a great deal; for Justice is one of the cardinal virtues. The cardinal virtues receive their name from the Latin work "cardo" which means hinge, that on which a thing turns or on which it depends. Justice, then, together with Prudence, Fortitude and Temperance, is a virtue on which all the other moral virtues depend or are hinged. It is a virtue which consists in giving to every man his due.

Now how many of us practice this virtue in its entirety? Of how many of us can it be truly said: "He is a just man?" Are you just in your dealings with your superiors, equals and inferiors? If you are an employer, do you give your employees a just wage? Alas, how often is this not the case. How many the employers who exhort from their subordinates the maximum of labor for a minimum wage. If an employee, do you render all that is due to your employer; or do you not often squander much of your time in his service by idle gossip or sheer laziness?

Again, you may be a business man. As such are you honest in all your dealings with your fellow men? Are all your methods "on the square?" The mere fact that a method shady in itself is termed "business" does not cause that method to cease to be unjust or illicit. And yet how often do we hear one attempt to justify himself for such a transaction on the ground that it is "all in the business?"

We never could imagine St. Joseph exhorting a higher price for a piece of carpentry than the article was worth. No, he was a just man who rendered to every man his due; and as such he will ever remain a model for our admiration and imitation.

HOW TO MAKE FRIENDS WITH ANIMALS

Anyone can make friends with animals. Sometimes an animal naturally takes to a person but his friendship could have been gained with a little kindness. Let us take the dog, for instance. As you know, these animals can at times be very unfriendly.

Some ways that you might have brought about the friendship of your pet are these. Never be rough or unkind to a dog. If you should kick or strike a dog, it would try in its way to repay you. Always see that your dog has something to eat. Take him for walks frequently. Teach him tricks and make him feel as though you would really like him to be your friend. You can see that most of these things are based on kindness. So remember, if you want to be a friend of your pet, be kind to him.

MY FAVORITE RADIO PROGRAM

I settle back in my chair, as the golden voice of the friar echoes over Graymoor Mountains. The second friar speaks in a soft, kindly voice as he announces that we are about to hear the story that is to be dramatized. Every Sunday the friars dramatize the life of some particular saint whose feast usually is celebrated within the following week. I enjoy hearing about the lives of great saints and this program enables us to learn of their virtues and sacrifices. This is the reason why the Ave Maria is my favorite program.

A FAIRY WAS PAINTING

As the sun sank below the western horizon, I took to bed to sleep and refresh myself. I awoke in the early morning, and seemed impelled to peek out of the window. There before me was a fairy painting a cover over the earth. On every tree and bush, she had hung precious jewels, uncut diamonds and cone-shaped spools. The telegraph poles were connected by strips of crystal cellophane and cotton-wrapped wiring. The skies, she had painted a heavenly blue, with, here and there, a white patch of cloud like a fluff of cotton. As I stood there spellbound, the artist disappeared but left behind her work for all to see and admire. Have you guessed that she left on her easel a blanket of snow?

'Tis Eastern Morn! The Christ they killed and crucified in shame Breaks loose the shackles now of death, the Name of God to claim;
Gone are the hammer and the nails; gone, too, the Crown of Thorns,
And Calvary and the mob are gone—'tis Resurrection Morn!
The Conqueror of sin and death, the Master of the grave
Steps forth with saddened Eyes to watch the world He died to save;
No happiness beams in His Face, of joy He has no part,
The Cross is gone, but still there lives the lance within His Heart;

The lance plunged in that Heart through War—the lance of hate and sin,
That twists and dwarfs the souls of men, locked in War's battles grim;
The pains of Calvary are surpassed as cries come to His Ears
Of dying men on land, sea, air, and women's sobs and tears;
From skies where men once turned their eyes to talk to Him in prayer,
Planes hurl their blasts of death below on men and homes so fair;
Men sent to death in watery graves, destruction on each side,
"Was it for this," Christ sadly asks, "I suffered, bled and died;"

O, War, how tragic is thy price! How gruesome is thy cost!
O, Victory, so madly sought, spoils won—but so much lost—
O, Risen King, how sad Thou art, how steeped Thy Heart in gloom,
The world forgets Thy Death, Thy Love, more friendly was Thy Tomb!
O, Christ, reach out and with Thy Hands, once pierced for Love of men,
Lift from the world the curse of War and give men peace again;
Let not Thy Blood be shed in vain, let It show men the way
Of Service, Love and Brotherhood toward all, this Easter Day.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

THE SACRED PASSION

Compassion and pity, sympathy with Christ in His sorrows, are good gifts; and we must pray for them, encourage them, and welcome them with thanks. But there are other emotions, more practical and more important, rooted in contemplation of the Passion; and we must busy ourselves mainly with these. Compassion is barren when it spends itself in mere grief. Our sorrow must finish in something more substantial than mere tears. It must push us to the heroism of activity and lift us to virtue's sublimest heights. Time is wasted and opportunities are lost, unless we rise from our study of the Passion with a deep and lasting hatred of sin, with a larger and tenderer appreciation of God's kindness, with a fuller measure of hope, with an intenser love, with a more active and burning zeal, with a greedy longing to copy into our lives every single virtue occurring everywhere in the sad history.

Christian hope is founded on Christ, and His Passion crowns Christ hope's angel to men, with a message of courage to them that stand and them that fall. Every prayer we utter, whatever the nature of its beginning, middle with progress, closes always at the foot of the cross. When we address Heaven, "Per Christum Dominum Nostrum," is the unvarying peroration; and our Mother, the Church, everywhere, insists on the sacred formula. With the full measure of hope the cross puts at our disposal, we cannot in reason lose courage or grow weak in temptation, we cannot despair in defeat. The cross is guarantee that God never deserts a man in need. The cross pledges Heaven's omnipotence to mankind, God, our Father, poured out His Son's blood to the last drop for our redemption, He is going to stop at no smaller sacrifice, to complete the work, and lift us finally to that Heaven purchased for us by Good Friday's wealth of sorrow. As a measure of God's love for men, the Passion of Christ is without a rival. Himself set the standard at the threshold to His agony, the Last Supper, "Greater love than this no man hath, that he lay down his life for his friend." Love's test suffers no change with change of lover. It is for us, as it was for Christ, readiness to die for our friend, and willingness, while life lasts, to bear in patient silence for His sake whatever aches, and ills, and disappointments happen our way. Let nobody deceive himself. Holiness is war of the sternest kind, blossoming full of hurts, and wounds, and sorrows. Self is our sworn foe, and it pinches to do violence to so near and dear a neighbor. But love exacts of us the sacrifice. Christ can with reason suspect our love, if it is the holiday kind that eternally seeks ease and comfort. We can ourselves with right, feel afraid and ill at ease, when crosses are infrequent, and love misses its portion of tears.

Gesu Holy Name Society

On Thursday evening, March 6, in the High School Building, there was held the regular monthly meeting of the Gesu Holy Name Society.

After a delightfully interesting business meeting, the gathering was entertained by Mr. Jack Quinn, an American League Baseball Umpire. After having delivered an ingenious, forceful and thoroughly intelligent talk on some of his experiences in baseball, Mr. Quinn presented an absorbingly interesting motion picture of the National Pastime in baseball.

After the presentation of the film, Jack O'Rourke announced that for the April meeting of the Holy Name Society, Mr. Ira Thomas, scoutmaster of the Athletics would address the meeting. It was also announced that the Annual Holy Name Communion Breakfast would be held possibly the second Sunday of the month of May.

Gesu Girl Scouts

March 5, one of our scouts, Hannah Murray, entered the court of the Great Scoutmaster. When we think of how much we loved her, we realize how much He must have loved her to have taken her from us.

The troop wishes to express its sympathy also to one of its members, Theresa Gallagher, whose father passed away March 6.

The Girl Scouts are now very busy collecting old silk stockings and tinfoil for the people of England.

The stockings are used to pad quilts which are very light but very warm for use in air-raid shelters. Magazines are also being collected for our own soldiers now in camp. Anyone wishing to donate any of these articles may give them to a member of the troop.

March 12 was the twenty-ninth birthday of the founding of the Girl Scouts.

Edna M. Green,
 Girl Scout Scribe.

Sports

By George Carroll

As winters icy wake is receding and the breezy, balmy days of Spring are taking form, a change is also being found in the sporting world. Indoor sports are being stored away 'till next season and in their place outdoor sports are being resumed. The trusty old catchers mit is being dusted off and the familiar cry of the umpire, Play Ball! will again echo back and forth on baseball diamonds throughout the land. All in all the best season of the year has arrived and along with it, goes the interest of a sports minded and not war minded America.

However, in preparing Spring, we still find some unfinished business in winter sports. In the first instance we see that the Boys Parochial School Basketball team, coached by Jack Loughrey, has finally been dethroned as champs of the Prep Invitation Tournament, by being defeated in the first round of this years tourney. However, we feel, that they would have proved much better competition if they had been allowed the services of "Rebel" Rentreria, who was declared overage for the tourney.

Lenten Mite Boxes should be returned to the Rectory.

Congratulations are in order for three members of the team, "Rebel" Rentreria, Jim McNally, and Frank Carroll, who received first, second and honorable mention respectively, on the All-Catholic League Basketball team. The squad played well in the league and were a tribute to the work and long practice sessions of their coach.

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality Bowling Team, is fighting for first place, and perhaps by the time this notice goes to press, they will have been declared champs of the City-Catholic League. The team has been working hard, trying to keep-up its standing in the league, and with co-operation and consistency in scoring, it should prove victorious.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The semi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was held on Wednesday evening, March 5, in the High School Building on Stiles St., Mr. John E. Ryan, Vice-President in Charge of Organization, acting as Chairman.

We are very happy to report that our President, Mr. John E. Martin, is improving although he is still in the hospital. We are looking forward with much pleasure to Mr. Martin's full recovery and trust that ere long he will be able to resume his capable leadership in this Association.

The Testimonial Dinner on Monday evening, February 17, in honor of Reverend James I. Maguire, S.J., and Reverend C. H. Reese, was an outstanding success and our congratulations to all for the splendid work done. Your co-operation has our deep appreciation and gratitude.

At this time of the year many home owners check up on various repairs, at least the ones that are absolutely essential to the well being of a property. Repairs to homes make them more desirable and productive of better income. Perhaps a coat of paint is all that is needed and a small sum of money expended may answer the question of tenant. Sometimes this is the reason why properties do not rent easily. The life of a home can be prolonged by proper care and good treatment. So do just a little something to make your home more attractive. It will give us pleasure if we are in any way able to assist you along these lines.

People, moving in or out of the Parish, should notify the Pastor.

Holy Week

PALM SUNDAY

Before the Solemn High Mass, a striking ceremony occurs, to which the Church herself has always attached the deepest significance. It is the Blessing of the Palms. It begins with the antiphon; "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessed is He that cometh in the name of the Lord. O King of Israel! Hosanna in the highest!" For today we commemorate the triumphal entry of Our Lord into Jerusalem, when the multitudes who had come to the holy city from all parts of the world for the celebration of the Pasch and who had heard of the miracle that Jesus wrought in raising Lazarus from the dead, went forth to meet Him bearing palm-branches in their hands, and making the air resound with their joyful acclamations.

After the antiphon, the priest, standing at the corner of the altar, prays God to multiply in the hearts of the faithful the gifts of His grace, that, as by the death of His Divine Son, we have faith and hope in the life to come, so, by His resurrection, we may one day have the happiness of attaining to it. A lesson is then read from the book of Exodus after which the deacon chants the narrative of the triumphal entry into Jerusalem as recorded in the Gospel of St. Matthew. Then the celebrant solemnly blesses the Palms, the beautiful prayers, which he sings meanwhile, setting forth in language full of unction the mysterious meaning of the ceremony, and invoking the divine blessing upon all who receive the symbolical branches, as well as upon their homes.

The procession, which follows, commemorates the journey from Bethania to Jerusalem, when Our Lord was so enthusiastically welcomed by his people. But as the procession, headed by the sub-deacon bearing the cross, is about to reenter the church, they find it closed against them. It is no longer the earthly, but the heavenly Jerusalem to which they seek admission. The voices that are heard within singing the praises of Christ, are the voices of the Angelic choirs, celebrating the entrance of Our Lord into the heavenly city, while the voices outside the church, which at every verse take up the refrain, are those of the people who have been conducting Our Lord in triumph into the earthly Jerusalem. It is only when the sub-deacon strikes the door with the staff of the cross, that it is thrown open, and the procession enters, proclaiming the praise of Him, who is our resurrection and our life. For it is only Jesus, the King of glory, who by His victorious Cross has opened to us the gates of the kingdom of heaven, thus uniting the Church militant with the Church triumphant.

The Mass, which follows the Procession, bears not a trace of the exuberant joy, which is so marked a feature of what precedes. The parts that are sung by the choir are expressive of the deepest desolation, and the history of Our Lord's Passion, which is read in advance, gives to the rest of the day that character of sacred gloom, which we are wont to associate with it.

Those who are slightly deaf, should Confess in the Rectory.
Time: fifteen minutes before scheduled Church time.

THE OFFICE OF THE TENEBRAE

In this office, all is sad and mournful, as in a funeral service. The candles that burn in the sanctuary are of unbleached wax, the tabernacle is empty. The formulas expressive of joy and hope, with which the several parts of the divine office usually begin, are all omitted, and only the essential form is retained. Thus, and in other ways, does Holy Church seek to impress upon her children a sense of profound grief at the sufferings and death of her divine Spouse.

The name TENEBRAE, meaning darkness, refers to the hour at which Matins and Lauds should properly be recited, that is, during the night. But even where this is not the case, the name has still a special appropriateness in reference to the gradual extinction of the lights in the sanctuary, one of those on the triangle being extinguished after each psalm, and those on the altar during the singing of the canticle of Zachary. The purpose of this ceremony is to express the obscuring of the glory of the Son of God during the ignominies of the Passion, and the desertion of the Apostles and disciples, who all, leaving Him, fled away.

The single candle which is left burning at the top of the triangle, and then for a moment held upon the altar, is Christ, our Lord, who, even when suffering and dying on the Cross, remains ever the Light of the world. His light is hid for a brief space, while His body lies buried in the tomb, and hence the candle is concealed for a while behind the altar, but presently, amid the gloom that pervades the sanctuary, a confused noise is heard, and the lighted candle reappears. It is Jesus rising from the grave, after the convulsions of nature that signalized His death.

HOLY THURSDAY

What day could be more appropriate for the fulfillment of the Easter Duty than this on which we commemorate the institution of the Adorable Sacrament? Certainly no one, who has the leisure, should fail to attend Holy Mass. It is today that the unbloody Sacrifice of the new law was first offered up, and it is today that Christ gave to His Apostles that ministerial power, by which they, too, could offer the same Sacrifice, being made priests forever according to the order of Melchisedech. The Holy Eucharist, whether we consider it as a Sacrament or as a Sacrifice, was instituted on the eve of Our Lord's Passion, and we should prove ourselves strangely ungrateful if, believing what we do, we should neglect to give evidence of our faith, when the occasion would seem to call for some very special manifestation of it.

It is the REPOSITORY, where Our Lord's blessed Body is reserved, that gives to Holy Thursday a character of solemn joyousness, which is peculiarly its own, and it is with hearts full of gratitude and veneration, that the faithful hasten today to the house of God, to spend at least a few moments prostrate before their hidden Saviour. The profusion of lights and of flowers, and the other rich adornments of the holy place, bespeak the liveliness of their faith, and the depth and tenderness of their love, and the stream of worshippers that flows by in ceaseless procession the whole livelong day, is proof that in spite of the widespread indifference in matters of religion, which is so deplorable a feature of the times, there is also a strong leaven of genuine piety, and of intense personal devotion to Our Lord, which through God's blessing may be instrumental sooner or later in permeating the whole mass, and in bringing mankind back once more to the feet of Jesus Christ.

But despite its religious joyfulness, this festival is at the same time deeply tinged with sorrow. For we are on the very eve of Our Saviour's Passion, and the great gift, which is the motive of our gladness, is a gift from the hands of our dying Lord, and is bequeathed to us as a memorial of His death. That we may give free rein to our joy, and may keep with exultation the memory of this greatest of God's wondrous works, Holy Church will establish another special festival in the glad Easter time. Meanwhile, as we bow down in loving adoration before our Eucharistic Lord, we shall behold in the Blessed Sacrament a sweet reminder of Our Saviour's suffering and death. The Sacred Host that is kept in the Repository today, is the same that will be consumed tomorrow in the Mass of the Presanctified.

GOOD FRIDAY

Our one great preoccupation today should be with the all-absorbing mystery of the Passion of Our Divine Redeemer. If we are able to attend the various functions that will take place at the Gesù, with but little interruption, from morning till night, they will greatly contribute to awaken in us such sentiments as the death of Jesus should inspire. So deep is the impression made upon Holy Church today by the anniversary of the Sacrifice of Calvary, that she suspends her daily oblation, the mystic Sacrifice of the Mass, and prefers to have her children all their attention on the great tragedy itself, of which the Mass is but the unbloody renewal.

Almost the first feature of the morning office is the solemn chanting of the Passion, which by its dramatic character and the sorrowful tone of the music, cannot fail to produce a profound impression, and so dispose us to profit by all that follows by way of commemorating this most mournful anniversary. Then follow those wonderful prayers, which the priest offers up in the name of the Church for every class of persons, from the Sovereign Pontiff to the least of the clergy, for the faithful and for those outside the Church, not even excepting the perfidious Jews, and for the manifold needs of mankind.

Next comes the unveiling, and, immediately afterwards, the Adoration of the Cross, two strikingly beautiful and most impressive ceremonies. There is no need of telling Catholics that the adoration we pay to the Cross is relative adoration, being referred, of course, to Him who for our sake died upon the Cross. The Mass, which follows, is called the Mass of the Presanctified, because the Host, which is consumed by the priest, is not consecrated at the Mass itself, but is brought to the altar from the Repository, where it has been reserved since the day before.

The Three Hours' Agony, which begins at noon, is an admirable practice for uniting the hearts of the faithful with Our Divine Lord during the most solemn part of the day. This it does in a way that is at once easy and delightful, and while every feature of the devotion bears directly on the great event commemorated, there is no room for anything akin to weariness, and, along with the blessed fruit of sorrow for sin, the soul reaps much spiritual advantage in numerous other ways.

HOLY SATURDAY

Only the mournful part of today's office belongs by right to Holy Saturday, the day on which Our Lord's body lay in the sepulchre. In the first ages, it was not until the approach of daybreak on Sunday morning, that the faithful who had spent the whole night watching in the church, were privileged to assist at the Mass, which was then offered up in memory of the risen Christ. And if the hour of the Resurrection is now anticipated, and the Holy Sacrifice is joyfully and solmenly celebrated as early as Saturday morning, it is because Holy Church would give her children a foretaste of the Easter gladness.

The fire, which is blessed at the beginning of the ceremony, is struck from a flint, and it represents Jesus Christ rising from His rock-hewn sepulchre through the stone that had been rolled against it. From it the Paschal Candle, the lamps of the church, and the candles that are placed on the altar, are all lighted, the new light symbolizing the preaching of the new law of Christ, as the putting out of the lights, which preceded, signified the passing of the old dispensation.

The five grains of incense, whose blessing immediately follows that of the fire, represent the perfumes prepared by Mary Magdalene and her companions. They are inserted in the Paschal Candle in the form of a cross, and so symbolize again the five wounds. The Paschal Candle itself, whose eulogy is sung with such extraordinary solemnity by the deacon, arrayed as on a festal day, is another emblem of Our Divine Saviour, and it is for Him that the Church intends the enthusiastic praises which she lavishes upon it. Before being lit, it is a figure of Our Lord lying lifeless in the tomb;

when lit, we see in it the glory of Jesus, victorious over death. It will grace the sanctuary until Ascension Day, when He, whom it symbolizes, will be taken up into heaven, and so, for a time, disappear from the sight of His beloved disciples.

FIFTEEN OUTSTANDING FACTS OF THE RESURRECTION

1. The Resurrection was foretold by Christ.
2. The Jews knew He foretold it.
3. They took every precaution in regard to it.
4. Christ's death was officially certified by the Roman Governor.
5. A guard of Roman soldiers were on duty at the tomb.
6. The Roman guard testified to the Resurrection.
7. The Jewish leaders paid hush money to the Roman guard, thus silencing them.
8. The Resurrection was proclaimed in the very city where Christ was crucified, and to the people who put Him to death.
9. On the first proclamation, 3,000 joined the Standard of the Crucified and Risen Christ.
10. The Apostles were transformed by the Resurrection and its consequences.
11. They made the Resurrection the basis of their Christian Mission.
12. The Jews never denied the Resurrection, but forbade its proclamation.
13. Paul, the bitterest opponent of the Resurrection, became its greatest champion.
14. The Risen Christ became the dominant factor in the history of civilization, the world beginning a new era dating from Him.
15. The conversion of the Roman Empire was due fundamentally to the fact of the Resurrection. These are the great outstanding facts of the Resurrection. No cause in all history has such a convincing array of evidence.

The Resurrection is the most vital fact in the history of the world.

The Resurrection, therefore, has a vital bearing on our life. It is the guarantee of our Resurrection. The Christian man has it in his power to make a success out of life, no matter what its eventualities may be here. For if life, no matter how great a failure, terminates in a glorious immortality, it becomes an eternal success. On the other hand, if we have all success in this life and lose everlasting life, the greatest worldly success is an eternal failure. The Resurrection is, therefore, the most important fact of all history.

EASTER SUNDAY

O blessed day of the Resurrection, which of old time was called the Queen of Festivals, and raised among Christians an eager, nay contentious, diligence duly to honor it! Blessed day, once only passed in sorrow, when the Lord actually rose, and the disciples believed not; but ever since a day of joy to the faith and love of the Church! In ancient times Christians all over the world began it with a morning salutation. Each man said to his neighbor: "Christ is risen;" and his neighbor answered him: "Christ is risen indeed, and hath appeared unto Simon." Even to Simon, the coward disciple, who denied Him thrice, Christ is risen; even to us who at our baptism vowed to obey Him, and yet so often denied Him better men, so often taken part with sin, and followed the world when Christ called us another way. "Christ is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon!"—to Simon Peter, the favored Apostle, on whom the Church is built, Christ has appeared. He has appeared to His Holy Church first of all, and in the Church He dispenses Blessings, such as the world knows not of. Blessed are they if they knew their blessedness, who are allowed, as we are, week after week, and festival after festival, to seek and find in that Holy Church the Saviour of their souls! Blessed are they beyond language or thought to whom it is given to receive those tokens of His love, which cannot otherwise be gained by man, the pledges and means of His special Presence, in the Sacrament of His Supper; who are allowed to eat and drink the Food of immortality, and receive life from the bleeding side of the Son of God! Alas! by what strange coldness of heart, or perverse wickedness, is it that any one called Christian keeps away from that Holy Table?—Cardinal Newman.

An Original Book on a Novel Theme

"THE QUEST AND GOAL of the

by REV. WILLIAM L. HAYWARD

Remarkable story of a Protestant Monk who became a Catholic Prelate . . . A Century's development of ideals which proved illusions and the resultant mass conversions of ministers and lay-people . . . The spiritual evolution of an extraordinary personality analyzed with fidelity to facts.

HERE ARE A FEW UNSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS:

Philadelphia, Pa.

"It is one of the best printed books I have seen and read. It is a pleasure to read it. I congratulate the Publishers for such excellent work."

Washington, D. C.

"It is a wonderful history of the movement to deprotestantize the Episcopal Church. It will be a book that will be consulted in future years."

New York, N. Y.

"An original book on a novel theme."

Chicago, Ill.

"I finished reading the book the same day I received it. I could scarcely put it down, even for necessary duties."

... THIS BOOK MAKES APPROPRIATE LENTEN READING ...
... AN IDEAL GIFT FOR THIS COMING EASTER ...

The book's author, Rev. William L. Hayward, associated with the C.S.S.S. in 1894, one of the converts of 1908, who entered the Priesthood in 1911, wrote this story at the request of Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia. The book is not only absorbingly interesting but will give you inspiration and further devotion to the faith that is in you.

... This edition has been completely sold out with the exception of five hundred (500) copies. THERE WILL BE NO REPRINT. Therefore, this book will be added very soon to the "rare book" list, and no doubt the material value of the book will increase.

THE ONLY CHILD

Sometimes it is an advantage to be the only child. I should know, I am one. If you are the only child, sometimes you get what you want when you want it, but very often this doesn't happen. You can do everything without a big brother or sister standing over you, like a hawk over a frightened bird. At least you can sit down and do your own homework, without having to help your small sister or brother with theirs. You don't have a quarrel every night about who gets the society, sports, or comic pages of the paper. You don't have to go home after school and take the baby out for a walk. You can bring a girl friend home without having a brother tell her everything silly, you might accidentally do at home, nor a sister to tell about the time you scorched your mother's best dress when she had to go out to meet your Father for dinner. You don't have anyone to borrow half of your weekly allowance until next week because they spent all of theirs. This is especially hard when you get only fifty cents and have to buy stockings, paper and you want to go to the movies. You don't have to worry about getting home early from school, because there will be no younger brother or sister waiting for the key.

Of course, when your mother and father go out together and leave you home all alone to mind the house you get very lonesome with no one to talk to. Sometimes you don't like to go to the store alone and start wishing you had a sister to go with you. Thus you can see that there are both advantages and disadvantages of being an only child.

DOLORES ROBINSON,
Eighth Grade.

MY TREASURE CHEST

To many children a treasure chest would mean a pot of shining gold or several pieces of eight. Although my treasure does not consist of any of these things, I consider it my most valuable possession.

One bright sunny day while feeling very ambitious, I decided to go on a wild treasure hunt. Climbing up the stairs to the second story of our house I began rummaging about several rooms. As yet I did not discover my most prized treasure chest. After looking through every room but one I was quite confident I would find my treasure chest in this room. As I opened the door I saw my treasure standing in the middle of the room. It was my mother.

The reason why I call my mother my treasure is because without her I would be lost. My mother to me is like a compass to a ship at sea. She guides me through the rough spots of life and though she corrects me many many times it is for my own good.

My true treasure chest is my mother.

MY HOBBY

The thrilling and exciting hobby of airplane building is, I think, the best way to spend leisure time. I started this pastime when I was only six years old. As the years passed, I joined an Airplane Club and began to make more difficult models.

Last Saturday afternoon, when I had completed my model, I showed it to the Instructor. He said, "Make the airplane take off, fly, and then land." I did and it was a success. Can you imagine my excitement when I received a pair of bronze wings?

The next step is to secure for myself Silver, and then Gold Wings. With the help of God, some day in the near future I'll get those wings and then reach my ambition—to be an Instructor.

ROBERT SPROSS,
Seventh Grade.

WHAT I DO IN MY LEISURE TIME

Have you ever thought of the use of minerals? Look around and see for yourself the articles made from them. We use them for food, fuel, beauty, building and household articles. Gold, emeralds and silver are used for beauty. Salt and oil are used for food and fuel, while building structures are made from steel and other refined minerals.

In my leisure time I collect minerals. In my collection there is quite an assortment of ores and stones; I do not have diamonds or emeralds. Included in my collection is some gold ore and other dazzling, beautiful ore specimens. There is some wood I have, which has turned into stone, after lying under tons of dirt and stone for about five thousand years. Behind each stone is a story, such as an Indian arrow head I found, which might have been used by an Indian years and years ago. From some of the earth's most barren spots, come the world's richest minerals. Some think the way I spend my leisure time is strange, but I like it because it is strange, useful and different. A lack of leisure hours and pecuniary difficulties, prevents me from collecting many more mineral specimens.

ROBERT FOX,
Eighth Grade.

The Nurse

Your task it is to bring relief to those who lie in pain,
To give them courage, hope and strength, and cause to smile again;
Untiring in your chosen work, kind, patient all the while,
You hide your own heartaches and cares behind a cheerful smile;
Through hours long in trying days, or nights so silent, still,
A sentinel of love you stand to guard the stricken, ill;
No task is shirked, no duty spurned, unpleasant though it be,
They serve the best who serve the cause of sick humanity;

Youth craves excitement, fun, good times; Life owes it as Youth's due,
You, too, are young, yet give these up, Life's finer tasks to do;
Applause comes not to greet your work, no cheering, heartening cries,
Your recompense are grateful looks that come from fevered eyes;
You help the Mother and the Babe who fights for life's first breath,
And, faithful always, you are found to close our eyes in death;
Life's Great Physician promised once, reward a hundred-fold
To those who in His dear Name gave a cup of water cold;

If favors small so much are blessed, this thought your heart should cheer,
Who gives your life to do the work that marked Christ's earthly years;
He showed himself friend to the sick, the blind, the deaf, the lame,
He sought them out and healed all men who asked it in His Name;
When, all alone, you do your tasks, by all the world unseen,
A Presence near you Smiles in Love—the Gentle Nazarene—
When all life's work for you is done, and God shall call you Home,
He has in heaven special joys kept for the Nurse alone.

Where cost is a vital consideration, we have learned to eliminate costly non-essentials.

Each Day Is Mother's Day to Me

Each day is Mother's Day to me when I think, Dear, of you,
And all the love you gave me in those happy years we knew;
As Twilight Shadows bring the cool on torrid summer days,
So, too, the memory of your years makes sweet now Life's dark ways;
In times like these, when hearts of men, and faith, are put to test,
I still can hear your gentle voice: "God always knows the best";
God tucked a little of Himself into each Mother's heart,
That's why her love shall ever shine from all things else apart;

Of all the Mothers whom God made, I think the fairest two
Were, first of all, His Mother sweet, and, next to Her, came you;
No gold or bonds you left to me, but wealth beyond all price,
You left a road you walked yourself that brought you Home to Christ;
You never faltered on that road, you loved its every mile,
You bore its weariness and aches, for His Sake, with a smile;
Ask Christ to have me faithful be, like you, unto the end,
So when I stand before His Throne, His Voice shall call me "friend";

Each day is always Mother's Day with children everywhere,
She is enshrined within their hearts to live forever there;
Ask God to have my days of life prove every one of worth
In serving Him and spreading, too, His Kingdom here on earth;
And may I always keep in mind, Life's Purpose and its goal,
And know the world has naught to give in exchange for my soul;
Let, me, in some way, live like you, in service staunch and true.
So I am worthy, at life's close, to rest with God and you.

The Month of Mary

The month of May begins the most pleasant season of the year and we dedicate it to one who to the world was the promise of sunshine and deliverance from the darkness and miseries of sin. The sweet month of May, with its sunshine and its flowers is the month of promise. It recalls the promise of one who was to be like a rising dawn ushering in the bright day of hope; who was to give to an expectant world its God in human form. She was fair as the moon by her gentle influence; bright as the sun by the light of her example; terrible as an army in battle array against the enemy by the power of her intercession.

And so the Church, besides the many feasts of the year, dedicates to the Virgin Mother, every day, every hour and every moment of an entire month, the sweet month of May. God Himself first pointed the way and marked her for an object of special veneration. From all eternity He loved her with a love that was marvelous. Of all the creatures that came from His hand, she alone was singled out by the Triune God for special honor: by the Father Who chose her as His daughter; by the Son, Who claimed her as His Mother; by the Holy Ghost, Who took her as His Spouse.

We owe God every homage and worship and adoration of our hearts. No fibre of our being but should be thrilled with love of Him; no faculty or power of our soul but should utter His praises and extol and acknowledge His divine nature and perfections. But how can we so love Him and not love her? How can we feel our hearts burn at the utterance of His name and remain cold and unmoved when we pronounce hers? Can we ever separate even in thought Jesus and Mary? Dare we sever those whom God has so closely welded together? Can we allow ourselves to forget, that if He is SON, she is MOTHER; if He is CHILD, she is PARENT; if He is KING, she is QUEEN; if He is the greatest of all beings, she is the greatest of all creatures, "Blessed among women" and the chosen tabernacle of the uncreated and the eternal? Who was ever so closely related to the Infinite? Which of the angels or of the archangels can exclaim as she can and say to God, "Thou art my beloved Son"?

Hence we should honor Mary because God first honored her. Honor given Mary will soon turn to love. Love her, because of who she is—the Mother of God. Love her, because of what she is—the fairest and purest of creatures. Love her, because she represents the high water mark of created excellence and perfection.

May, beautiful May, with its foliage and flowers, will pass away but first its beautiful blossoms must be scattered by the wind ere the fruit can be firmly set and ripen into a power of life.

The cross of human life is necessary to the formation of character; it comes after the May has put forth the promise of sweet dispositions, to strengthen those dispositions and form them into life-giving fruit. The sweetness of youth passes away even as the breezes pass over the surface of a lake, bearing fragrance into the atmosphere but leaving a germ for development behind, which will need all the care of the artist to tend, to foster and develop into the perfection for which it was designed.

Mr. John E. Martin

With the passing of Mr. John E. Martin, the people of the Gesu Parish have lost a true friend. They have lost a man who had at heart the well being of every person within the limits of the Parish and his affection was not confined to useless wishes but he put this into action and sacrifice to help others.

He was every ready at the call of the Pastor and his assistants to help them in their arduous labor because he realized in carrying out their wishes he was doing God's will.

As Vice-President and later President of the Gesu Parish Improvement Association he did what was possible to prevent the grand old parish from being destroyed and to bring about its restoration to its former beauty. He did not belong to that short sighted group of whom there are so many whose only cry is "too late." No, he belonged to the class that could peer into the future and behold the restoration of this neighborhood to its proper place. He would not admit defeat for he regarded the cause as just and right. His policy was to push forward and never admit defeat.

As one of the organizers of the Eighteenth and Thompson Streets Federal Credit Union he labored incessantly to make it the success that it is today. He saw from the beginning that the people of the parish in having their own bank where they could manage their own financial affairs for their own benefit would be assisted in a material way. Consequently he threw himself into the work of Treasurer and Manager to which he was elected by the Stock holders, until he made it what it is today with its two hundred and forty-five members depositing various sums for which they will receive at the end of the year at least five percent, and drawing out at low interest sums necessary to meet pressing demands and thus save them from the loan sharks who demand excessive interest on small loans.

Besides these he was always active in the various projects undertaken by the Holy Name Society and in spite of his activities in other non-parochial organizations he was always available for works that were for the good of the parish. In gratitude we ask all to pray for the repose of his soul.

MAY HE REST IN PEACE.

May Devotions

Every Catholic should be a devoted Child of Mary. The Child of Mary should seek to participate in the purity of Mary, the spotless, Virgin Mother of God; should run to the odor of her ointments and tenderly cherish the sweetness of her delights. True, it is a struggle, a continued warfare against the most powerful enemies within and without. The Immaculate Virgin, who crushed the serpent's head, will, by the grace of God, enable us to triumph, if we confidently seek her aid and protection. "Blessed are the clean of heart, for they shall see God." What a startling expression—"They shall SEE Almighty God!" Purity of heart is the atmosphere of divine love, the pledge of the beatific vision. What a most wonderful manifestation of the wisdom and benevolence of the divine economy that has given us this example of immaculate purity. Besides their private devotions in honor of Mary, our Parishioners should honor MARY by attending the Church devotions each evening during this month especially dedicated to OUR LADY, the Queen of heaven and of May.

First Holy Communion and Mother's Day

The most important event in a young child's life is FIRST HOLY COMMUNION. It is the Sacrament that nourishes, develops and strengthens the supernatural life of grace in the soul. For months our little children in Gesu School have been preparing for their First Holy Communion, which they will receive on Sunday morning, May 11, at the 8.30 Mass. On that blessed morning they will fully respond to our Lord's most earnest appeal "My children, give ME thy heart."

On this same day, May 11, every Catholic man and woman in this Parish should approach the Holy

Table as a memorial of First Communion day and also as a tribute to "MOTHER." To remember one's mother by the gift of a flower is a beautiful custom, but much more beautiful is it to remember her in prayer and at the Sacred Table. Those who wish their mothers to share also in the prayers of others, may enroll them in the Jesuit Seminary Fund, which will entitle them to participate in thousands of Masses, Communions and prayers. With the enrollment goes a beautiful gift card. The usual offering is one dollar.

May Procession, May 18, 3.00 P. M

Many ways of honoring Mary have been devised, and throughout them all runs the idea of making her our Queen. On Mayday we select a queen from among the fairest daughters of our school, who represents not only physical health and comeliness but what is of far greater worth,—spiritual beauty. Clad in the immaculate robe of innocence, with a mantle of royalty and crown of power, surrounded by maids of honor and subjects, she represents all that is holy, all that is pure, all that is loved by God. It was thus that the Holy Ghost, saw the Blessed Virgin, coming to be born in time and addressed to her the words of welcome, "Thou art all fair, my beloved, and there is no stain in thee—come and be crowned." In the name of all present, the May queen dedicates herself and subjects, forever, to the service of heaven's Queen, God's Mother.

In the evening, the reunion of all the Sodalties under the Patronage of the Blessed Virgin Mary, takes place. All who are truly devoted to Mary should be enrolled in one of her sodalties esteeming it an honor to be called her child; for the shortest and easiest path to heaven is through Mary, the Mother of God.

Special Days of Prayer

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19, 20 and 21 are ROGATION DAYS, or days on which we implore God's blessing for all our intentions in a special manner. The annual recurrence of these days in the Liturgical cycle should mean much to all Catholics, and in this present year we stand in greater need than ever of the loving providence of God. Certainly God will be more willing to help us if He finds us kneeling before Him, humbly begging His assistance in our necessities.

Vocations

For many, May is the time, when God, through the Blessed Virgin Mary, speaks to their hearts, giving them an invitation to follow more closely in the Son of God's footsteps. "If thou wilt be perfect, come follow Me." Some heed this call generously others spurn it. Some have obstacles placed in their way, oftentimes by those who should be most eager to give encouragement. There was a time when the chief ambition of good Catholic parents was to have a child a religious or a priest. In those days many a Catholic woman mingled with the joyous tears of her new motherhood the more joyous tears of an exalted hope for her babe. And as the child grew in wisdom and age, without forcing it, she tried to incline it to thoughts of holiness. And when in the flush of youthful years, the child left her roof for the novitate, while her friends sympathized with her for her loss and lamented the child as dead, she laughed at their foolishness and exulted in her heart at the child's spiritual dedication to the King. Today, even mothers and fathers, good women and good men, place obstacles in the way of their children's ambition for the closer following of Our Lord. Some forbid the venture in no uncertain terms; others subtly advise delay or postponement, thus perhaps deliberately endangering the vocation, which may be lost. Such parents thwart the will of God, endanger their own and their child's eternal happiness. They sometimes forget, too, that God is the Master; that the Holy Ghost "breatheth wherever He wishes;" that the call to the higher life comes oftener than not in the bud-time of life before the blossom can be tainted by worldliness or sullied by the world's poisonous outpourings. Good Catholics will consider the call to the religious or priestly life enthralling; an honor and special privilege to be picked out for more intimate service in the King's vanguard.

The Bazaar

Springtime at the Gesu means Carnival time. It is the awakening after a long winter's rest from every Parish activity, such as Card Parties, Radio, Suppers, etc. Bazaar features are standard but this year, everyone will have an opportunity of taking away a prize. Besides the Grand Awards incidental to the Bazaar, there are offered individual sellers' prizes. These individual prizes are awarded not to lucky winners but to energetic workers. Good will and work, not chance will permit every member of the Parish to carry home a useful, valuable Bazaar Gift. Donation books have been distributed. Read the instructions carefully and then set your goal for five, ten or more filled books, which will mean just as many handsome prizes and hundreds of shares in the Grand Award drawings. Lets make it a Spring Blitzkrieg!

The Book Rack

BUY! READ! CIRCULATE! Congratulations for the many who patronized the BOOK RACK during Lent. Much good was accomplished by those who passed on their weeklies and pamphlets after reading them. If you have received a copy of "OUR SUNDAY VISITOR" say a prayer for the zealous donor who has paid for these free copies to advertise the excellence of this

Catholic Weekly. After reading the VISITOR pass it on to your neighbor. All Christians can derive profit from its instructive articles. May is the month of OUR LADY. Watch the Book Rack for numerous pamphlets on devotion to her. Spread this devotion by passing on to others pamphlets which explain the devotions to the Blessed Virgin, Queen of May. Remember, BUY! Six Sundays in Honor of St. Aloysius

The first of these Sundays is May 11. This devotion consists in receiving Holy Communion on six consecutive Sundays preceding the feast of St. Aloysius, which occurs on June 21. A plenary indulgence may be gained each Sunday on the usual conditions of Confession and Communion. While this devotion is recommended especially to the youths of both sexes, many an older person will look back through the years and realize what these six Sundays in a strength and purity before the happy days of daily Communion. Many a priest, too, and religious can trace their vocation to the practice of this devotion of the SIX SUNDAYS in honor of St. Aloysius, patron of youth and purity.

Gesu Holy Name Society

The Holy Name Society is moving along slowly. In spite of the efforts made by the officials and the good works performed by the members in the parish yet it is far from what it should be. The Officers are untiring in their efforts to build it up in numbers but yet they are not successful. Appeals are made by the Rev. Director in the monthly messages sent out inviting the members to come to the Banquet table of the Lord but this effects them no more than it would effect a crowd of Communists. About one hundred men had to be taken off the mailing list during the year on account of non-attendance at Communions and meetings. This surely does not speak well for the Catholicity and spirituality of the men of the Gesu parish. The Holy Name Society is the greatest Society for men in the country. It is richly indulged by the Vicar of Christ in order to draw men closer to Christ the King but this does not seem to influence them.

Inspired by the Holy Ghost, we hope, over one hundred and fifty men wrote their names on paper in the presence of God in His Church and promised to join the Society during the late mission. In spite of that promise only a small percentage of them have remembered that they expressed that desire, that they made that promise. Monthly Communion is the principal exercise of the Society and the principal test of the Catholic spirit of the Catholic man. The man who deliberately writes his name on paper to do a thing for his soul and for God and then deliberately refuses to live up to that promise, cannot be regarded as a real Catholic man.

There will be a Communion breakfast for the members of the Society and their friends on the second Sunday in May, Mother's Day, which we hope will be attended by every member. The price, Fifty cents, is put as low as possible. Good speakers, will address the men and a good entertainment will be supplied. This event will be one to be remembered and if you are not present you will be sorry. Remember the place, the High School Cafeteria, the time, right after Communion, on the second Sunday of May, Mother's Day. Tickets are now in circulation. Every member will be contacted by the officers and members of the committee.

Girl Scouts of the Gesu

During the recent months our Girl Scouts were being entertained, at several of our meetings by our Rev. Minister and Prefect of the Church, the Father Dominick Cirigliano. He related to us some very interesting and beautiful short stories which proved to be real historic facts. As we listened attentively to him our minds became more enlightened and our hearts and souls became more and more inflamed with holy love. We trust that Father Cirigliano will find time soon to favor us again with some more beautiful stories.

The other month our Director gave us a talk on transportation as it was carried on some fifty years ago. In the talk he divided the subject into different classes and described the various modes of transportation. In one class the transportation of merchandise was given. In another the transportation of military material. In another again, the transportation of various kinds of animals and finally a description on the transportation of various classes of people.

Since our last regular meeting,

Mr. John E. Martin, a very dear friend of our Girl Scouts, entered into Life Eternal to receive his eternal reward after a very serious illness and after being fully fortified by the reception of the Last Sacraments.

For a number of years Mrs. John E. Martin, the wife of the deceased, has given an active assistance to our troop as one of the Lady Guardians and Patronesses. We tender to Mrs. Martin our sincere sympathy and offer fervent prayers for her deceased husband.

During vacation last, while we Girl Scouts were away on vacation, many improvements were made in our suite; such as the repainting of everything in various tints; the repairing and remodeling of the furniture; the retuning and repairing of the musical instruments, etc. On our return to the rooms we were highly surprised and we admired all the improvements. The expenses incurred were kindly donated as a gift to our Troop.

Scribe,

Girl Scout Troop.

MOTHER'S DAY

On the eleventh day of May comes a day, to which every Mother looks forward. This day is put aside from all the rest and called Mother's Day to make all children remember their mother who loves them so dearly. On this special day we should thank God for giving us such a wonderful person — Our Mother.

Not only our Mother on earth, but also our heavenly Mother looks forward to this day. We have a great many things to thank the Blessed Mother for. In particular, for watching over us and protecting us in our trials and errors. She waits all the year through for this day in which she hopes to hear from all her children, to grant their wishes, and hear their thanks. We shouldn't disappoint her. We should spend some time in talking to her on the day which she has waited for so patiently.

So on May 11, when we remember our dear Mother on earth, please don't forget our other Mother. Our Blessed Mother in heaven.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Being a citizen of the United States is a great privilege. When people think of the things that are happening in Europe they should thank God for making them a member of this wonderful democracy. Here we can share in the freedom of speech, religion and press. We should do all we can to help our country to be the best.

We should learn and practice how to be good citizens at home. The family is the oldest unit of government, because in a family there are different members with one person at the head of them to govern and protect them. Our government rules and protects us. If we are good and obedient at home, we will be good citizens and obey all the laws passed by our government.

The most important thing that helps us to be good citizens is being good Catholics. If we obey the commandments of God and of the Church, we will have no trouble obeying our officials.

We must be loyal to our country and ready to serve her whenever she calls. The things that are necessary to be good Catholics and good citizens are loyalty, obedience, co-operation, reverence and service.

Forty-First Annual Report

OF THE

GESU CHURCH DEBT ASSOCIATION

This Association was organized in February, 1900, by the Rev. Wm. F. Clark, S.J. It has for its object the payment of the annual interest on our heavy Church Debt, and the gradual reduction of the principal itself. The good results looked forward to are being gradually accomplished year after year.

During the year March 1, 1940 to February 28, 1941, as appears from our report, the very generous amount of $2,950.55 was contributed which is an evidence of the devotion and generosity of our people, for which we are sincerely grateful.

Our heartfelt thanks are especially due to the Solicitors, who, week after week, cheerfully go their rounds, undaunted either by the inclemency of the weather or the many other inconveniences of their self-imposed work of zeal.

We ask for our Solicitors a continuance of good will and generosity on the part of our contributors. We ask also that as many parishioners as possible belong to this Association. The work is the work of God, and God, Who loves the cheerful giver, will not fail to bless and sanctify every home in which they are cordially and cheerfully received.

A Modest Funeral Faultlessly Conducted

Recently a family, which had once seen better days, told us they could not afford an expensive funeral. They wanted our advice.

We made recommendations. We handled many necessary details for them. We conducted the funeral with the painstaking care that is given to every FitzPatrick Funeral.

The materials we suggested were in good taste but inexpensive, and the complete cost of our service was only $125.

The letter of appreciation we received from the father we shall prize as long as we remain in business.

To-night I saw you graduate in all your girlish charms,
 You stood there just as lovely as the roses in your arms;
 Your flowing robes, your smiling face, made you a picture sweet,
 No shadow marred your happiness, the world lay at your feet;
 Sometimes when we are happiest, our tears are very near,
 My heart rejoiced with yours tonight, for to me you are dear;
 Yet as I looked, the mists would come and blur you from my sight,
 I wanted so to always keep you happy as to-night;

No sight is more inspiring than Graduates present,
 As they upon Life's Threshold stand, on fame and honor bent,
 They hold Life's Prize within their hands—the treasured gift of Youth—
 Their hearts are stout, they face the world with courage and with truth;
 They vision things their hearts and hands and minds shall one day do,
 Things rare accomplished—laurels won—dreams of success come true;
 May all your dreams be realized along Life's wondrous way,
 And may your heart be always glad as on Commencement Day;

Commencement Day! Ah, that is it—"commence" to live anew
 Your books are closed, you now face Life, resolved to dare and do;
 Hold honor high throughout your life, let nothing mar or stain
 The sweetness of your soul or bring discredit to your name;
 The Golden Rule your standard make, have men respect your word,
 The world needs kindness and your smile; speak not unkind things heard;
 In all you do, keep close to God, His Smile's approval win,
 When from Life's School you graduate, life with God will begin.

To understand the beautiful devotion to the Sacred Heart, we have but to gaze upon any picture of the Sacred Heart. What do we see? A heart, girt about with thorns; a heart dripping blood; a heart from which issues flames; a heart surmounted by a cross.

The Heart is the object of our devotion—the Heart of Jesus, burning with love, as shown by the flames; the Heart of Jesus, bruised and wounded, as shown by the cross, the thorns, the drops of blood. For whom is this Sacred Heart burning with love? For us. Why is it bruised and wounded? Because of our indifference, neglect and ingratitude, especially to our Blessed Lord in the SACRAMENT OF HIS LOVE.

In return for this love, what does this Heart require? LOVE from US. In return for the wounds inflicted on the Sacred Heart, what are we to do? We are to make reparation. Behold then, devotion to the Sacred Heart. It is an act of religion, having for its object the Heart of Jesus, wounded for our sins and burning with love; having for its end reparation and a return of that love.

A return of love to the Heart of Jesus is easily understood. How about reparation? Often an act of love is an act of reparation. We may take it for granted that whenever we turn to the Sacred Heart in love, we are also consoling IT for the coldness, indifference and neglect of mankind.

But there is one species of reparation which is sure, practical and self-evident. It is a reparation which is within the easy reach of all lovers of the Sacred Heart. It consists in observing when in the presence of the Blessed Sacrament, perfect silence, perfect reverence of position, perfect recollection.

Another species of reparation which Our Lord Himself has set down is the Communion of Reparation. In particular, He has specified each First Friday. The devotion of the FIRST FRIDAY is common to all who profess any love at all for the Heart of Jesus; but those who practice special devotion are not satisfied with going to Communion on the First Friday; for them there is the daily Communion of Reparation. In many schools and convents, and Parish Leagues of the Sacred Centers, this daily Communion of Reparation is practiced. Each day, according to assignment, one or more lovers of the Sacred Heart approaches the Holy Table, and so day after day reparation is offered for the coldness, indifference and ingratitude of mankind.

St. John Berchmans Sanctuary Society

The Altar Boys' Society of Gesu Church has always been one of the distinctive features that has lent dignity and solemnity to the services at Gesu Church. Well trained in the art of assisting at the Holy Sacrifice and other Church functions, the Altar Boys lend a dignity to the Divine Service which is appreciated by our Parishioners.

It is only after they have proven themselves by their conduct and by their application to study that our boys are admitted to be candidates for membership in the Altar Boys' Society. After months of preparation, in which they learn to assist at the various offices of the service of God, they are solemnly received into the St. John Berchmans Sanctuary Society.

This year the solemn reception of candidates—J. Kennedy, J. Glasser, T. McGrath, Joseph Alminde, Joseph Leighhardt, J. Rutledge, J. Wetzler, R. Redmond, W. Murphy, J. Connor, M. McHugh, D. Stokes—will take place on Sunday evening, June 8th. Our Parishioners should make an effort to be present on this occasion to witness the beautiful ceremony, as well as to encourage the young men who strive to lend dignity to the service of God.

Speaking of the Altar Boys, we are reminded of the many favorable comments on the new cassocks and surplices, etc. The Society that cares for the altar linens and vestments, etc., although not boasting of a very large membership, has accomplished during the past twelve months, an amount of work vastly disproportionate to its numbers. It is a hidden work, noticed for the most part, only by the Master, Who, through His Church, has promised special Indulgences for all who help in any way, to keep His House and His Altars a worthy dwelling place for the Eucharistic Lord.

The Carnival—June 12 to 21

Since Parish receipts have fallen off alarmingly during the past year, the generous cooperation of all our Parishioners is necessary to make this year's Carnival a big financial success. To stimulate interest, prizes have been multiplied, in truth so many prizes have been offered to generous workers, that many have confessed themselves confused by the multiplicity of awards. A simple way to solve any problem that may exist regarding the awards is to work diligently to fill as many booklets as possible and then leave the rest to the Committee. Remember that the Carnival will be successful only if each one, realizing his duty toward his Parish, will, even at great sacrifice, give his honest and hearty cooperation.

ATTEND THE SACRED HEART NOVENA—JUNE 12 TO 20

How to Spend the Month

To sanctify this month, by making it a month of reparation, the following practices are recommended.

Attend Mass every day and, if possible, receive Communion daily during the month. Make every Communion in the spirit of reparation. A Plenary Indulgence is granted for every Communion thus offered to console the Sacred Heart.

Attend the devotions in the Church, each day after the 8.30 Mass and be sure to make the Novena before the feast, each evening at 8.00 P.M. from June 12th to the 20th.

If you are not able to attend the daily devotions in the Church, hold them at home. Set up in your household a shrine with a statue or a picture of the Sacred Heart and gather the members of your family before it every evening.

All the faithful who honor the Sacred Heart during June by special prayers and pious practices, either publicly or privately, may gain an Indulgence of seven years and seven quarantines once a day. Those who practice this exercise in private each day of the month, or attend the public devotions at least ten times, may gain a Plenary Indulgence at the end of the month. For this Indulgence, Confession and Communion are prescribed and a visit to some Church of public oratory with prayers for the intentions of the Holy Father.

Gesu Girl Scouts

Friday, May 9th, was the occasion of the Girl Scouts' operetta, "Violetta"—the first presentation of this kind by the Scouts. The leading roles were splendidly sung by Joan Rodenbaugh as Violetta or the Princess Marieanne, and Margaret Wade who played King Richard the Lionhearted. Their beautiful rendition of "The Message of the Violet" won them great acclaim. Second leads were sung by Stella Green in the role of Prince Albert and Anne Duffy as Suzanne. Catherine McLaughlin, Mary McLaughlin and Bernadine Murphy ably completed the royal household.

The woodsmen, dressed in Lincoln Green and carrying bows and arrows, thrilled the audience with their stirring rendition of the "Brown October

THE SLIGHTLY DEAF SHOULD CONFESS IN THE RECTORY

Ale." These included Catherine Johnston, Claire Higgins, Marie McBride, Jeanette Casey, Nancy Blaston, Marie Koff, Mary Jane Carr, Margaretta O'Donnell and Nancy Galvin.

The entire production was under the direction of Edna Green who also wrote the script. At the close of the operetta, Miss Green was presented with a beautiful bouquet by Captain A. M. Sweeney on behalf of the cast.

The singers were accompanied by Harriet Mongan, pianist, and Helen Bennett, violinist. Programs were hand painted by Stella Green. It was a thrilling performance and closed with the ensemble singing, "The Message of the Violet."

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

On Wednesday evening, April 16th, the semi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was held, celebrating in a special manner the birthday of our Director, Rev. James I. Maguire, S.J.

A very inspirational talk was given by Rev. John W. Keogh, wherein he spoke of the honor and privilege it was for him to be present on this occasion. He spoke of the great power of the priest. He congratulated Father Maguire and commended him for the wonderful work he has done not only for the Gesu Parish but for the Diocese as well. He spoke, too, of the efforts of Father Maguire to establish in Baltimore the Retreat Movement at a time when little was known about retreats and how successful his efforts had been. He urged the members of our Association to be loyal to Father Maguire and to help him in the work he was striving to do for the good of all.

A delightful entertainment followed Father Keogh's talk and we wish to take this opportunity to thank the following ladies and gentlemen for their kindness in giving so generously of their talent for the pleasure and enjoyment of our guests: Mrs. Joseph Ritter, Miss Margaret Coyle, Mr. Frank Corcoran, Mr. A. Cherricole, not forgetting the children who contributed their share by dancing and singing.

Refreshments, which were prepared by Mrs. N. Boyle and her Assistants, were served after which all joined in the singing of "God Bless America" and "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling."

Mr. John Ryan, Acting President of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association, on behalf of our members, congratulated Father Maguire and wished him Many Happy Returns of the Day.

The Holy Name Society

The men of the Gesu Holy Name Society turned out in goodly numbers for the Communion Breakfast on Mother's Day and all who sacrificed fifty cents and the time admit that they were well repaid. About one hundred and seventy men received Holy Communion and repaired afterwards to the Parochial School Hall where the breakfast was prepared by Mrs. M. McNally, Mrs. M. Rudden, Mrs. A. Boyle, Miss Mary Corcoran, and other good ladies who sacrificed themselves that the men might be taken care of. The young ladies who served did their part nobly. We thank all and congratulate them on the success of the whole affair. The breakfast was everything that even the most fastidious could desire from the material side, and intellectually they were more than repaid.

The Hon. Judge James C. Crumlish, of the Court of Common Pleas, delivered a masterly address, which all enjoyed very much. The advice given was most timely and the information meted out was most beneficial. Our good neighbor and friend Rev. C. H. Reese took the time to be with us and gave sound advice in line with the objects of the Holy Name Society for which we thank him. Rev. Father Rector was able to spend a little while with us and deliver a timely address. The Rev. Director, Father Maguire, followed and closed the exercises in his usual manner.

The Officers and the committee in charge of the tickets deserve praise for the excellent manner in which they handled the tickets and the assistance given the ladies in the preparation of the dining room.

Again we were disappointed by those who had given in their names at the mission to join the Society in their forgetfulness in coming to the banquet of the Lord and gaining blessings for themselves and their Mothers. Not one half of those have seen fit to live up to the promise made in front of the Blessed Sacrament on that solemn occasion.

The Holy Name is calling every man in our parish to join this great organization and show their love for their God and prove in a public way that they are ready to make every sacrifice in order to profess their faith in His Divinity even to the shedding of their blood if necessary.

Your Wedding Day

Your Wedding Day! How sweet the words sound now within your ears,
Oh, may they always bring you joy throughout the coming years;
And may the hearts you place today within each other's hand,
Be always cherished and kept staunch with love that understands;
And may the Sun of Happiness keep shining through the years,
To light the Road of Life for you with smiles and never tears;
But if the sun is dimmed at times, or even clouds you know,
Remember rain is needed too, to make the roses grow;

So keep alive the love now pledged; its faith and trust will cheer,
And make your life a Golden Chain, with links of Happy Years;
May God, Who is the Source of Love, and brought love to your hearts,
Be always near to guide you right and of your lives be part;
And as He hovers near you now, and listens to your vows,
May He grant blessings all through life to keep you close as now;
And when the years have run their course, and Twilight Time is here,
May Bride and Groom be Sweethearts still, love mellowed with the Years.

—WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

God, Thank Thee for America!

God, thank Thee for America; this prayer comes from my heart,
And for Thy gifts and blessings, too, in which we all have part;
While other lands in darkness grope, denied things men hold dear,
Their loved ones lost, their sons at war, their hearts weighed down with fear;
Their homes destroyed, their churches burned, for them no peace or rest,
War's tragic toll has reached and claimed all things they once possessed;
With savings gone, and lands and farms, now hunger's pangs they feel,
And hearts once happy now are crushed with wounds that will not heal;

While in this blessed land we have all things they are denied,
The peace and quiet of our homes, our loved ones by our side;
The right is ours to serve Thee, Lord, as hearts and souls dictate,
And not to have Thee brushed aside to serve a God called "State";
We have the right to dream and plan; to work, to do, to dare,
To speak our minds, enact the laws which rule our country fair;
Here men receive an honest wage, with time to rest and play,
There are no heights we cannot scale, hands helping all the way;

The pity is that there are men who all these gifts enjoy,
Yet traitors to their country prove, and would Her peace destroy;
Strike from their eyes, Lord, scales that blind, so they the truth may see,
And know that only in this land are all men truly free;
America, within our hearts Thy Name lives as a Shrine,
Wherein we place our love, our faith, all that we have is Thine.
God, thank Thee for America, Thy Gift of priceless worth,
Which gives us while we still are here a Paradise on earth.

The Month of the Precious Blood

July is consecrated to the memory and honor of the Precious Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ. On the first day of the month occurs the great Feast of the Precious Blood. This feast owes its origin to the devotion to the saintly Pope Pius IX, who instituted it in 1850, primarily for the members of the Archconfraternity of the Precious Blood, who can gain a plenary indulgence on that day by going to Holy Communion in any church where the Archconfraternity exists. But in order to promote devotion to the Precious Blood the Sovereign Pontiffs have granted sheddings offered by the Redeemer for the forgiveness of our sins. First was the Circumcision. Then the Agony in the Garden, when His sweat was drops of blood, trickling to the ground. After that the Scourging, Pilate's weak and shameful attempt to soften the hearts of the persecutors. Then the Crowning of His Blessed Head with torturing thorns. Then the stripping off of His garments from the sensitive body, left raw and mangled by the scourging. In the sixth place the piercing of iron nails through the sacred hands and feet. And finally, the deep spear-thrust through the Sacred Heart, and the outpouring of the last, last drop of the Precious Blood, for the redemption of our iniquities and the forgiveness of our sins.

Why is the blood of Jesus called the Precious Blood? Because, writes Father Clarke, S.J., it was the blood of God Himself veiled under the form of man, and therefore every drop of it as it flowed through His sacred veins deserves our supreme homage, as being united to His divinity. Hence we can adore the Precious Blood as we adore the Sacred Heart of Jesus.

We also term it the Precious Blood inasmuch as it was the blood of One who was not only full of grace, but was Himself the Source of all grace, so that the grace that dwelt with Him was definite, and that grace that manifested itself through the veil of flesh had no bounds or limits, save those that the mere fact of His human nature carried with it. If, therefore, the blood of saints is counted as most precious, if we treasure up a piece of cloth stained with their blood, how much more is the blood of the King of saints precious beyond all price?—Selected.

Christian Doctrine Confraternity

His Eminence, Cardinal Dougherty, has requested the establishment in every parish of this diocese, of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, in accordance with Church Law. More popularly this Confraternity is known as the Religious Vacation School. It is intended for all Catholic children attending the public elementary schools. The school will open in all parishes on Monday, July 7th, and end Friday, August 1st. The sessions will be held only in the morning, i. e., from 9.00 o'clock every day of the week excepting Saturday and Sunday, in the boys' school building, 17th and Stiles Streets. To insure success for this Vacation School, the cooperation of all the parish-ioners is necessary. Parents who send their children to the public elementary schools should insist that their children attend these classes. Parish-ioners who know of any Catholic children for whom the school is intended should notify the Pastor and if possible, also try to persuade parents to take advantage of the Vacation Schools.

Seventh Grade Girls

Their motto seems to be "Always on Top." All during the school year they have cooperated 100% in all school activities and on June 8th, Graduation Day, they entertained the Graduates at a first class breakfast prepared and served by the members of the class. Even the Graduates were surprised to be guests of honor at a breakfast that resembled a veritable banquet. Congratulations girls! May others imitate your example.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The semi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association, held on May 21st, in the High School Building on Stiles Street, was particularly interesting because we were privileged to have as our guest speaker, Mr. Fred R. Walters, Chief Inspector of the Federal Housing Administration. Mr. Walters entertained our members and their friends by lecturing on "Better Housing in Philadelphia" and "Crime Prevention and the Protection of Boys." Both lectures were illustrated and in the first pictures Mr. Walters showed various slum districts in Philadelphia. These pictures were followed by pictures of several new housing projects throughout the city. His second picture emphasized the great need for good homes and the direct result the home has on children. The speaker stated that good homes safeguard children from undesirable influences of the street and that the safest atmosphere for children is a good home. He stated too that much wrongdoing can be prevented by a good home. We feel sure that our friends were well repaid for their attendance by both the lecture and the pictures.

Vacation time is here once again in full swing and we hope to bring our members together throughout the summer months by little parties now and then. We extend to all our members and their friends a most cordial invitation to attend these affairs. We urge all our members to keep their interest alive in our activities during the summer and to call upon our officers for their cooperation, as they will be available at all times to render assistance.

We take this opportunity to again express our thanks to all who have continued their efforts during the past year to further the work of this Association.

Gesu Young Men's Sodality

The Annual Communion-Breakfast of the Gesu Young Men's Sodality was held on Sunday morning, the 1st of June, in the Gesu Parochial Building. Holy Mass was celebrated by the Moderator of the Sodality, Rev. Dominic A. Cirigliano, S.J., in the beautifully decorated Sodality Chapel.

Immediately following the Mass and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, an elaborate breakfast was served in the Gesu Parochial School Hall directly above the Sodality Chapel.

With Joseph F. Monaghan, prefect of the Sodality, acting as Toastmaster, the following invited guests addressed the gathering: Very Rev. Thomas J. Love, S.J., Judge Vincent A. Carroll, Rev. James I. Maguire, S.J., Dr. Sylvester Deehan, Mr. Stephen P. Whelan and Father Cirigliano.

On behalf of the Sodality, Father Cirigliano expressed many thanks and grateful acknowledgment to William and Vincent Kohl for their untiring efforts and many contributions to the success of the Sodality and the Sodality Chapel.

At the conclusion of the breakfast, awards were distributed to the Sodality members who were regular and faithful in attendance to Sodality Meetings during the year. Plans were discussed and formulated for an adequate celebration of the Golden Anniversary of the Sodality to be held next year.

—Joseph F. Monaghan.

A Voice

How many times have you heard a voice in your heart saying to you, "If I live as I am living now, shall I make a good end? I desire to die the death of the just, but have I begun to live the life of the just?" Our Lord has said: "Behold, I stand at the gate and knock!" Have I yet opened to Him? There has been a hand knocking at the door of your heart all your life long. He has been calling you to turn from sin. He has been saying continually in a clearer voice, "The wages of sin is death," and "The soul that sinneth, it shall die." These two voices have come upon your heart many and many a time in youth and manhood, by day and by night. And these are the voice of the Holy Ghost, the voice of the Counsellor.

—Manning.

The Jesuits

The conversion of Ignatius of Loyola from the pleasures of the world to a zeal for heaven occurred a few years before the birth of Cervantes. Before Cervantes was in manhood, the order of the Jesuits had become a wonder among men. The conservative spirit of the converted soldier was holding an obstinate encounter with the revolutionary spirit of the innovating monk (Luther). Yet this encounter was but a portion of its work. Wonderful indeed was the order of the Jesuits. Ubiquitous in presence, it stood by the throne of kings; it entered into their secret chambers; it lectured in colleges; it taught in schools; it sat by the bed of the noble and the beggar; it conversed with the American Indian in his hut. From Delhi to Pekin, and from the Canadas to Peru, you may find its track where missionary had never left a print before. Briarean in skill, it had hands for a hundred arts—to forge a cannon or to make a pin—to raise a tent or to build a temple—ready to paint the likeness of a Chinese monarch's stupid face or to take the measure of the stars.

More than Protean in variety of adaptation, there was no nation or class to whose manners it could not conform and with whose speech it was not familiar. It wore the vesture of Bramin, Bonze and Mandarin with the grace of native habit, and it spoke their formidable dialects with the ease of native instinct. Invincible of spirit as it was universal in genius, it had the courage to dare and it had the ability to direct. When it failed, it had strength still in reserve to sustain it in endurance and to crown it with the victory of martyr death.

—Henry Giles.

A Word to the Parents of School Children

It is more necessary for parents to watch over their children during vacation than during school days. Remember your duty as parents.

As most of the dangers of youth arise from associations acquired during vacation, keep your children out of bad company.

Parents should know the many dangers that children are exposed to during this time and take measures to remove them.

The following points are important for parents to remember, more perhaps during vacation than at any other time:

1. Have the children say their morning and night prayers faithfully.
2. Be sure that they go to Mass every Sunday.
3. Keep informed as to where your children are during the day, and see that they are in proper company.
4. Oblige them to be in the house in the evening; don't let them run the streets at night.
5. If they belong to the sodality, have them receive Communion with the sodality on their Communion Sunday.

Don't let your children miss Sunday Mass during vacation.

Our Lady's Visitation

On Tuesday, July 2nd, the Church celebrates the Feast of Our Lady's Visitation to her cousin, St. Elizabeth. Among the common courtesies and duties of social life are visits to relatives and friends. Reflections on our dear Lady's Visitation might teach us how to sanctify these visits and make them fruitful of something better than idle gossip or mere amusement. Learning that her cousin needed her help, the Blessed Virgin made the four days' journey at the cost of considerable inconvenience to herself. God's blessing went with her. The fruits of the visit were the sanctification of St. John the Baptist, the revelation of the Incarnation made to St. Elizabeth and our Blessed Mother's beautiful song of thanksgiving, the Cantic of the Magnificat. Besides these were marvelous graces given to the family of St. Elizabeth and the merit gained by the practice of charity, humility and other virtues. Would that our visits might have such blessed results!

Be Careful!

Vacation time is a period of rest and relaxation. Those who are fortunate enough to be able to take a vacation, should also be sane enough to enjoy it reasonably. God has provided abundantly means for our recreation and pleasure. While we make the most of them, let not the Divine Source whence they come be forgotten.

The watchword of every sane vacationist should be "Care, Caution, Consideration." Care, first of all, of spiritual health. There should be no rest, no relaxation, no let-down in our simple duties to Almighty God. With the dangers attendant upon the enjoyment of God's good gifts, vacation makes all the more necessary the care of our spiritual interests. Daily prayers, Sunday Mass, the regular reception of Penance and Holy Communion are essentials of spiritual good health. They ought not to be neglected. This is true for adults. It is more true for children. Free from the discipline of home and school life, children are apt to be forgetful and careless of their religious obligations. Parental supervision and discipline is more necessary in the summer time than at any other time of the year.

Caution with respect to spiritual and physical dangers is elemental in vacation time. Free and easy associations at resorts, in travelling, and in socializing produce serious moral hazards. Standards of decency, of morality and of faith command observance more in the relaxed atmosphere of vacation than in the year-round life at home. Adults should set the example for the young and immature. Common sense should be exercised, in driving, swimming, exercising, keeping always a sense of the dangers to life and limb through recklessness and indiscretion. The same common sense, with respect to moral dangers of one kind or another should forbid taking any chances which might result in spiritual or moral disaster.

Consideration for the rights and for the safety of others should be exercised all along the line. Tragedies result inevitably from selfishness, thoughtlessness and lack of consideration for others. The practice of Christian Charity is more imperative during vacation because the motive of self-interest and self-indulgence is more prevalent in vacation than, perhaps, any other time.

One special word to mothers with respect to the matter of dress. There is no necessary relationship between nakedness and keeping cool. The tendency towards undress on the streets and at the seashore is not a healthy tendency. It is a concession to the paganism of the times. It involves exposure of children, especially, to physical and moral menace of a violent type. Sanity dictates that, with all attention to comfort and coolness, decency in dress be observed, good example given by adults and children be protected against physical and moral danger.

Feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel

On the Feast of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, July 16, a plenary indulgence is granted to members of the Archconfraternity of Mount Carmel, that is, all who wear the Brown Scapular. Among the many privileges granted by the Popes to wearers of the Brown Scapular is a plenary indulgence EVERY WEDNESDAY IN THE YEAR (Maurel), provided the usual conditions are observed. The visit during which the prayers for the Pope are said must be made in a Carmelite church if there be one in the city; if not, it may be made in any church.

Only the original scapular received on the day of admission to the Archconfraternity requires the blessing of a priest. When this is lost or becomes unfit for use another may be procured and put on, even if it is unblessed. It should be worn over the shoulders and CONSTANTLY, day and night, in sickness as well as in health. If laid aside, even for a day, the indulgences for that day are forfeited. The scapular medal, if blessed by an authorized priest, may be worn by anyone who has been enrolled.

Congressman Introduces Resolution to Aid Missionaries

Representative Martin J. Kennedy has introduced a resolution calling on the chairman of the Committee on Merchant Marine to invite to a conference government officials who have jurisdiction over transportation to foreign countries and representatives of all the foreign missionary societies.

The purpose of the conference will be to determine the necessity of new legislation which shall protect our missionaries by arranging for the normal flow of mission supplies during these abnormal times.

Congressman Kennedy states that "there are thousands of American citizens, men and women, Catholic and Protestant, engaged in missionary work in countries in which it is now almost impossible to obtain the essential supplies required for the proper conduct of their religious activities.

"Because of world conditions, the burden of supporting and extending the influence of our missionaries has fallen upon the people of this country, and I sincerely believe that every American acquainted with their work will be most anxious to have adequate provision made on our steamers for shipments of supplies to the missionaries."

Those interested in mission problems are invited to write to the Honorable Martin J. Kennedy, House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., to express appreciation of this effort to help the missions during these critical times.

A Soul Goes Home

So this is it—the thing called Death—that all my life brought fears;
That always, when its thought would come, changed laughter into tears;
I always thought how weird 'twould be to leave all things behind
To venture forth on unknown paths and unknown things to find;
But now it's here, and soon I'll go where millions through the years,
Have gone to find Life's answer in eternal joys or tears;
The real seems oh so different from what I thought 'twould be,
I feel no terrors, anguish, pain, as Death approaches me;

Instead I feel a quiet calm, a sense of peace and rest,
As life fades out like sunshine fades each twilight in the West;
So unimportant now seem things I spent my life to gain,
The wealth I craved, the world's applause, its honor and its fame;
Like echoes from a distant shore they seem to call "Adieu,"
These things that once made up my life—ambitions that I knew;
Now faces long unseen draw near, to greet me at the end,
My parents dear, my kinsfolk all, and every old-time friend;

Christ came in sweet Viaticum to cheer and bring me peace,
And light the way through death when He shall give my soul release;
God's Justice now seems far away, His Mercy oh so near,
It gives to dying souls a Hope surpassing all their fear;
O, Mary, all through life You were a Mother sweet and true,
Tell Jesus now, as death draws near, that I belong to You;
Thy servant now is ready, Lord; remember not my guilt,
Into Thy Hands I give my soul, do with me what Thou wilt.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

The Assumption

IN AUGUST WE CELEBRATE OUR BLESSED MOTHER'S long holiday, her ASSUMPTION, August 15th. It is the month of her great everlasting joy. Mary's joy began on earth. The Incarnate Word dwelt within her breast. The joy of His presence filled her soul. Union with God was an ocean of unfathomable joy, which even her greatest sorrow could not exhaust. After the Annunciation, Mary went to visit Elizabeth. The Visitation is a mystery of exquisite joy, for the Mother of God was in a household of saints. No discordant note was heard; that had been silenced. Poor Zachary, for a time, was dumb, but not deaf, for he learnt from Our Blessed Lady the true use of the tongue; to praise and thank God in humility of heart. When he recovered his speech he uttered his beautiful canticle, the Benedictus, an echo, in great part, of Mary's glorious Magnificat, which reveals the sources of Mary's gladness; her praise of God, her thanksgiving, her deep humility. Mary ever brings joy to the pure of heart, for she brings Jesus as she brought Him to John the Baptist, to Elizabeth, and to Zachary. Mary is truly the cause of our joy.

Among the Jews, marriage was a very joyous celebration. What must have been the joy at Cana, when Jesus and Mary were among the guests! What it meant to Mary! The lonely months had seemed so long since Jesus had left her for "His Father's business." Now they were again together. She treasured every word; she watched His every look and gesture. Absorbed in Him Whom she so loved, she was mindful of all around. She noticed that the wine was failing. Determined to spare her host confusion she appealed to Him Who could never refuse His Mother. "They have no wine." How well she knew Jesus. No need to insist. She understood His answer. To many it would seem a refusal, but not to His Mother.

If we are wise, we shall take our holidays with Jesus and Mary, and never shall we regret this resolution. From Our Blessed Lady we shall learn the secret of her gladness; the Presence of Jesus and her union with God: "the stream of the river maketh the city of God joyful." Her humility and unselfishness were a source of joy to all. If we could only learn that lesson of unselfishness! Selfishness, self-will and sin are the great blots on man's life. Self-indulgence leads to sin, unrepenting sin leads to eternal ruin. With most of us, self is the master. Our efforts must be to make God the master of our heart, and self His servant.

Mary's joy is full. She was carried up to heaven by rejoicing angels. God Himself welcomed her in these words; "Come from Libanus, my spouse, . . . come!"

The beloved disciple of Jesus and the devoted son of Mary was granted a vision of her glory in heaven, to console him in his lonely old age in the dreary exile of this world. He saw "a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and on her head a crown of twelve stars."

Parish Notes

A Letter From Father Love

Dear Parishioners:

A little over two and one-third years have elapsed since my coming here as Pastor of the Gesu. The wonderful traditions of this Parish have become almost legendary in the Society and it was with a definite feeling of awe, that I assumed the responsibilities as Pastor. Since that first day, the people of the Gesu have more than justified their reputation for generosity, loyalty and self-sacrificing spirit. One might travel far or near, without finding their superior.

In no single instance, have I asked for the help and support of the people of the Parish and have not received a wholehearted response. For this, I am grateful to God and to you, our parishioners.

Whatever may be the nature of my future work, I shall always hold in grateful remembrance the people of the Gesu Parish. God bless you all.

Devotedly in Our Lord,

(Rev.) THOMAS J. LOVE, S.J.

Obituary

Mrs. Mary J. Foley, who died June 16, 1941, was at the time of her death—Prefect of the Gesu Married Women's Sodality—having held the position for a few years during which time she endeared herself to its members by her untiring zeal for the welfare of the Sodality.

Her Funeral took place on June 20th, and was largely attended by Sodality members. A fitting tribute to Our Beloved Prefect.

She is survived by her husband, 3 sons and 3 daughters. May she rest in peace.

Solemnization of the Feast of St. Ignatius, Sunday, August 3rd, Solemn High Mass at 10.45. Sermon by Father McIntyre.

Miraculous Medal Devotions; Sunday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Thursday, August 14th, Vigil of the Feast of the Assumption, day of Fast and Abstinence.

Friday, August 15th, Holyday of Obligation. Meat may be eaten on this day.

Reminders

- 1—Come to Mass on Time. Late comers give disedification and cause disturbance.
- 2—The prayers after Mass should be answered by all in an audible tone.
- 3—When the Priest enters the Sanctuary all should stand.
- 4—Do not leave before the Mass is ended. Remain in your place after Mass until the Priest has left the Sanctuary.
- 5—Children should attend the 8.30 o'clock Mass.
- 6—Remember that the Church is a house of prayer, not a gossip exchange.
- 7—The Pastor should be notified when parishioners change their address.

The Eighteenth and Thompson Streets Credit Union

Many times it has been said to the members and officers of our Parish Credit Union: "We never heard of the existence of such a thing."

In February of 1939 under the able guidance of the Rev. James I. Maguire, S.J. this Credit Union was organized. Father Maguire zealously obtained the necessary incorporators and applied for and secured the Charter under which the Credit Union is operated from the Farm Administration Bureau, Washington, D. C. Under close supervision at all times and wisely advised by a staff of auditors and administrators furnished by the Federal Government, our Credit Union, has made remarkable progress.

It is here for the accommodation of our Parishioners to encourage and help them to save systematically and should the need arise to loan them the necessary money to meet their demands. A very low interest is charged and the payments are made convenient to suit their income.

Since organization we have loaned approximately $25,000 to about 318 members of our Parish.

The officers are most willing to explain in detail anything you may wish to know about our Credit Union. We meet each Friday from 7 to 9.30 P. M. in St. Joseph's High School Building, Seventeenth and Stiles Streets.

Come in and join. You may deposit as low as 25 cents at a time or as much more as your circumstances will permit. It will surprise you to see how quickly small amounts grow large. When you are an established member you may avail yourself of a loan, if necessary, at a very small rate of interest.

The Eighteenth and Thompson Streets Federal Credit Union, was organized for the convenience of the people of our Parish. Do your part to make it a big success. Come in and join and tell your neighbors and friends all about this organization established for the good of our people.

Gesu Girl Scouts

June 26, the Troop held its annual court of awards in connection with a Mother-Daughter Banquet. The dinner was a grand success due to the untiring efforts of our Captain and Mrs. Koff, mother of one of the scouts. Among our guests were Rev. Father Love and Father Dominic Cirigliano. After the dinner Father Rector presented a ten year service pin to Harriet Mongan and one to Edna Green for six years service. A second-class insignia was awarded to Ruth Baskin. Captain Sweeney received as new scouts: Helen Bennett, Marie McBride, Mary Carr, May Kelleher and Mary McLaughlin. Brother Stengel awarded the merit badge for cooking to Nancy Blaston, Marie Koff, Jeanette Casey, Anne Foley and Joan Radenbaugh; for first aid, to Margaretta O'Donnell; for housekeeping, to Anne Foley; and for winter sports to Regina Stone.

A badge for troop service was awarded to Edna Green, Regina Stone and Rebecca McConnell; and for interior decorating, to Stella Green and Joan Radenbaugh; merit badges were also awarded to Stella Green for drawing and painting, and to Edna Green for play directing and dramatic appreciation.

Father Cirigliano spoke very fittingly of the three fold promise of the scouts—to do their duty to God, country and society.

Regular troop meetings have been discontinued for the summer, but the girls are attending Scout Day Camps in Fairmount Park. Here a wide variety of subjects is offered and a girl may work in any group that interests her. Weekly meetings will be resumed in September.

EDNA M. GREEN,
Girl Scout Scribe.

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association

The Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association has been holding weekly meetings for the past month and various activities have been discussed from time to time.

We are pleased to announce that Miss May Flanagan has been appointed Financial Secretary, succeeding Mrs. Neal Boyle, who is now Vice President in charge of Housing. We feel confident that these two officers will continue the splendid work they have thus far done for this Association. Mr. John Ryan, formerly Vice President in charge of Housing has been appointed President, succeeding Mr. John E. Martin, deceased. Mr. Ryan's experiences have well qualified him for his new office, and self-sacrificing as he is in the interests of the members of this Association, he needs the assistance and co-operation of all tenants and owners. We therefore urge for Mr. Ryan the united support of all our members and non-members.

We are looking forward with eager anticipation to the Nights of Pleasure we plan giving during the summer months to bring our members and their friends together for a little recreation during the vacation period. Games, refreshments and prizes will be among the attractions. Do not fail to attend these events, as they are a means of helping your Association in several ways. These affairs will be held rain or shine, as we have ample facilities for taking care of our guests no matter what the weather may be. We hope that large crowds will be in attendance. We hope that all will interest themselves in the disposal of tickets, donations of prizes or refreshments, and encouraging others to become members of this Association if they have not already done so. We need a large membership to carry on the work we have tried to do. So do your part to insure the success of these social events.

Our Officers will be glad to render assistance at all times, as they are trying to keep in contact with tenants and owners. If you need an apartment or a house, they may be able to tell you where to find one. So do not hesitate to consult them.

A Word to Some Parents of the Parish

It is the parents' duty to choose which school their children shall attend. Moreover, an obligation rests on the conscience of the Catholic parents to select a school where the moral faculties of their children will be properly trained. Public schools do not train the moral and supernatural powers of a child. They do not pretend to, for they can't. But Catholic schools can, and they do it. Therefore, the Catholic school is the proper place for a Catholic child.

Parents must not deceive themselves. They must not flatter themselves that they are competent to give the necessary religious instruction to their children, if they are not. Let us suppose that they had sufficient knowledge of their faith to explain the Catechism, would they do so? How many of them would take the time and trouble to instruct their little ones? How many of them would, night after night, gather their children around them and instruct each child according to its mental capacity and its moral needs? Furthermore, let us bear in mind, that this instruction must be carried on, not in fits and starts, but day after day, and that, too, not merely for a month, or a year, or two, but for eight, ten or twelve consecutive years. The writer of these lines knows of no Catholic parents who are thus instructing their children. Does the reader know of any? It's unlikely.

Catholic parents of this parish know that there is not the shadow of an excuse why any Catholic child of this parish should be sent to a public school. Parents who should do so in the face of the solemn obligation that rests upon them are offending God and robbing their own children of their most precious heritage. They are jeopardizing, and for a whim, their child's eternal destiny. How dare they do it? Is Christ pleading for such parents, as He once did nineteen centuries ago for some of His chosen people, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do?"

The Modern Peril—Education Without Christ

What is the gravest of modern peril? Clearly it is education without Christ. The irreligious press has power chiefly over those formed in the irreligious school. It is this alone which has brought the world to its present pass, with revolution fomentive in every state, with confiscation, robbery, violence and lust openly preached from the public platform and taught in the very classroom. We call it liberty of speech. We give it high-sounding, scientific names. Officers of the law and representatives of the people do not, as a rule dare to interfere. They themselves have been shorn of all their power by the education of today. There is no authority upon earth unless it comes from God. Even, therefore, though religion is merely ignored in our school without being actually opposed, every reason for obedience, law and order has been taken away. In spite of fine phrases, anarchy remains the only logical rule of civil life. Each man may follow his own unbridled instincts.

Irreligious education is, therefore, the peril of our time. All neutral education, as Our Lord Himself has taught us, is of a class with it. In our day the devil is leaving no means untried to destroy the Church. But the first and principal means to bring this about is education without Christ. In school and press it is carried on a relentless war.

More than ever, therefore, is the formation of character in the Catholic school, college and university of the utmost importance for the welfare of our nation. But even this alone will not suffice. The influence of the press must likewise be taken into account. It continues with us through all the years of our lives. The indifferentism, therefore, of Catholics who neglect their press is second only to the criminality of the Catholic parents who send their children to the so-called neutral schools and universities. All the world is alive to the power of the school and the press. Let Catholics not ignore it.—America.

A Mother's Reverie

Straight from the Heart of God you came, Baby O' Mine to me,
To live in mine through all life's days, and through Eternity;
God sends to Mothers babes like you, so we may know, in part,
The depth of Love He has for us within His Sacred Heart;
For Mother Love comes nearest to the Love of Christ we know,
It is a portion of His Heart, sparks from the Sacred Glow;
That's why I love you, Baby Mine, with love I never knew,
That's why I thank God day and night for His great gift of you;

I dream—as Mothers always dreamed with babies in their arms—
Of future years—and comes the Prayer: "God keep you safe from harm;"
So much depends upon me now, to guide your feet aright,
To keep you ever fine and pure and pleasing in God's Sight;
Outside the world is waiting, dear, with all its snares and sin,
It can be so unkind to those who try its fame to win;
Temptations' lure will cross your path, companions bad you'll meet,
The stony path will seem so hard—the rosy one look sweet;

Hold truth and honor always high, keep from you things that shame,
Live so the world can never bring dishonor to your name;
Make Mother always proud of you; the world does blame or praise
The Mother of the man they know who is the boy she raised;
I think of Heaven when you smile—your eyes so soft and blue
Make me feel I am watching skies, with God's Face smiling through;
God, bless my Babe, make him the man that Thou wouldst have him be,
And grant no matter what life brings, he shall prove staunch to Thee.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

SACRED HEART NOVENA, FRIDAY, 5.30 and 8.00 P. M.

The Sorrows of Mary

During September we are expected to renew the memory of the principal sorrows that cast a gloom across the path of Our Mother's earthly pilgrimage. These severe afflictions were seven in number, namely, the prophecy of holy Simeon, the flight into Egypt, the loss of the Child Jesus in the Temple, the meeting of Jesus and Mary on the road to Calvary, the Crucifixion, the taking down from the Cross and the Entombment.

They are like seven fountains of liquid tonic set in the Church's Garden of Consolation, from which the troubled and distressed soul may draw deep draughts of solace, and come away strengthened in body and mind to meet and bear the trials and tribulations of life. There is food for pious meditation and balm of comfort in every sorrow. What a source of soothing strength and courage in the thought that the Master of hearts kept His own Blessed Mother at the foot of the Cross! Though He exempted her by singular privilege from the stain of Adam's sin, He permitted her to suffer some of its evil consequences. Christ and His Mother! Who ever suffered more than they Who were holier and less deserving of suffering? Who were nearer and dearer to God? Who bore sufferings with greater patience and holier resignation? Who suffered more and all of it for others, for us? The reflection is wholesome and salutary. Applied personally, why should I, sinful creature that I am, repine at my just deserts? Why should I complain at the lot that fell to Jesus and Mary? Why should I niggardly refuse to put up with a little pain for the Mother and the Son who so generously underwent untold torments for me?

Suffering is the badge of all our tribe. There is no age, no condition of life that is free from it. "Our present life," writes St. Augustine, "is a weary pilgrimage—fugitive, uncertain, wearisome; it exposes us to the contagion of every vice and every crime, and entails upon us every kind of misery and misfortune. It ought not to be called life, but death." As children of affliction, then, we should realize that the Mother of Sorrows is our Mother; that she loves us and has a heart full of the sympathy of one who has known and felt the pangs of silent grief.

Go, then, in confidence to the Mother of Sorrows with your burden of sorrow. Lay it at her feet and rise from your knees, if not entirely freed from it, at least strengthened with her strength to bear it patiently and meritoriously.

Parish Notes

Our New Rector

The separation of St. Joseph's College from the High School and Parish projected as far back as 1928 when the new building at City Line was opened, brought nearer realization last year with the removal of the College Faculty to its new residence in Merion, was completed with the appointment of Rev. Thomas J. Love as President of St. Joseph's College and Rev. John P. Smith, S.J., President of St. Joseph's High School and Pastor of Gesu Parish, July 22, 1941.

Father Smith comes to us from Georgetown University, where he was professor of mathematics and student counsellor. A native of Philadelphia, he was educated in the Cathedral School, Roman Catholic High School and St. Joseph's College. He entered the Society of Jesus in 1910, completed his philosophical and Theological studies at Woodstock College, Maryland and was ordained Priest in 1924 by Archbishop Curley. For thirteen years he was head of the department of mathematics at St. Peter's College. He has also filled teaching assignments in the field of mathematics at Boston College, Holy Cross College and St. Joseph's College. Member of the American Association of Jesuit Scientists, American Mathematical Society and the Mathematical Association of America, Father Smith will have a practical outlet for his mathematical knowledge in solving the many intricate problems that exist here in Parish and High School.

St. Joseph's Preparatory School and Gesu Parish welcome Father Smith and look forward to a new era of prosperity under his able and experienced guidance.

Sermons for September

Sunday	9.30	10.45
Sept. 21	Rev. Fr. Rector	Fr. Cosgrove
Sept. 28	Fr. Devereux	Fr. Maguire

The Miraculous Medal Devotions will be conducted every Sunday evening at 7.30 by Fr. Ciri, Prefect of Church.

On Friday, September 5th, Rev. Fr. Rector will inaugurate a perpetual Novena in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus. There will be two services every Friday, 5.30 and 8.00 P. M.

Friday, September 19th. Bona Mors Devotions 8.30 P. M.—Fr. Dawson.

The Parochial School

The Parochial School will reopen on Tuesday, September 2. Parents should see to it that their children report on the opening day so that class work may begin promptly.

Regular Order

The vacation schedule of services ends and the REGULAR ORDER of Masses and services begins on Sunday, September 21. On that day the last Mass will be a High Mass and will begin at 10.45. Sodalties and other church organizations will also resume their meetings during the week beginning with the 21st.

Ember Days

EMBER DAYS are days of Fast and Abstinence and were instituted to thank God for His gifts of nature, and to teach us to use them for the service of God. By EMBER DAYS we mean the three fast days—Wednesday, Friday and Saturday—which occur four times during the year. One of these four times is the week following the feast of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, September 14th. This month therefore, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, September 17th, 19th and 20th will be EMBER DAYS. They are FAST days that is, days on which ONLY ONE FULL MEAL IS ALLOWED to those who are not excused from fasting. They are also ABSTINENCE DAYS, that is, days on which all who are not excused from abstinence are obliged to abstain from meat. By special concession to working people and their families, meat is allowed at the one full meal on Wednesday and Saturday.

The hard-of-hearing should confess in the Rectory.

Convert Class

On September 2nd, the Fall class for prospective converts will begin. The classes will be held in the Rectory every Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock. Those wishing to take advantage of these classes should make an effort to attend the classes from the opening day. Parishioners who know of any non-Catholics who would profit by these instructions should use all their powers of persuasion to have them attend on September 2nd. To give these instructions we are very fortunate in having Father Dawson, outstanding Theologian, Philosopher and Scientist, whose keen logic is a match for deep rooted prejudice; his clear thinking and concise manner of presentation capable of dissolving the most befuddled doubt. Remember classes begin September 2nd, at 8.00 P. M.

Miraculous Medal Novena Devotions

BEGINNING WITH THE FIRST SUNDAY IN SEPTEMBER the Miraculous Medal Novena Devotions will begin at Seven-thirty o'clock P. M. (7.30) instead of 8 o'clock. One Father, namely, Father Dominic Cirigliano, Prefect of the Church, will conduct the Novena Services, throughout the entire year. Father Ciri, as we of the parish know him, has conducted the Miraculous Novena Services in New York successfully for a number of years. He will adhere to the traditional services, namely, lasting strictly one-half hour. The services will begin at 7.30 so that the people could make other Sunday night appointments after 8 o'clock.

The Parochial School

Our Parochial School will open on Tuesday, September 2nd. Parents are reminded that it is their duty to have their children on hand at the opening bell. If they sincerely have their children's best interests at heart, they will not waste time in idle gossip, or criticism of the decisions of those in charge of Catholic Education in the Diocese; they will obey with eagerness and enthusiasm and gratitude for the opportunity offered them for giving their children the best possible education.

THE BEST GRAMMAR SCHOOLS IN THE UNITED STATES ARE THE CATHOLIC PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS. There are few statements easier to prove than this very simple and straightforward one. It would take a book to contain the whole proof of this statement so we shall be content with a few bits of the proof:

1. The teaching in the Catholic Schools is most complete. It takes in the soul as well as the mind; it is moral as well as intellectual. What that means for our boys and girls is evident at once; evident not merely to Catholics, but to every thinking person. From our Presidents down, public men are bewailing today the absence of moral teaching in the public schools of the country. It is being recognized as obvious to all that an education which takes no account of God Almighty, of our duties to Him, of His worship, is not the proper one.

2. OUR CATHOLIC SCHOOLS HAVE THE BEST TEACHING STAFF. Our schools are conducted by men and women who sacrifice their lives for the work of teaching; who seek no reward for themselves beyond the reward which God gives to faithful service; who engage in the work, not for a few years, or until a more remunerative occupation offers, but for life; whose idea of success in their work is not a mere empty showing, but the genuine development and training of the children committed to them. We say this without prejudice to public school teachers. These do the best they can; but their best cannot be the best of the teaching Sisters and Brothers.

3. The teaching in Catholic schools is most thorough. There are no frills. The elementary branches proper to grammar schools are handled simply, are not crowded to make way for a pretension at geology, botany, physiology, biology or even agronomy.

A few years ago there appeared in the newspaper of one of our large cities an interesting letter from a public school inspector. It described his first visit to a Catholic Parochial School, and contrasted the methods observed there with the methods in use in the public schools—to the great disadvantage of the latter. According to this unbiased and competent judge, the Catholic Schools excelled in practically every point, because of the thoroughness with which essentials, reading, spelling, grammar, arithmetic, penmanship, drawing, history and geography were taught. THE CATHOLIC SCHOOLS WERE BETTER GRADED; children were not advanced to higher classes until they were fit, etc., etc.

4. THE CATHOLIC SCHOOLS ARE THE MOST EFFICIENT, GET THE BEST RESULTS. In New York City, for instance, of the Catholic graduates examined for entrance into Normal College, according to statistics, 75% succeeded; while the candidates from the public schools scored only 25%.

In contests all over the country, the Catholic Schools won 80% of the first prizes and 60% of the second prizes.

In every city in which such comparisons can be made, the Catholic Schools show themselves uniformly superior to the public schools. The statistics are easily available.

The conclusion must be that the Catholic parents who do not send their children to Catholic Schools are doing them a great injustice. They are depriving their children of advantages to which they have a right. They are depriving them, not only of their due chance for most necessary moral and religious instruction, but also of better educational opportunities from the purely intellectual standpoint. For such injustice, as well as for its results upon the careers of their children, they are answerable to Almighty God.

Last year after thoroughly canvassing the Parish only eight children were found whose parents refused to send them to the Parochial school. This year we hope, with the cooperation of all, to register every Catholic child in this Parish in the Parochial school.

Feasts of the Month

A glance at the September calendar of Saints will show us that the garnerers of the Church are filled at this season with choicest fruits of holy example, from which we may draw at will and so go into Our Lord's presence with fuller hands. Our Blessed Lady herself, chief among the saints, has three festivals this month.

THE EIGHTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER IS THE FEAST OF OUR LADY'S NATIVITY, when she was born into the world to enjoy a brief period of peace and joy, followed by many years of unexampled sorrow. Even that purest and holiest of mothers could not enter into the Kingdom of her Son save through many tribulations.

The birth of the Blessed Virgin Mary announced joy and the near approach of salvation to the lost world. Mary was brought forth into the world not like other children of Adam, infected with the loathsome contagion of sin, but pure, holy, beautiful and glorious, adorned with all the most precious graces which became her who was chosen to be the Mother of God.

If we celebrate the birthdays of the great ones of this earth, how ought we to rejoice in that of the Virgin Mary, presenting to God the best homage of our praises and thanksgiving for the great mercies He has shown her, and imploring her mediation with her Son in our behalf! Christ will not reject the supplications of His Mother, whom He was pleased to obey while on earth. Her love, care and tenderness for Him, the title and qualities which she bears, the charity and graces with which she is adorned and the crown of glory with which she is honored, must incline Him readily to receive her recommendations and petitions.

SEPTEMBER TWELFTH, FEAST OF THE HOLY NAME OF MARY. On this day the Church reminds us of the power of this sweet and holy name—a mother's name, tender and strong as her love—which has wrought so many wonders and destroyed so many heresies in the Christian world.

The sweet name of Mary, chosen for the universal mother, is symbolic of her dignity and prerogatives. In the Syriac it means "Queen," in the Hebrew, "Star of the Sea." She was a queen even in its earthly sense, because she was of royal lineage. Her glorious ancestry can be traced back forty centuries, and neither silence nor prejudice has been able to break it. She is a queen because she is the Mother of the KING OF KINGS. She is a star because she is a symbol of purity. She sends forth a pure, untarnished ray of light. She brought forth the Light of the World and she is so pure she stands for the personification of virginity, and all nations acclaim her blessed. To the poor mariner, tossing on the waves in his fragile bark, she is ever the guiding star, leading to the safest of havens.

ON THE FIFTEENTH OCCURS THE FEAST OF THE SEVEN DOLORS. Few seem to know that September is specially dedicated to the SORROWS OF MARY. In the Mass of the day the Church salutes her as the Queen of Martyrs when she says that Our Lady, "without dying, merited the palm of martyrdom beneath the Cross of the Lord."

Jesuit Martyrs

From the number of blessed martyrs of the Society of Jesus whose feasts are kept this month. September might be called Jesuit Martyrs' month.

SEPTEMBER 3rd—BLESSED ANTHONY IXIDA, a native Japanese. He was well versed in the teaching of the Bonzes. By means of his knowledge and his splendid intellectual powers, he was able to meet and refute their most learned philosophers and won many to the Church of Christ. During his apostolate of forty-five years, he traversed almost all the provinces of his native country with great fruit in the salvation of souls. When taken prisoner for being a Catholic and a Priest, he challenged his captors to test his Christian fortitude. He was tortured in various ways, had all his joints dislocated while boiling water was poured on every part of his body. Six times daily during the course of a month, the tortures were repeated. He then languished for eight months in prison at Nangasaki and was finally burned to death by a slow fire.

SEPTEMBER 4th—Feast of Blessed James Bonnaud and his companions, known as the "Paris Martyrs" who were cruelly put to death out of hatred of the faith during the horrors of the French revolution in 1792.

SEPTEMBER 6th—BLESSED THOMAS TZUGI and BLESSED MICHAEL NACAXIMA and their companions, Japanese. Blessed Thomas after thirty-four years of glorious toil was seized and condemned to die by fire. In the midst of the flames he preached with great force and eloquence to the assembled multitude on the passion of Christ and the necessity of faith in Him. He then intoned the "LAUDATE DOMINUM, OMNES GENTES," and expired while singing. MICHAEL, who had been his companion in prison, suffered death on Christmas day, but is associated with THOMAS in the Jesuit Calendar of Saints. He was often beaten with clubs, put to the terrible torture of water and then exposed to the burning heat of the sun. At length he was plunged into sulphurous and boiling water and thus won the palm of martyrdom.

SEPTEMBER 7th—BLESSED MARK CRISINO, STEPHEN PONGRACZ and MELCHIOR GRODECZ suffered death at the hands of Hungarian heretics in the early part of the seventeenth century. All three were united in the work of zealously defending the faith against the attacks of heresy. Captured at length by the heretics, they were cast into prison. At midnight between the sixth and seventh of September, they were dragged from their cells to die. After being severely beaten, they were suspended from beams and their torturers burned their sides with torches until their ribs were laid bare. They were then cut down and Mark and Melchior were beheaded, while Stephen, was struck on the head with a sabre and left for dead. The three were beatified in 1905 by Pope Pius X.

SEPTEMBER 9th—St. Peter Claver, a martyr of charity. Native of Spain, he sacrificed his life working among the slave negroes in South America. In the slave markets of Cartagena he instructed and baptized more than 300,000 negroes in his long apostolic life, supported by a super-human charity.

SEPTEMBER 10th—BLESSED CHARLES SPINOLA, an Italian of noble birth, sent to Japan at his own request. In the persecution of Daifusama, he secretly assisted the Japanese Christians and baptized five thousand. He was finally captured and with eight other Jesuits cast into the terrible prison of Omura. Here the prisoners were so crowded that they had not space in which to lie down. After enduring terrible sufferings in prison for four years, they were led out to die by fire. When bound to the stakes, they chanted the praises of God until death set them free from their sufferings.

SEPTEMBER 25th—BLESSED CAMILLUS and AUGUSTINE. Both died in Japan. Father Camillus Constanzo, an Italian, was burned by a slow fire and when his body was nearly consumed, to the amazement of the unbelievers he sang aloud five times "SANCTUS, SANCTUS, SANCTUS." Augustine Ota, a Japanese lay-brother, was beheaded.

SEPTEMBER 26th—OUR NORTH AMERICAN MARTYRS, SS. Isaac Jogues and companions, Brebeuf, Lalemant, Garnier, Lalande, Daniel, Chabanel and Goupil, all Frenchmen, who suffered martyrdom at the hands of the savage Hurons.

Get a High School Education. It is the foundation of success. Without it you will be everlastingly handicapped; with it, you will be far better prepared to make your mark.

You must learn if you wish to earn. Rewards are paid for knowledge. The High School is your opportunity to get a fair start toward success.

The Reader Research Department of Time Inc. for the first time surveyed statistically, on a national scale, the way of life of ALUMNI and ALUMNAE. Its findings: "Although a college diploma is no passport to privilege the 2,700,00 living U. S. alumni and alumnae—about 2% of the population—are influential out of all proportion to their numbers. As a group they hold the best jobs, make the most money, live most comfortably."

NOTICE

Due to uncertain conditions prevailing at this time we have had a good bit of our Fall and Winter stock shipped in earlier this year and although some items are slightly higher than last year they are a good bit lower than today's market. Quite a few of our customers have had us hold items and in some cases, Xmas Gifts by putting a small deposit on them, which we are glad to do. May we help you in this way?

THROUGH THE YEARS

All through life, Lord, make us faithful, as years pass one by one,
Have them draw us to Thee closer, 'til life for us is done;
No matter what the years shall bring, should it be gain or loss,
For Thy Sake let us bear it, Lord, as Splinters from Thy Cross;
When sorrows come which fill our hearts with sadness and with fears,
Then take Thy Children by the hand, Lord, and guide us through the years;
When death shall call our loved ones Home, those ones who made life sweet,
May we find Peace Thou canst but give, and comfort at Thy Feet;

When hearts grow weary of the fight, and things we do prove wrong,
Give us the strength to battle on, the courage to be strong;
The world is mad with hatred now, drenched red with blood of men,
Touch with Thy Hand each heart and bring them Home to God again;
Men everywhere have lost their faith, and, losing it, lose Thee,
They grope in darkness, doubt, despair, Thy Light they cannot see;
Bring men back to their Father's House, where truth and hope prevails,
Where strength and courage may be found—where Thy Love never fails;

When men deny Thee and wouldst bring, dishonor to Thy Name,
Our hearts as reparation take, and all we have, Lord, claim;
When wearied by a restless world, with all its turmoil, strife,
Lead us to Thee, Our Friend and God, Who gives Eternal Life;
Be Thou the center of our hope, our refuge in despair,
Be near us, Lord, through all our lives, our joys and sorrows share;
Whilst men seek from the world its fame, its conquests and its cheers,
We only ask Thy Smile of Love rest on us through the years.

THE MONTH OF THE ROSARY

The Rosary, as now understood and practiced by the devout children of Mary, is a prayer in which the Our Father, followed by ten Hail Marys and the Doxology, is repeated fifteen times, accompanied by meditation on the life, the Passion and the exaltation of the Redeemer. From the use of beads in its recital the Rosary is commonly called the "beads." The practice of using beads as an aid to memory in reciting a set number of prayers, is not distinctively Christian, though it has long existed in the Church. It is one of the many pagan customs which she has wisely adapted to Christian usage. We are told that the monks of the first centuries who could not read the Psalter, used to repeat instead certain prayers, especially the Our Father, and in order to note the number said, they employed small stones, or seeds strung on a cord. As early as the eleventh century there are instances of a fixed number of Aves, addressed to the Blessed Virgin—among them the number 150, whence comes the name, "Psalter of Mary,"—but before the lifetime of St. Dominic (1170-1211), no instance presents itself of 150 Aves, much less of 150 Aves and 15 Paters, said on beads. The common story, accepted by later Popes, is that St. Dominic learned the use of the Rosary from the Blessed Virgin by revelation, and propagated it during the crusade against Albigenses. The Ave of those days was not identical with the modern form. It was simply, "Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee, blessed art thou amongst women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb." It might be remarked, incidentally, that the remainder of this beautiful prayer, which gives a compact and appropriate expression to the feelings with which Christians regard the Mother of God, is believed to have first come into use in the middle of the fifteenth century. The Church is slow to place the stamp of her approval on, and adopt as her own, new devotions and formulas of prayer, and hence it is that, though this latter portion of the Hail Mary may not unlikely have been known years before in some one or other locality, it is only in 1568 that the whole Ave Maria, as it now stands, is ordered in the breviary of Pius V to be recited daily.

To St. Dominic, then, belongs the institution of the Rosary, but the meditation on the mysteries began much later with another Dominican, Almanus De la Roche (born about 1428).

Since those days the Rosary has spread throughout all Christendom, and become a most popular devotion. One Pope after another has approved and recommended it, enriching it with many indulgences. Our late Holy Father, Leo XIII, of a kindly memory, relied on it for the amelioration, in great part, of the ills that afflict society. To this end he decreed that every day, during the month of October, the Rosary, together with the Litany of Loretto, be said in church, and, like his predecessors, he richly indulged the practice of this devotion.

Let Catholics, then, young and old, take up the Rosary. They will find it a method of prayer at once simple and sublime. The prayers are so easy that a child can repeat them, and the mysteries profound enough for the life-long meditation of the most learned theologians. It is a compendium of the gospels: a complete and practical manual of instruction, wherein the chief points of Christian doctrine are presented under the guise of prayer. To all who are assiduous in the practice of so excellent a devotion, the Rosary will undoubtedly prove a very treasury of graces.

TO FATHER O'GORMAN

Death, knocking for the past seven years, at a weakened heart, gave its last summons at five minutes before midnight, on Monday, September 15th, in the seventieth year of his life, his fifty-fourth as a Jesuit and his twenty-fourth as a resident of 18th and Thompson

Streets. During that quarter of a century, Father O'Gorman endeared himself to many parishioners and non-parishioners and especially to the children who seemed ever ready to listen to the stories with which Father delighted in teaching a doctrine or pointing a moral. Rest in Peace.

LITTLE SISTERS OF THE POOR

With assurances of grateful prayers, the Sisters of the Poor and their charges acknowledge the receipt of $385.26 contributed by the parishioners on Sunday, August 31st.

THE BLOCK COLLECTION

During October, the prescribed annual census will be taken. In keeping with the defense program, the Church has been requested to reduce its debt, that is, pay off a large amount on the capital. To do this the Pastor must once again appeal to the generosity of the parishioners and beg for a very substantial offering on the part of every adult member of the parish. To facilitate the work of the Parish Fathers, please have the census envelope completely filled out and in a convenient place when the Father arrives.

THE MIRACULOUS MEDAL NOVENA

There is a notable increase of attendance at the Novena Services of the Miraculous Medal. Evidently the change of time from 8.00 o'clock to 7.30 has given the opportunity to more parishioners to attend the Novena Services every Sunday night. We would wish that more of the younger folks would attend also, as the Novena is for old and young alike. We are pleased also to note that more and more "Intention Slips" and of "Thanksgiving for Graces Received" are handed in.

Miraculous Medal Devotions, every Sunday at 7.30 P. M.

THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

On Thursday evening, August 28th, the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association welcomed the return to the City, after an absence of several weeks, of Rev. James I. Maguire, S.J., Founder of this Association. Interesting speeches were made by our newly-appointed Pastor, Rev. John P. Smith, S.J., Mr. J. V. Downs and Mr. John A. Ryan, President. A delightful entertainment consisting of dancing, music and other attractive features provided an evening's pleasure for those in attendance, after which refreshments were served by the ladies in charge. To all who were instrumental in making this Surprise Party such a grand success, we extend our sincere appreciation.

Please note that the meetings of this Association will be held on Thursday night hereafter instead of

Wednesday night. We hope that there will be an increased attendance at our meetings from now on. Faithful attendance at the meetings is very necessary and does much to insure the success of our activities. Try to induce former members to come to some if not all of these meetings. Tell your new neighbors about our Association and bring them to the meetings so that they may get acquainted with each other.

Many property owners are now checking their Fall repairs and improvements, as this work must be done before the cold weather starts. A few dollars sometimes improves a property very much and saves greater expense later on. If you are looking for assistance on any matters pertaining to the upkeep of your homes, our Officers will be glad to assist in any way they can.

SUCCESSFUL OUTING OF HOLY NAME SOCIETY

On Sunday, July 27th, 1941, the members of the Gesu Holy Name Society, their families and their friends headed by their beloved Spiritual Director, Rev. James I. Maguire, S.J., Assistant Rector of the Gesu, a full train load, left Philadelphia at 9.35 A. M. and proceeded to beautiful Forest Park, Chalfont, Pa., where they arrived early and spent a long and enjoyable day, replete with various amusements, which are so generously provided by the management of Forest Park.

During the hour which the happy picnickers spent for luncheon they were entertained by an address by the Secretary of the Holy Name, Mr. John Ryan, who spoke over Forest Park Public Address System. Part of Mr. Ryan's address is as follows:

"Reverend Fathers, fellow parishioners and friends of the Gesu: In behalf of Father Maguire and the members of the Holy Name Society, we sincerely thank you for your presence here today. The Good Lord has given us a glorious day amidst beautiful surroundings and we hope you will spend healthful, enjoyable and profitable hours here and will return to your homes happy and satisfied, with a day well spent for the honor and glory of God, and the good of our lives.

"We wish to express the sincere hope that is ever close to the heart of our spiritual director Father Maguire and the membership of the Holy Name Society that from this day forward every one here today and all their friends at home will start to work with a renewed, vigorous and unfaltering determination for the preservation and the upbuilding of the Gesu Parish which is ever dear to the hearts of every one who has been privileged to be a member of this glorious parish of the Society of Jesus and who have drank from the fountains of its great institutions of learning.

"To our new Rector Rev. John P. Smith, S.J., we extend our best wishes and prayers and fondest hopes for a long, happy and successful mission amongst us.

"We wish to thank the management of Forest Park for their excellent accommodations, for their beautiful and healthful surroundings, for their many and enjoyable amusements and for providing us with a safe and ideal spot for our outing. We wish also to thank the management of the Reading Railroad for their excellent train service. We wish to sincerely thank the untiring workers on all the committees who labored so zealously for complete success."

Among the priests from the Gesu parish were Rev. James I. Maguire, S.J., Assistant Rector of the Gesu and spiritual director of the Holy Name Society, Rev. Dominic Ciri who spent a strenuous day with his little charges, Father Buckley, Father Brophy and Brother Devine.

In the afternoon we were indebted to our very generous friends Messrs. William and Vincent Kohl, who brought to us Father Rector and Brother Stengle who very much enjoyed the occasion.

Our slogan for next year is "Two Trains and 1,000 Excursionists."

ANGELS OF EARTH AND ANGELS OF HEAVEN

Simplicity of heart and a charming naturalness refined by grace was the very soil and substance in which all the spiritual beauties and virtues of the LITTLE FLOWER of JESUS had their root. Everything that appealed to this holy sentiment of simplicity had for her a wonderful attraction. The simple natural life of Mary and Joseph, mother and father, and their place in God's gracious plan of the Redemption, ever could bring a tender thrill to her soul.

That God Who loved her, as it were sent in His own stead, a beautiful being, appointed for the very purpose, of watching out over her day time and night time, to ward off danger from afar, to lead her along the way of simplicity, to speak to her comfort and encouragement in whispers unheard of by the world but sweet-sounding in her hearing, she found quite in keeping with what her own heart told her of God.

If He had never made a revelation concerning our Guardian Angels, souls like the Little Flower of Jesus would have known it anyhow, for it is so in keeping with God's goodness, and tender, loving providence. But we have God's word for it, a word that Little Theresa loved to quote: "For He hath given His Angels charge over thee." That the saints and angels of heaven make loving intercession for us before the throne of God is a part of that article of our Creed: "I believe in the Communion of Saints"; but who will make more interested appeal for me than the one appointed by God to guard my ways? For my guardian angel speaks to God for me with more authority than anyone else on account of his very office.

Holy Mother Church wants us to be devout to our guardian angels. She sets apart the month of October to be dedicated to the angels, and the angels' queen in heaven.

How to be devout, the Little Flower shows us—by a return to the simplicity of our childhood.

Once in the days of innocence, our hearts quite filled with holy sentiments, when we said the words:

"Angel of God, my guardian dear,
To whom His love commits me here,
Ever, this day, be at my side,
To light and guard, to rule and guide."

Alas! that we ever put on the garments of maturity at the sacrifice of simplicity; and yet they are not incompatible—in worthy souls they wear together.

Frederick William Faber, in gentleness of character much like the Little Flower, never wrote words that he could be prouder of than the child song to the Guardian Angel:

"Dear Angel, ever at my side,

How loving thou must be,
To leave thy home in heaven to guide
A little child like me!"

Another Faber—Blessed Peter Faber—also gentle of soul, one of the first companions of St. Ignatius, used to say that there were even guardian angels of places. Never in his missionary enterprises did he come to a village or town without stopping to salute the guardian angels of the place and invoke their aid in his labors for God.

To her sister, the Little Flower once wrote, "God did not create us angels in heaven because He wanted His angel courtiers here on earth."

But can we ever become such if we do not cultivate devotion and sweet intimacy with our own guardian angels and the blessed spirits who guide our loved ones and our friends?

CHRIST THE KING

In the month of June, 1914, British Journalists gave a banquet to the editors of the German newspapers. Lord Burnham presided at the occasion and delivered an eloquent speech, stressing the unbreakable ties of friendship between the two peoples. There followed talks on the "mutual superiority" of the two peoples; there was admiration for German character, science, art and social progress; there was admiration for English life, beauty and literature. Lengthy handshaking, generous drinking of toasts were all in order. It is probable that both parties went back to work, each thinking that it had furthered the interests of its sovereign and hoodwinked the other. Sixty days later came the memorable August of 1914, and war.

In the course of the war, people became suspicious of sovereigns and thrones that had to be served in this way. Along with the suspicion arose an undue and extravagant glorification of country, and at the end of the war, nationalism was harder and ranker than it had ever been before. Distrust among nations and distrust in the leaders of nations grew. The aims of sovereigns and world leaders were felt to be far less noble and inspiring than they were made to appear in print. Men were looking for a leader, a sovereign whom they might serve wholeheartedly and to advantage.

The Church, conscious that the world was sore in need of such a leader, one who could step over national boundaries and unite the world once more, instituted the Feast of Christ the King. This feast is celebrated this year on October 26th. It was founded to emphasize the sovereignty of Christ and to bring back to Him those subjects who had lost their allegiance to Him.

There was a necessity, in the midst of the militant, nationalistic spirit that had sprouted up everywhere and of the distrust people were showing towards sovereigns and leaders, of bringing people to realize that there is only one antidote for such a spirit and its devastating influences, and that antidote is the recognition of Christ as the King of all nations of the world. Christ, the King, at least was one leader whom people could serve without reserve, one whom they could trust, one whom it paid to serve.

One may, in philosophical moments, think of kingship an outworn institution. Our democratic soul may shrink from the idea of Kingship. Yet something of the old romance of the word "King," something of its warmth and color, something of that code of chivalry and knighthood by which a true king was dedicated to the service of his people, still stirs the most prosaic mind. To describe Christ as the Leader of the world, the supreme sovereign, before whom every knee should bend, the word king is possibly the most apt and beautiful we have.

It is the spirit of the feast to pray that the whole world will submit to Christ, that His Kingdom may spread to the uttermost bounds of the earth, that the selfishness and deceit of nations will give way to his reign of justice. "Thy Kingdom Come" is the prayer on the lips of millions of Christians every day. On the feast of Christ, the King, those words should be said with a special force, for they sum up the spirit of the feast.

Forget Not Our Dear Dead

How heavy were our hearts the day God took them from our midst,
How wet with tears our eyes as we bent low their face to kiss;
How empty seemed the world as graves hid them from out our gaze,
What loneliness we knew would fill our hearts through future days;
Now years have sped along their way—our dead live in our hearts,
And Mem'ry brings back years when they were of our lives a part;
But crowded years and hurried days have made us careless grow,
And caused us breathe their names in prayer less now than long ago;

In life they were so dear to us—we gave to them our best—
Shall we do less for them in death to gain them God's sweet Rest?
They call to us from out their pains, in cries that never end:
"Have pity on us, pray for us, you dear ones once our friends";
Shall they call to us now in vain, shall we not bring release,
And speed their entrance to God's Home, to know His Love and Peace;
They cannot help themselves so turn to us for whom they care,
Who all through life their joys and hopes, their tears and sorrows shared;

Death stilled their voice to reach our ears—in words they have no part—
They use instead the chords of Love—the language of the heart;
If, when we go to God each day, we breathe their names in prayer,
The fragrance of that Prayer will go to let them know we care;
In all communions we receive, in Masses heard, prayers said,
In works of kindness, acts of alms, remember our dear dead—
They shall not be outdone in love—while we pray for their Rest—
They, too, shall ask God bless their own, those ones they love the best.

—WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

ALL SOULS

It has always been contained in the teaching of the Church that there is such a place as Purgatory and that souls suffer there for a time before seeing the face of the God Whom they love. The Council of Trent embodied the doctrine in a statement which it is necessary to believe as a matter of faith; that statement is to the effect "that there is a purgatory, and that souls there detained are assisted by the suffrages of the faithful, but especially by the most acceptable Sacrifice of the Altar."

It is apparent from the Second Book of Machabeus, that even before the time of Our Lord, the Jews believed in Purgatory. One reads there that some of the soldiers of Judas Machabeus, found dead after battle, had concealed under their coats offerings seized in a pagan temple. Scripture says that they had done what "the law forbiddeth so that all plainly saw that for this cause they were slain." The Holy Spirit, through the inspired writer approved of Machabeus' action in sending an offering to Jerusalem that sacrifice might be offered for the sins of these men, for the Scripture adds, "It is therefore a holy and a wholesome thought to pray for the dead that they may be loosed from sins." (2 Mach. xii-46).

It is morally certain that the great St. Paul himself practised the custom of praying for the dead. Onesiphorus, one of his fellow-laborers, had died, and in writing to Timothy, St. Paul is not content to recommend to him the family of Onesiphorus, but he prays for him, beseeching that "the Lord grant unto him to find mercy of the Lord in that day." (2 Tim. i., 18).

In addition to the evidence supplied us by Holy Scripture and the Church's immemorial custom of praying for the dead, reason proclaims that there must be a Purgatory. Many die in the state of venial sin and therefore cannot immediately enter Heaven; yet these same souls are not God's enemies and therefore cannot be cast into Hell. There must be, then, some middle state where these souls can be purified, and it is this state that we call Purgatory. While the Teaching Authority of the Church, the proofs from Scripture and Tradition make no impression on many, more and more non-Catholics are being drawn to believe in Purgatory through having the reasonable side of the doctrine presented to them.

It is a natural instinct in the human heart to pray for departed friends. It is heartless and illogical to neglect our own loved ones and friends who have gone before us. The thought that we are still bound to them by the golden chain of prayer brings to their memory a comfort that words cannot express, and the knowledge that we can help them by our prayers and good works is a consolation that we feel we could scarce do without. They pass beyond our touch, beyond our sight; never, thank God, beyond our love and prayers.

A Fast Day

The vigil or eve of ALL SAINTS' DAY, Friday, October 31st (All Hallowes), called "Hallowe'en" IS A DAY OF FAST AND ABSTINENCE, that is, Catholics between the ages of 21 and 60 years, unless excused for some valid reason, such as sickness, are permitted to eat only one full meal on this day, and to observe the regular Friday abstinence from meat. The worldly minded will make this a day of revelry; the practical Catholic will welcome the day as an opportunity to prove his loyalty to God and the Church's laws.

Feast Day

Saturday, November 1st, IS A HOLY DAY OF OBLIGATION. This is one of the six special HOLYDAYS in the year on which we are obliged to attend Mass the same as on Sundays. Only six such days in the year! Three in honor of Our Lord, two in honor of the Blessed Virgin and one in honor of the Saints.

Holy Souls' Day

This year Holy Souls' Day will be observed on November 3rd. Do not forget the opportunity afforded by the "toties quoties" indulgence on this day. These Latin words mean "as often as," that is, for EVERY visit made to the Church. On ALL SOULS' DAY, Monday, November 3rd, a plenary indulgence may be gained by all who, having confessed and received Holy Communion, visit any Church and there offer prayers for the suffering souls in Purgatory. This Indulgence may be gained as often during the day AS DISTINCT VISITS ARE MADE. It is applicable ONLY TO THE SOULS IN PURGATORY. These visits may be begun at 12.00 o'clock noon Sunday, November 2nd, and continued until midnight of November 3rd. Prayer for the intention of our Holy Father, the Pope, is fulfilled by saying the "OUR FATHER," the "HAIL MARY" and "GLORY BE TO THE FATHER," etc., six times at each visit.

Holy Souls' Triduum

The Holy Souls' Triduum will begin on November 1st and end on November 3rd, the feast of the Holy Souls. The devotions will begin at 8.00 P.M. If our devotion to the Holy Souls is not as fervent as it should be, we will find the reason to be, in all probability, that we have allowed our faith to grow cold in the great dogmas on which this devotion is founded. On Sunday evening at 8.00 P.M., the second day of the Triduum and the eve of the Feast of the Holy Souls, the OFFICE OF THE DEAD will be chanted. The OFFICE of the Dead is composed of various psalms suitable to the occasion. The theme is always the same and is most impressive. The lessons are taken from the Book of Job. A more suitable choice could not have been made. In the face of death the afflicted soul makes his plaint to the Lord of life and death; and after these lamentations, so soul-piercing and full of anguish, follows the cry of faith and confidence: "Deliver me, O Lord, and draw me near to Thee, and then no hand shall prevail against me! For I know that my Redeemer liveth; and in the last day I shall rise out of the earth; and I shall be clothed again with my skin, and in my flesh I shall see my God: whom I myself shall see, and my eyes shall behold, and not another. This my hope is laid up in my bosom." Sublime, inspired eloquence!

Jesuit Purgatorial Society

When deceased friends and relatives are enrolled in the "JESUIT SEMINARY FUND" they receive all the spiritual benefits of the PURGATORIAL SOCIETY, which is an organization to help the Souls in Purgatory, to give them relief from the temporal punishment which they suffer for sins committed on earth.

The specific benefits are:

1. A share in the prayers and good works of all Jesuits.

2. Intention in about 60,000 Masses a year; 600 daily Communion.

3. A share in an unbroken chain of First Intention Masses.

4. A Novena of Masses each month.

The usual offering for one year's membership is $1.00; for perpetual membership of the deceased, $25.00. For further information apply at the Rectory.

A New Beatitude

Blessed Are Frequent Communicants

Blessed are frequent Communicants for theirs is the Kingdom of Heaven, even in this cold, bleak, storm-swept world! Blessed are they who kneel monthly at the Communion rail, for they shall possess the land God has promised to His elect! More blessed are the weekly Communicants, for when mourning and the voice of sorrow

Holy Souls' Triduum, November 1-November 3

come nigh their door, they shall be comforted by the Dispenser of all good gifts, and shall obtain mercy! Most blessed are they who Communicate daily, for they shall see God even in this life by being raised through grace to the heights of contemplation! Their lives shall be lives of such peace that men will exclaim: "Indeed, these are the children of God!"

FREQUENT COMMUNION takes away the terror of the grave. Death touches us; but since our Judge and our Saviour has so frequently and gladly come to us, now we are ready, nay glad, to go to Him. "What else will the grand ceremony of our entrance into eternity be but simply the unveiling of the Blessed Sacrament!" We gaze for one last lingering moment at Our Lord under His white mask in the Sacred Host, then close our weary eye-lids, and for us eternity begins. The white mask of bread always so thin and filmy to the eyes of faith, is now gone. We no longer see darkly through a glass; we have entered within the veil. We are prostrated at the feet of Christ, while our guardian angel gives testimony: "Jesus of Nazareth, crucified Son of man, glorified Son of God, this precious soul, strong in Thy sacramental strength, has crucified her flesh with the vices and concupiscence thereof. Receive her into Thy joy."

Novena of the Miraculous Medal

Thanks to Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal, more and more people are attending Her Novena every Sunday night at 7.30. The interest shown is manifested especially by the numerous petitions to be prayed for, and by the ever increasing number of graces received. The series of short talks on "MARY AND THE HOME," begun on Sunday, October 12th, will be continued. As they treat of the duties of every member of the family, we sincerely hope that every member of the parish, particularly the younger folks, will attend these talks. No father or mother surely can afford to miss these short, practical, weekly instructions, nor allow their children to do so. Parents! Do your duty towards yourselves and your children.

Honoring God in His Saints

The dogma of the Communion of Saints does not at all imply that we should overlook God and appeal to the saints rather than to their Lord. It is clearly understood that in honoring the saints by imploring their intercession we are honoring God from Whom all good gifts flow.

The saints are they who have won the favor of God by their fidelity to Him in the day of trial. In return for their loyalty and sacrifice God sees fit to bestow favors through them which otherwise might not be granted. We have, therefore, the authority of God Himself for praying to the saints in heaven whom their eternal King desires to honor.

Christ worked His first miracle at the request of Mary, when at the marriage feast of Cana, He changed water into wine at her request, although His time for working miracles had not yet come. (Jn. ii, 1-11.) If the intercessions of God's holy ones on earth are acceptable to Him; much more acceptable must be the intercession of those who are associated with Him in glory.

Tennyson, although not a Catholic, has beautifully expressed the doctrine of the Communion of Saints in the following lines:

"I have lived my life, and that which I have done
May He within Himself make pure! But thou,

If thou shouldst never see my face again,
Pray for my soul. More things are wrought by prayer
Than this world dreams of.
Wherefore, let thy voice Rise like a fountain for me night and day.
For what are men better than sheep and goats
That nourish a blind life within the brain,
If, knowing God, they lift not hands in prayer
Both for themselves and those who call them friends?
For so the whole round earth is every way
Bound by gold chains about the feet of God."

Morte d'Arthur.

Saints of the Society of Jesus

November 6

The feast of all the Saints of the Society of Jesus will be celebrated this year Sunday, November 6th.

The Saints who are especially honored on November 6th are Ignatius Loyola, Francis Xavier, Francis Borgia, Francis Jerome, John Francis Regis, Aloysius Gonzaga, Stanislaus Kostka, John Berchmans, Peter Claver, Alphonsus Rodrigues, Peter Canisius, Robert Bellarmin, Paul, John and James, Japanese Martyrs, John Brebeuf, Isaac Jogues and Companions, North American Martyrs.

These saints shed lustre on every grade of the Society, priest, scholastic and lay-brother. They were from different countries: from Spain, Italy, France, Portugal, Germany, Poland, Japan; and each in his sphere and in his holiness had characteristics distinguishing him from the others.

The program was brought to a close by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner.

The guests were then invited to the Cafeteria where cake, ice cream and coffee were served by the hostesses.

To our guests, our artists, our officers and their assistants, we extend our deep appreciation and gratitude for their cooperation in making our reception to Father Smith a worth-while event.

Heart of Jesus, All for Thee!

DAILY COMMUNION

"Come to Me in the morning,"
He whispers soft and low;
Of course you are not worthy,
You never could be so.

But Christ Himself invites you,
Do not refuse His plea;
He whispers to you sweetly:
"Ye burdened, come to Me."

O mark His words, ye fearful,
Not "Ye who have no sin,"

But: "Come all ye who falter,
That I may ease your pain."

He thinks not of past frailties,
He knows your sorrows all,
He wills you trust His goodness,
And heed His loving call.

Then, oh! How sweet your pathway
Will grow from day to day,
When Jesus dwells within you,
And guides you on your way.

MAKE IT A HABIT...

before buying—look first in your Parish Monthly Calendar

No matter what your needs may be, you are pretty certain to find among the advertisers, a merchant or professional man who is anxious to serve you.

If you need new plumbing or a new roof, new shoes, or a dress, or a hat, fancy pastry, or groceries or meats for the table, a prescription to be filled, a permanent wave or a suite of furniture . . . whatever you need, make it a habit to look first in your Parish Calendar.

We know you will find them mighty fine people to deal with. All things being equal, we ask you to remember to buy from our advertisers.

Mention your Parish Monthly, please!

Reputable business and professional men are invited to use our Parish Monthly Calendar as their medium of advertising in this large parish. Each month, we reach thousands of possible purchasers direct by mail. How much will this vast army of buyers spend in the course of a year in your line of business? There is more purchasing power represented here than there is in several fair sized communities combined. An attractive ad in the Parish Monthly Calendar will help you to get your share of this business.

Forty Years Toward Funeral Perfection

Constant effort to bring each FitzPatrick Funeral closer to our goal of perfection has taught us many things.

We have learned to handle many details without intruding on the privacy that is the right of family in time of stress.

Where cost is a vital consideration, we have learned to eliminate costly non-essentials.

A FitzPatrick Funeral may cost as little as $125 complete—it may cost many times as much. Price depends entirely upon materials selected.

There is no charge for use of the beautiful FitzPatrick Funeral Home.

THE FEAST OF LOVE

Into a world now filled with hate, there comes the Feast of Love,
When God, Who made the world and men, comes from His Home above;
And as a Baby, helpless, weak, takes on our human form,
And in a Stable, bleak and cold, for Love of us is born;
This day but marks the start of Life of One Who lived His years
In bringing comfort, peace and hope to those in grief and tears;
When comes the Natal day of friends, we like to have them know
We wish them "Happy Birthday" and strive to tell them so;

But when comes now the Birthday of our dearest Friend, our King,
We cannot wish Him happiness, nor gladness to Him bring;
As He looks on the world today from out His Manger Throne,
He sees it red with blood and hate, caused by sons of His Own;
Three times His Birthday blessed the world throughout the present war,
And each found men destroying life more violent than before;
The Angels' hymn, the Shepherds' prayer, the Love in Mary's Gaze, Bring Him no joy—He lives instead His Crucifixion days!

We know now why Gethsemane brought forth His anguished Cry,
How bruised His Heart was on the Cross as He prepared to die;
For, from that Cross, He saw the world, and each sin of today,
The broken homes and hearts of men, war's dead strewn on each way;
The Feast of Love! The Friend Divine! A World that will not hear!
The Angels' hymn of Peace to Men brings to the Christ Child tears;
The world lies prostrate, bleeding, torn, gone are its days once fair,
Peace shall not come until men find their way to Christ through Prayer.

WILLIAM F. SHERIDAN.

A MERRY AND BLESSED CHRISTMAS

The Reverend Pastor and all who are associated with the Parish Church and School work, wish you A Merry and Blessed Christmas. May the blessing of the Prince of Peace descend upon your home, your family and your friends.

On this great feast we pray that God, "Who gave His only begotten Son," may, in the words of St. Paul, "give you all good things with Him." In your efforts to make others happy by gifts and family reunions, do not forget your own soul. The gift which will do it most good, and will make you truly happy, is the grace of God which you must either obtain anew or have increased through a worthy reception of the Sacraments of Penance and of the Holy Eucharist at Christmas time.

Our celebration of Christmas would be a veritable mockery unless we placed ourselves in favor with God, whose birth on earth we observe by this Christmas festival. There would be no Christmas if there were no Christ, and to observe Christmas while ignoring Him would be pure sham.

Offer your Mass and Holy Communion this Christmas for world peace. Unite your prayers with those of the Church and the Holy Father, who is constantly praying and working that peace will be restored.

THE NOVENA

November 30 to December 8

Pope Pius IX, in the presence of a large assemblage, of cardinals, archbishops, bishops, priests and a multitude of the laity, on the 8th of December, 1854, solemnly proclaimed, from his apostolic seat in St. Peter's Church at Rome: "It is an article of faith that the Blessed Virgin Mary by a special grace and privilege of God, on account of the merits of Jesus Christ, the Redeemer of mankind, was from the first instant of her conception protected and preserved from every stain of original sin."

Thus was the constant belief of the faithful confirmed by the highest authority and put beyond the shadow of a doubt. Certainly it imposes no new doctrine on Catholics to be assured what they had always believed was always true.

Immaculate Conception Novena—November 30 – December 8

A SOLEMN NOVENA begins in the Gesu Church November 30th, closes December 8th.

To obtain temporal and spiritual favors the members of the Parish are earnestly requested to take an intense interest in this Novena and be present at the devotions. It is a feast most dear to Sodalists, the special clients of Our Lady; and of course, they will attend the Novena in force.

Today, all over the world, there is being waged against the Church, a war more bitter and more savage, yet often by ways that are diabolically deceptive than the wars of old against Christianity by the Turks. As Mary by her Rosary saved the Church and civilization then, and has ever been the victor over heresy and other enemies, so we shall depend upon her in this world-wide conflict. Let us therefore make this Novena to Our Lady Immaculate with all fervor and perseverance, asking God through her who was given us to crush the infernal serpent's head, to crush these atheists, the offspring of the serpent, now waging war against Christ and His Mother and Christ's Spouse. Our Holy Church.

A SOLEMN REUNION OF SODALITIES AND RECEPTION OF NEW MEMBERS will take place at the evening service that closes the Novena. Lists of new members should be given to the Sodality Moderators during the Novena. This will also be the proper time for former active members to sign up and return to Our Lady's special court or company, THE SODALITY.

CHRISTMAS CAROLS

At 7.30 P. M. on December 14th, GAUDETE SUNDAY, the St. Joseph's College Glee Club Choir will render a Christmas Carol Service in conjunction with the Novena in honor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal.

ADVENT THOUGHTS

The Church has her own language and her own way of reckoning time. Her year begins not on the first of January, but on the first Sunday of Advent. She reckons time in relation to Christ, and in her expressive language she calls the four weeks of preparation for His coming THE SEASON OF ADVENT. The very word is a warning to prepare to receive Him worthily, so that we may not be considered as ungrateful as those of whom St. John speaks in his sad preface to the history of our divine Saviour's life:

"He was in the world, and the world was made by Him, and the world knew Him not. He came unto His own, and His own received Him not."

THE ADVENT color (violet) keeps before us the spirit of the season, expressed in the words of Christ's great forerunner, St. John the Baptist: "Do penance; for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make straight His paths." There is a special need for insisting on the penitential aspect of Advent. The Church, in her motherly tenderness, has relaxed the strict rules of fast and abstinence which existed in the early days, but she still expects us to show some fruits of mortification. The onslaughts of Satan are as deadly today as they were in the beginning. He has not relaxed in his efforts to destroy us. Prayer and penance are the weapons we must use to withstand him. By these means we can make certain the victory. "The kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent bear it away."—Exchange.

FEAST AND FAST DAYS

Please note the FOUR FAST DAYS which occur during this month, namely the Ember Days of the winter quarter, which fall this year on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, December 17th, 19th and 20th; and Christmas Eve, Wednesday, December 24th. Christmas Eve is one of the four days excepted in the indult granted in favor of working people; hence while working people and their families are allowed to eat flesh-meat once on Wednesday, December 17th, and Saturday, December 20th, ALL, EVEN THOSE WHO WORK MUST ABSTAIN FROM FLESH-MEAT ON WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 24th.

Christmas Day, Thursday, December 25th, is a Holyday of Obligation. It is the Birthday of Our Lord. On this day all are expected to receive Holy Communion. How can you enjoy a truly holy and happy Christmas, one filled with Peace and real happiness, unless the little Babe of Bethlehem has taken up His abode in your hearts? Surely every parishioner will strive to receive Holy Communion on this day. Confessions will be heard on Christmas Eve, afternoon and evening. On Christmas Day the first Mass, a Solemn High Mass, will begin at 5.00 A. M.; the last Mass, also Solemn High, will begin at 10.45.

CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENT

The annual Christmas entertainment will be given by the Parochial school children on December 21st beginning at 2.00 P. M. This yearly display of our children's talents can always be counted upon to kindle in our hearts that flame of divine love which the Christmas came to spread broadcast over the earth and thus prepare us to celebrate the great feast in a true Christian spirit. To avoid complaints and disappointments, secure your admission tickets early.

WEDNESDAY SOCIALS

After two years of importunate requests from the parishioners, the Gesu has finally inaugurated the Wednesday night socials. The crowds that attend these Socials more than reassure those in charge that at last some form of entertainment has been found that appeals and is profitable to the Catholics of the neighborhood. We are very fortunate in having the use of a spacious auditorium with a large cafeteria in readiness to accommodate a large overflow of patrons. If you have not attended these Wednesday Socials, we advise that you do so, not merely from a desire to profit by the valuable awards that are given away to lucky socialites but also to experience the thrills that go with association with these Wednesday evening enthusiasts. Be practical. Make the test yourself. To get away from the cares and worries, that weigh heavily upon all during these trying times, take, as a tonic, the Wednesday evening socials, held at the Auditorium, Stiles and Seventeenth Streets. Games begin at 8.30 P. M.

SODALITY MEETINGS

The combined Sodality meeting on Tuesday evenings has proved almost 100% popular with the Sodalists. The demand of the times is, "organize and economize for defense." In a truer sense than the slogan is used generally, the Church Societies must organize and economize to meet the ever increasing expenses as well as to promote greater efficiency especially in work peculiar to the Sodalities. One outstanding feature of the true Sodalist is willingness to cooperate with spiritual pastors in promoting the welfare of all parishioners. To this end, the Sodalist directs his life along the path of perfection and by word and example encourages his neighbor to struggle cheerfully towards the eternal goal, under the Pastor's guidance.

CHRISTMAS CARDS

For those loyal, militant Catholics, who refuse to make a mockery of the Holy Feast of Christmas, and to insult their friends, by sending the pagan cards offered by pagan money changers, a varied assortment of excellent Christmas greeting cards maybe obtained from any of the parochial school children at bargain prices.

THE GESU PARISH AND NEIGHBORHOOD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION

The semi-monthly meeting of the Gesu Parish and Neighborhood Improvement Association was held on Thursday evening, October 30th, in the High School Building on Stiles Street. After opening prayer by Father Maguire, Mr. John Ryan, President, read a very interesting and comprehensive report of his activities since the previous meeting.

Plans were then discussed for our next entertainment and the success of last year's Sauer Kraut Supper suggested that it was quite timely for another treat for our members and their friends. So, on Wednesday evening, December 10th, we hope to have the pleasure of entertaining our members at another delicious Supper, served in the delightful atmosphere of the High School Cafeteria, by charming hostesses and their aides.

It is our hope, and we feel quite sure that our hopes will be realized, that this event will surpass any previous affair this Association has undertaken. To our friends and members we extend a most cordial invitation to be with us on that occasion. Come and enjoy your dinner and a social evening thereafter. Meet your old friends and chat with them. You will not regret your attendance at this affair. The Committee in charge is sparing no effort to make your evening most enjoyable.

The cooperation of our members is necessary to make this Supper an outstanding success and we hope that all will take a personal interest in this undertaking to retain the reputation thus far gained by this Association for Suppers. Donations will be most gratefully received by the Committee in charge.

SPORTS

By George Carroll

The resounding thud of a basketball once again echoed and re-echoed through the hallowed walls of "Consumption Hall" as another Gesu Boy's Parochial School team prepared, for what they hope would be a victorious season. These boys have in mind the trophies that Gesu teams in the past have won and their chief ambition is to bring back to the Gesu again, "Basketball Greatness."

This new era of Gesu basketball sees the passing of Coach Jack Loughrey who for the past seven years has turned out great teams. Jack this year, due to other commitments, found himself unable to devote his time to coaching and has turned the reins over to Bill Campbell, former star at Brown Prep and Archmere Academy. Bill has seven holdovers from last year's team and several promising newcomers. All we can say is, that we wish him luck with the team and may he and the boys enjoy a successful season.

The Gesu Young Men's Sodality has not as yet entered the Catholic Bowling League but plans are getting underway to whip a team into shape and before long we hope to be reading about a championship team.

Rev. Andrew Hofmann, S.J., moderator of the Parochial School, is planning a big year for the Girls' basketball team and is calling for candidates among the Alumnae.

All in all the Gesu sport teams are all looking for successful seasons. They ask that the members of the Parish assist them by attending their games. A complete schedule will appear in a future issue of the Calendar.

THE FEAST OF THE IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

We are at the beginning of the Ecclesiastical Year. It seems fitting that Holy Church should put before us at this particular time our Blessed Mother in her beautiful prerogative of the Immaculate Conception. Briefly the meaning of the feast is this: Mary from the very first moment of her existence was without sin. Thus as our Immaculate Mother, our sinless Queen, Virgin of Virgins, she stands before us in her exalted virtue.

In the Epistle which is read at the Mass of today's feast we see Mary in the thoughts of the Blessed Trinity from all eternity. "The Lord possessed me in the beginning of His ways . . . I was set up from eternity . . . The depths were not yet and I was already conceived" . . . In the plan of redemption Mary was from all eternity in the mind of God as the Immaculate Mother of His Son, as the perfect mirror of the beauty and holiness of God, and as the glory of His people and the joy of the heavenly Jerusalem.

These eternal thoughts of the Blessed Trinity were realized in time first by the conception of Mary in her mother's womb free from the stain of original sin from the very beginning of her existence, secondly by the most holy childhood and girlhood of Mary, crowned by the stupendous miracle of the divine maternity. This is the meaning of the Gospel of the Feast: "The Angel Gabriel was sent from God into a city of Galilee, called Nazareth, to a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph of the house of David; and the virgin's name was Mary. And the Angel being come in said unto her: Hail full of grace, the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou among women."

God prepared a temple for His Son, more beautiful than the temple of Solomon. It is well for us to dwell on the sinlessness and the purity of this temple to the Most High. Such devout consideration will inspire us with a desire to imitate her in these virtues.

Mary's innocence and virginity stood out in bold contrast with the sins of the world in her day. Thus also in our own United States Mary's sinlessness stands out clearly above the immodesty and impurity of so many of our young men and women. Mary as the Immaculate Queen is the special patron of these United States. Surely she will be pleased by our loving homage of this her great feast. She will be more pleased by our endeavors to make our lives like her own.

THE WORLD NEEDS CHRIST

"Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace to men of good will."—Luke I, 14.

The good tidings of great joy announced to the lowly country shepherds in that first holy and silent Christmas night are proclaimed once more to all the Christian world on this holy and silent Christmas night. Time seems to stand still in the ocean of eternity as we hear the refrain of the heavenly host of angels, singing: "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to men of good will."

That heart is spiritually dead, indeed, that is not stirred by this refrain with each recurring Christmas. We date the very years in history according as they fall before or after Christ. Christmas solemnly recalls the central event in the history of the world, the birth of Christ.

Can we imagine a picture of history more vivid than that of Christmas night? We see so clearly the crib, the stable with its meek and dumb inmates, the lowly shepherds, the angels singing, the Wise Men from the East, the Star of Bethlehem showing them the way, and the cruel flight into Egypt to escape the sword of Herod. The whole wonderful story Christmas! with its crib of Bethlehem telling the wondrous story of the Saviour's birth in a way no words can tell to the child. Christmas! Blessed season that calls forth everywhere all that is best and sweetest and tenderest in human nature; the one day in all the year that brings us nearer to heaven; the one day when the old forget the weight of years and are young again, sharing with little children in the peace and joy and gladness of the happy day. Christmas! with its early Mass and the sweet anthem of the Angels bidding us go in spirit to Bethlehem and adore our new-born Savior.

Christmas! Loveliest of feasts! Let us join Mary and Joseph and the shepherds kneeling before the crib, and there learn life's most salutary and enduring lessons; that the man who loses his life for Love shall save it, after the example of Him Whose Love was greater than any man's; Who came on earth for us, and died to save us, "For God so loved the world as to give us His only begotten Son."

WHAT SHOULD I GIVE TO THE CHURCH?

What has Christ given you? He is God. "By Him all things were made." Through Him you have received all that you have and enjoy. He has given you His Church, His Sacraments, His Mass, His life, Himself in the Holy Eucharist. Through His Church, He has given you the best and the most that He could. In return He asks you, not for the least you can give, but for the best and the most.

He pleads for your help that more may be done, that He may gather you around Himself, in a beautiful house of worship, and your children in a school after His own Heart, where they will be educated for Christian, happy lives. Here is the greatest desire and joy of His Heart and yours. "Thank God", you exclaim, "I can give, and I will give, the best and the most possible."

His priests are officers in His Church, obeying His commands, doing His work. For your welfare and happiness they have given their lives. They have sacrificed worldly activity, luxury and pleasure, which would be sweet to human nature but which would make their labor for you less effective. They cannot do their work alone. The cause of Christ needs your help, your money, your prayer. Will you give these in the least measure possible, the leavings, the crumbs from the table? or will you give the best and the most that you can?

CHRIST WILL DEMAND AN ANSWER FROM YOU.
